Russ Propose Banning Of Nuclear Tests

Western Powers Skeptical Of Uncontrolled Planning

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today that the United States, Britain and France agree with it now to ban all nuclear tests. First Western reaction was skeptical since the Soviet proposal seemed to call for an uncontrolled moratorium.

The proposal was made on the eve of the resumption of nuclear test ban talks in Geneva by the Soviet Union, Britain and the United States. France, the fourth nuclear power, is not a participant but a Soviet statement said the time has come to invite the French.

The Soviet Union released a proposed four-article draft agreement and in accompanying statement hinted they may resume tests if France does.

CHEATING

Under the Soviet proposal the four powers would agree to halt tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space. The argument was that each power now has the means of detecting such tests and cheating would be impossible.

The four powers also would undertake not to hold nuclear weapons tests underground while negotiating an agreement on a control system that could detect such blasts.

The proposal was delivered to the press but the embassies immediately involved — the British, American and French —were not called in. Neutral nations, however, were invited to send representatives to the Foreign Office.

REACTION

The first Western reaction in Moscow was that it was aimed to end atmospheric tests now that the Soviets had completed theirs and would tie up underground tests for an indefinite period until an agreement could be reached on means of detecting them.

That amounted to giving the Soviet Union a virtual veto over the kind of tests the United States is now carrying out. The United States says it will continue underground tests regardless of the resumption of negotiations at Geneva.

The United States and Britain declared in advance of the resumption of talks at Geneva that they will not again agree to a moratorium on tests until a treaty is signed.

The Geneva treaty talks collapsed in September when the Soviet Union abruptly ended a voluntary moratorium by launching a series of atmospheric tests.

In Geneva, informed sources said the proposal is unacceptable to the West.

Western sources at the conference said the Soviet plan appeared to be an unlimited and uncontrolled moratorium on testing such as the United States and Britain have repeatedly rejected.

Outer Space Peace Plan Is Given U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today laid before the U.N. Outer Space Committee a stop-gap program "to preserve peace in outer space— and extend to all nations the benefits of exploring it.'

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost addressed the 24-nation body as it met for the first time with all its members present. The seven Soviet bloc countries ended their boycott despite their contention that the committee should give equal representation to Western, Communist and nonaligned countries.

The Soviet delegate, Valerian A. Zorin, in a brief speech, insisted that the committee must be reorganized to give "just representation" to all three groups of countries.

Yost listed four main steps which should be taken quickly:

1. Recognize that outer space and the celestial bodies are open to exploration by all and are not subject to seizure or claim by any country.
2. Agree to register all launchings of outer space vehicles.
3. Cooperate in use of whether satellites in an effort to improve forecasting services.
4. Cooperate in the use of communications satellites to improve global communications.

Zorin devoted most of his remarks to the composition and procedures of the outer space committee. He said the Soviet government favors broad cooperation in outer space exploration, but declared the committee must be reorganized to prevent its use to "promote the narrow interests of states."

One of two men suspected of lifting $3,500 worth of wedding and engagement rings from a San Rafael jewelry store in a theft that went undetected for four days, was arrested in San Francisco on Saturday as he was "fencing" six of the rings valued at almost $2,000.

A second man and the remainder of the rings were still sought today.

Held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $3,150 bail on a charge of grand theft was John Arthur Mitchell, 21, of San Francisco.

San Rafael Police Officer Thomas C. Cheetham said Mitchell confessed taking the rings from a showcase at Michael A. Gorb Credit Jewelers at 1115 Fourth Street while his accomplice occupied the attention of clerks.

Gorb, proprietor of the store, who lives at 335 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, told police that attendants at the store did not know the rings had been stolen until Saturday. "We knew they were not in the showcase, but everyone assumed they had merely been moved to another case," he said.

Cheetham, arrested Mitchell in a San Francisco parking lot after he had completed an appointment with an appraiser. He said San Francisco police learned of the theft through an informant who told them Mitchell was trying to "peddle hot jewelry." Cheetham, armed with a description of Mitchell and his car, "staked out" the lot and arrested Mitchell as he entered the car.

Mitchell had been getting an appraisal on three sets of rings, valued at $1,900. He has refused to name his accomplice, Cheetham said.

Mrs. Gorb said her husband had waited on one of the men but that no one could recall who had waited on the other. The tray containing the rings was lifted from the showcase without Gorb or any of the other clerks being aware of the theft.

Mitchell was to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon. He was being questioned further today in an attempt to learn the identity of his accomplice, police said.

Tough Penalties Are Urged For Forest Fire Starters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) today demanded tough penalties for those who start forest fires.

"The problem is just as severe as the narcotics problem," he told the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

He said arsonists do not get the same publicity as narcotics offenders in newspapers and on television because forest fires are a rural and not a metropolitan concern.

The committee was told that, with the exception of arson, most forest fire offenses are misdemeanors.

Earlier, California's conservation director declared the carelessness of many wildland area residents was partially to blame for forest fires.

DeWitt Nelson told a State Senate committee that approximately 60 to 70 per cent of all forest fires were caused by negligence, carelessness or "wilful intent" and said:

"The disregard by some people for the rights and privileges of others is definitely apparent. This becomes evident in the fires that originate through carelessness, negligence, lack of due diligence or wilful disregard of the laws that exist for the protection of the public."

He listed several causes of the California fire problem, including:

The three-year drought, tremendous increases in the number of subdivisions being built in wildlands, and recreation facilities.

Two Die As Car Whips Into Tree

Fatalities For Year Reach 16

Two Marin youths—a 20-year-old father and a San Rafael High School senior—died yesterday of injuries suffered when their car skidded and rammed a tree on B Street in San Rafael Saturday night.

The victims, both passengers in the car, were Larry Raymond Blankenship, 18, of 35 Bayview Street, San Rafael, and Thomas Duane Watson, 20, of Marin Town and Country Club, Fairfax.

FAIR CONDITION

The driver, Ronald Joseph Sauer, 19, of 103 LaBrea Street, San Rafael, was reported in fair condition at San Rafael General Hospital today, undergoing treatment for internal injuries.

The deaths were the 15th and 16th in Marin County traffic this year, and the second and third in San Rafael traffic. Last year by this date, traffic accidents had claimed 24 lives in Marin, four of them in San Rafael.

(Nationwide, 443 persons died of traffic injuries during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday, according to a United Press International compilation today. California had the highest total of any state—60 deaths.)

ATTEMPTS PASS

The San Rafael accident happened shortly after 10:30 p.m. Saturday. San Rafael police reported that a witness said Sauer was driving a 1955 convertible between 40 and 50 miles per hour southbound on B Street. He attempted to pass a car driven by Larry Francis Kenyon, 18, of 1212 Second Street, San Rafael.

Sauer's car skidded on wet pavement and struck the tree at the southeast corner of B and Bayview Streets. Sauer told officer Eugene Frederick he remembered braking after he skidded.

The car bounced back, spinning end-for-end, hitting the fender of Kenyon's car.

Kenyon, who was alone, was uninjured. The left front fender of his car was smashed. Sauer's car was totally wrecked.

Blankenship, according to witnesses, was in the back seat, the other two in the front.

Blankenship died at 5:10 a.m. and Watson at 11:45 a.m., yesterday, both of head injuries.

Watson, married and father of an eight-month-old child, had but recently begun a job as apprentice roofer with Marin County Roofing Co., after a period out of work. He and his wife, Jean, and their

The former Marin Superior Court judge has undergone a series of seizures since noon yesterday and was described in "poor" condition by hospital attendants today.

'LEAFLET RAID'

Plane Hijacked In Venezuela

CURACAO, Netherlands Antilles (UPI) — Five Pro-Castro Venezuelan students today hijacked an airliner with 46 persons aboard for a "leaflet raid" on Caracas and forced the pilot at gunpoint to fly the plane here.

At least four Americans were among the 43 passengers aboard the four-engined DC-6, which was hijacked while on a domestic Venezuelan flight between Caracas and Maracaiba.

The Americans were identified as Frederick Malcott, Erale Elrick, George Hatley and Walter Lambert.

They were presumed to be oil men en route from the Venezuelan capital to the oil fields at Maracaibo.

Dutch police armed with tommyguns surrounded the big plane as it rolled to a stop. The hijackers were disarmed and taken to the airport office for questioning.

Passengers were permitted to disembark pending the police investigation but newsmen were denied access to them.

It was understood the Caracas government had asked immediate return of the plane and notified Curacao authorities it would seek to extradite the hijackers.

Pilot-Capt. Juan Nolck told airport authorities he had barely taken off from Maiquetia, Caracas airport, when the men burst into the forward cabin and ordered him to make a leisurely circle of the capital.

He said they dropped leaflets calling for demonstrations against the government tomorrow, the first anniversary of partial martial law imposed on Venezuela after leftist-inspired disorders. Then they ordered him to proceed to Curacao and ask permission for an emergency landing.

FOR SAN RAFAEL

Marin Businessmen Propose New Bank

A group of Marin businessmen, including three who were associated with the former First National Bank in San Rafael, have filed application with the California State Banking Department for permission to establish a new downtown San Rafael bank.

Name proposed for the bank, which would have initial capital of one million dollars, is Bank of Marin County.

Applicants are W. P. Murray Jr., D. F. Murray, A. J. Bianchi, Forrest E. Brown, Lawrence P. McNear Sr. and Graham McPhail.

The two Murrays were officers of the First National and were named vice presidents of Crocker-Anglo National Bank when it purchased the stock of First National and Bank of San Rafael last spring. W. P. Murray Jr. has been at Crocker-Anglo's Petaluma office, and D. F. Murray at the San Anselmo office. Both have resigned from Crocker-Anglo to launch the new banking venture.

Bianchi, Point Reyes dairyman, was a director of First National and the Bank of San Rafael. Brown is an executive of Brown-Ely Co.; McNear, of McNear Brick Co., and McPhail, of McPhail Fuel Co.

The application is the second announced within a few days for a new locally owned bank in Marin. Another group of local men, headed by attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, has applied for permission to establish a bank in the vicinity of the county civic center, to be capitalized at four million dollars.

$2-Million Missile 'Saves' Self

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—A two-million-dollar Titan missile saved itself from possible destruction today when it automatically shut down one second before an attempted launch.

The 98-foot missile was loaded with fuel and ready to go when an electronic computer detected some problem which could have caused an abortive launch.

The Air Force said only that the attempted launching was canceled due to technical reasons. It was not immediately rescheduled.

This was the second attempted launch that had to be postponed. That time, however, it was weather—winds and heavy rain—that forced postponement.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Spain Flood Ebbs

SEVILLA, Spain (AP) — Flood waters receded today from a large section of this historic city, leaving officials with a vast task of relief for thousands of homeless.

The Tamarguillo River, which heavy rains sent into low-lying sections over the weekend, had dropped 6 feet and smaller streams were also falling.

Paris-London Talks

LONDON (AP)—The weekend talks between President Charles de Gaulle and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan apparently eased — but did not eliminate—the French leader's opposition to Western negotiations on Berlin with the Soviet Union.

No communique was issued, but this was the impression that filtered from the prime minister's closely guarded country estate where the two leaders met. De Gaulle as usual had nothing to say to newsmen when he returned to Paris.

No Deals

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen says he made no secret deals with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to secure suspension of his demand for Soviet-Finnish defense talks.

"There are no secret conditions of any kind and no secret agreements between Finland and the Soviet Union," Kekkonen assured the anxious Finnish people yesterday on his return from his weekend meeting with Khrushchev.

Talks Canceled

BONN (UPI)—Influenza forced 85-year-old West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to cancel his scheduled trip to Paris Thursday for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Trial To Resume

JERUSALEM (AP) — The trial of Adolf Eichmann will resume Dec. 11, the Israeli government announced today.

The former Nazi official is accused of major responsibility in the death of millions of Jews in Hitler's extermination camps.

The final phase in the lengthy trial will include the reading of the 300-page judgment which the three judges have drawn up.

Congo Skirmishes

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—National Congolese troops and Katanga forces skirmished over the weekend near Kapanga on the south Kasai border, the Elisabethville radio said today.

Reliable military sources here said only a few troops were involved in the clash when Congo soldiers raided across the border for food and other supplies.

President Moise Tshombe told a cheering crowd of 5,000 Africans and a handful of whites yesterday that Katanga must gird for war. He threatened a scorched-earth program to destroy Katanga's rich copper and cobalt mines if any attempt is made by the United Nations or central Congo government to end the province's self-proclaimed independence.

16 Die In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Lynching, shooting and grenade-throwing by anti-De Gaulle Europeans and Algerians in revenge clashes killed 16 persons and injured 87 in one of the bloodier weekends of the seven-year Algerian war.

French troops and police were caught in the middle as terrorism swept Algiers and the big western port city of Oran.

Waving clubs, a screaming mob of Europeans broke into a jail in Algiers, lynched one Algerian woman and savagely beat another before police reinforcements drove them off. The women had been arrested after a grenade wounded three Europeans in a sidewalk cafe.

Tough Talk

BERLIN (UPI) — Tough talk by East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht has dampened hopes that the Soviet Union might be willing to negotiate a reasonable settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland yesterday published a speech in which Ulbricht told his party central committee the Allies do not have "rights" of access to West Berlin across East German territory.

Earhart Study

BERKELEY (UPI)—A University of California anthropologist today began an extensive study of 37 teeth and a number of bone fragments — possible clues to the 24-year-old mystery concerning the disappearance of Amelia Earhart.

Prof. Theodore McCown scheduled a news conference to explain how he will seek to determine through laboratory tests whether the remains, found in the Marianna Islands of the Pacific, are those of the famous aviatrix, and navigator Fred Noonan.

Caroline's second party was given here Saturday by her grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy.

SENATOR BRIDGES SUCCUMBS AT 63

President, Ike, Nixon Pay Tribute To Senior Republican Member

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A funeral service at the New Hampshire state house at noon Wednesday is planned for Sen. Styles Bridges, 63, senior Republican member of the Senate, who died yesterday.

Bridges' death was not likely to change the present partisan lineup in the Senate but a liberal-conservative struggle to choose a successor in the Senate Republican leadership appeared possible when Congress reconvenes in January.

President John F. Kennedy led the tributes to the senator, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee and second ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee.

Kennedy telephoned Bridges' widow to extend condolences and later issued a statement describing Bridges as "a great patriot who devoted his life to the continuing strength of our country."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., said that in close association with Bridges "I came to learn how deeply he was dedicated to the good of our nation."

Among other tributes, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said at Los Angeles that Bridges was "one of the most effective political leaders ever produced by the Republican party."

Many political observers in traditionally Republican New Hampshire believed Republican Gov. Wesley Powell, a graduate of Bridges' staff, would be appointed to succeed him, although some other reports mentioned Bridges' widow.

The appointee will hold the seat only until the 1962 election, when the voters will choose a senator to complete the balance of Bridges' term, which expired in 1966.

Powell can not appoint himself. He would have to resign as governor and be appointed by his successor, the president of the state Senate, Samuel Green, a Manchester Republican.

A private funeral service for the immediate family only will be held tommorrow.

Bridges' office said the senator "died peacefully in his sleep at 5 a.m. in his Concord, N.H., home by complication arising from a severe coronary attack suffered Sept. 20."

He was the second leader of Congress to die in 10 days. House Speaker Sam Rayburn died Nov. 16.

Bridges was born and reared on a small farm in West Pembroke, Me. When he was 9, his father died, and Bridges plowed land and milked cows to help his mother and two younger children. He worked his way through the University of Maine, earning 15 cents an hour in dairy barns.

In the Senate, Bridges generally was regarded as an articulate spokesman for the conservative point of view, though he regarded himself as a "middle-of-the-roader."

STYLES BRIDGES
Suffers seizure

Saltonstall Appears In Line For Post

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leverett Saltonstall, a quiet, 69-year-old senator from Boston, today appeared the most likely successor to Styles Bridges as Senate GOP policy chairman.

The former Massachusetts governor, now ending his 16th year in the Senate, is chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, more a post of honor than of action or power.

But speculation after Bridges' death in Concord, N. H., yesterday pointed automatically to Saltonstall as his successor.

Friends of Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., said they were certain Dirksen would not want the less strenuous, but still politically potent, job of policy chairman.

Dirksen—and most of the other ranking Republicans—is up for re-election next year. He has won esteem for his performance as minority leader.

Adding to his advantages in consideration for the policy post, Saltonstall was re-elected for a full six year term last fall.

There was the possibility that liberal Republicans—or another conservative group—might try to put one of their members in the policy spot. But it was felt that the job was Saltonstall's for the asking.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R.-Ariz.) holds the job of Senate GOP campaign chairman. This puts Goldwater, the party's most vocal conservative and possible presidential candidate, in a position to be seen and heard around the country more than he would as policy chairman.

Hope Fades For Finding Rockefeller

MERAUKE, Dutch New Guinea (AP)—Hope for Michael Rockefeller faded again today as wisps of smoke wafting up from the steamy Asmat jungle off which he disappeared eight days ago were identified as burning brush.

The smoke was spotted yesterday by an Australian Air Force plane, raising hopes at the search headquarters. Dutch officials said an investigation proved to be "a wild goose chase."

Helicopters criss-crossing the jungle wilderness of southwest New Guinea were scheduled to end their search tomorrow night. Michael's father, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and his sister, Mary Strawbridge, were expected to leave for the United States soon after.

Ground parties will continue to comb the crocodile-infested jungle coast for at least two more weeks.

"We still have one hope," a Dutch district official said. "It's possible Michael might be sick or injured and given aid and shelter by the natives.

"In this eventuality it's also possible that the natives would not tell authorities about his whereabouts until after he recuperated. They might be afraid they would be blamed for his illness."

'Fair' Condition

Arnoldean Ash, 32-year-old Cotati father of four who underwent surgery at Marin General Hospital Saturday after being injured when his truck overturned on him, was in "fair" condition at the hospital today.

STORY DISBELIEVED

Friend Says Harvey Panicked On Ketch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A friend said yesterday that Julian Harvey told him in confidence that he panicked and jumped off the ketch Bluebelle after, according to Harvey, a mast snapped and swept two passengers overboard.

James C. Boozer, 44, said Harvey made the statement stuttering under emotional stress after returning to Miami from his rescue by a tanker. It varies from Harvey's statement to the Coast Guard, and also from the account given by Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, now the Bluebelle's only survivor.

The two struck by the mast, Harvey told Boozer, were Harvey's wife, Mary, 34, and Dr. Arthur Duperrault, 49, Green Bay, Wis., optometrist who chartered the Fort Lauderdale vessel for his family's Bahamas cruise.

Boozer quoted Harvey as telling him, "I lost my nerve when I saw the blood and guts on the deck, and I jumped overboard." This was Nov. 12.

Two days after talking to Poozer, Harvey committed suicide by slashing his wrists.

Dr. Harry Jordan, Milwaukee chiropractor who is here looking into the death of his sister—Harvey's wife—said he knew about this second story "but I don't believe it."

Boozer said that after consulting his pastor, he told the Coast Guard of Harvey's statement.

In the Coast Guard inquiry Harvey said a mast snapped in a squall and punched holes in deck and hull. Then, he said, a fire broke out. He said all the Dupperaults and his wife jumped overboard to get away from the fire, and he cut a life boat adrift and escaped in that.

He had the body of Renee Duperrault, 8, in the boat with him when a rescue ship came upon it.

Terry Joe, whose discovery alive was made public less than 24 hours before Harvey killed himself, said the masts "leaned" but did not fall; the sails were flapping; she saw no fire and smelled no smoke. She said she saw her mother, Jean, 38, and a brother, Brian, 14, lying motionless on a bloody deck. The girl said Harvey slapped her in ordering her below deck, approached her with what looked like a rifle and finally left her alone on the sinking Bluebelle while he made his escape.

Warehouse Windows Reported Broken

More than 20 windows have been broken in a warehouse at 17 Lisbon Street, San Rafael.

Rollo Coffland, owner of the warehouse, said the damage to the 12-by-16-inch panes appeared to be the work of juveniles. The inside of the warehouse was littered with rocks, he said.

Niagara Cave, near Cresco, Iowa, features a 60-foot waterfall 200 feet underground.

President Praised, Told Off In Postcard Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The people are telling President John F. Kennedy what's on their minds — and also telling him off a bit—in stacks of oversize blue postcards piling up at the White House.

They praise him warmly or criticize him on his administration harshly. They talk about socialism, communism, nuclear tests, a balanced budget, fallout shelters, Caroline, racial and religious intolerance.

They mention aid to education, housing, preservation of wilderness areas.

The people writing the President want such things as a job, a loan, or free transportation for old folks.

More than anything else, they are strongly for or strongly against medical care for the aged financed through the Social Security System.

These blue cards are special ones, already addressed to Kennedy at the White House, carrying the salutation "Dear Mr. President."

They were on hand for anyone who wanted to pick them up at the series of regional conferences just staged in 12 cities under government auspices. Cabinet members and squads of other top-rank administration officials made the circuit, delivering speeches, taking part in panels, answering questions.

The objective, the administration said, was to tell the people about the record of Congress and the administration and to obtain their views.

Since Kennedy didn't get to any of the meetings, cards were made available to send views direct to him.

Some of the cards are neatly typed. Some are in shaky handwriting. One is in the carefully printed words of a child, another in Italian, another in rhyme.

A survey of the first 200 cards contained contributions from eight cities: Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Denver, Detroit, Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia. No cards were made available at Madison, Wis., the White House said, and the first batch included none from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle, where the last of the conferences took place.

The one topic that stands out in the first communications is medical care for the aged. On a numerical count, the number of cards expressing opinions on this issue runs about 5 to 4 against such care under the Social Security financing plan the administration recommends.

Tax Collections Running Better

Marin County tax collections this year are running a little better than last year, but a last-minute rush is still expected by the Dec. 11 deadline for first installment payment, County Tax Collector M. F. Donohue reported today.

Collections thus far total $4,149,345 as compared with $3,877,000 which had been paid up as of this time last year.

The total tax bill for this year is $21,811,000, of which about 12 million dollars is expected to come in on the first installment. This means about eight million dollars is expected to pour in during the next two weeks, Donohue said. A penalty will be imposed on first installment payments made after Dec. 11.

Marin Phone Workers Will Not Walk Out

Marin telephone workers will not walk out in sympathy with the East Bay dispute which has put pickets in front of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. offices in nine Bay Area cities.

By a show of hands, Marin local 9404 of the Communication Workers of America voted yesterday afternoon overwhelmingly in favor of staying on the job.

The local's traffic vice president, Dorothy Foley of Mill Valley, said after the short meeting that "the membership agreed wholeheartedly to uphold the Communication Workers of America."

She added: "It is not an authorized strike. CWA is not behind it. At this time our local feels we should stay on the job pending future developments."

Mrs. Foley said the majority of the 360 members showed up for the meeting at the Labor Hall on Tamalpais Avenue in San Rafael. Pros and cons were presented and a vote taken. She said she preferred not to say what the actual wote was.

A telephone company spokesman said the dispute grew from suspension of two Oakland telephone operators: one for denying service to a customer who, she said, used abusive language, and the other for being tardy 46 times in 22 months.

"Grassroots Americanism"—An Answer to Our Country's Needs" will be the subject of a talk by Charles Michals of Kentfield Monday at the meeting of San Anselmo American Legion Post 179 starting at 8:15 p.m. in the Legion Log Cabin.

Boy Scouts Building Plan Speaker Slated

The meeting will be held in Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, said Norman B. Livermore Jr., chairman.

Hamilton will discuss ideals and objectives of scouting with special reference to Marin plans for developing camps Tamarancho near Fairfax and Marin-Sierra north of Emigrant Gap as completely operational camps in the full Boy Scout program.

Water systems and functional buildings for these camps will be the objectives of the forthcoming Boy Scout building fund appeal.

Violinist Abel, Marin Symphony Demonstrate Expressive Power

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Maestro Sandor Salgo, the Marin Symphony Orchestra and guest violinist David Abel opend the 10th annual season of Symphony Guild of Marin-sponsored concerts Friday night with a performance memorable for its wide range of expressive power.

Again Marin music lovers indicated the extent to which the orchestra has gained their support by filling nearly all seats at the Marin Catholic High School Auditorium. That they were not disappointed was shown in the warmth of their response to both guest artist Abel and the orchestra.

The orchestra demonstrated mastery of an expressive power that ranged from the sensitive obbligato for parts of Abel's solo work in the Beethoven Concerto in D Major for Violin, Opus 61, and subtlety and gossamer delicacy of some of Ravel's "Mother Goose Suite," to the acme of sonorous brilliance in the finale of "A Lincoln Portrait" by Copland.

In Abel's playing were heard tonal purity and sweetness—even in the highest register—depth of feeling and technical control and dexterity comparable to the best to be heard today among violin virtuosi.

However, except to insatiable Beethoven and violin devotees, the work, according to some comments overheard, seemed too long. The unusual applause at the end of the first movement may have been partly a release of physical tension as well as spontaneous ovation.

Fortunately intermission and the brief impressionistic gems of the "Mother Goose Suite" followed. These offered partial solo opportunities for some fine work by such individual instruments as the clarinet, double bassoon, flute and oboe, and especially the violin in concert master Charles Meacham's passages in "The Conversations of Beauty and the Beast" and "The Fairy Garden."

The contemporary, strongly rhythmic "A Lincoln Portrait" was a moving experience enhanced by Dr. Robert Loper's reading of Lincoln's words in the sincere, untheatrical style approved by the composer. No small achievement was the clarity of his diction against the complementary playing of the orchestra.

A delightfully spirited reading of the melodious overture from Glinka's opera "Ruslan and Ludmilla" was the attention-stimulating opening of the program.

EXHAUSTING CHORE

Stinky Way To Get Rid Of Skunks

By RALPH CHATOIAN
Cartoon by Jack Lucey

There have been many ways to get rid of those little black animals with white stripes down their back, but most ways are rather stinky. A Corte Madera man has found a way that is completely non-odorous.

You simply trap the skunk in a box, connect a hose from the exhaust pipe of a car to a hole in the box, turn on the engine, and wait.

That's what Frederick E. Goodwin of 142 Grenada Drive, Corte Madera, a geography teacher at Santa Venetia Junior High School, did. And he has a six-for-six record, which smells darn good.

Before he tried this method, he had called the Marin Humane Society when he wanted to rid his back yard of a skunk which had become an uninvited guest. The men came out and quickly ended the skunk's life with a shotgun blast. But Goodwin's back yard smelled pretty bad for some time, he said.

Goodwin concluded that any violent death to a skunk would result in that last-minute spray of skunknel number five perfume. He thought of trapping the unwanted skunks in a box, but pondered on what to do with the thing once it is caught.

He asked a druggist if poison was the answer and got a suggestion of gassing. He then built a plywood box about two feet long and one foot high and wide. In one end he placed a sliding door which would fall shut when the rear bottom of the box was stepped on.

For bait he used dog food placed in the rear of the box. In this end is a small glass window through which viewers may see that it is truly a skunk trapped and not a small dog or feline.

A little plug is stuck in a hole on top of the box. When it is time to get rid of the skunk, the hose is inserted in the opening and the skunk is quietly put to sleep.

"I found that the skunk will not spray as long as it is trapped in the box," Goodwin said.

He declared that neighborhood children "even pounded on the box when a skunk was inside," insuring the fact that the skunk would not spray when trapped.

When the skunks' last breath was out, Goodwin removed it, odor free. All but two of the six were buried. One he skinned as a souvenir and the other he took to his junior high school, where it will be stuffed.

Goodwin lives in his Marin Estates home with his wife, Jean, and son, Danny, 3. Before the subdivision was built, the area was called Skunk Hollow because of the large number of skunks—which the residents found out this past summer.

But Goodwin hasn't seen a skunk for more than a month. Looks like he won the battle.

Mill Valleyan To Preach In Japanese At Church

Born a Buddhist, Harou Furukawa of Mill Valley will begin preaching in Japanese next month at his Baptist Mission in San Francisco's Richmond District.

Furukawa, a third year divinity student at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point, was nicknamed Harry by one of his professors. He is 26, a native of Fukuoka on the Japanese island of Kyushu.

Furukawa received his bachelor's degree in English literature from the Baptist University, Seinan Gakuin, at Fukuoka. In 1957 he came to Los Angeles where he lived with relatives and studied political science at El Camino College. He came to Mill Valley in 1959 where he lives on campus in Truett Hall.

His parents, three brothers and two sisters are in Japan where his father makes and sells stationery. All of his family are Buddhists except one brother who is a Methodist. Furukawa became a Christian when a senior while attending Baptist high school.

On graduation in June with a bachelor's degree in divinity, he expects to devote his time to working as a minister with Nisei, Americans of Japanese ancestry.

He said he pastors now at the San Francisco Mission which meets in a Baptist church and where he is employed by the Home Mission Board. He has worked as a gardener on campus and, in Los Angeles, in both a printing shop and a nursery.

Furukawa plans to seek American citizenship. "I feel I would have to be a part of the people I serve who are Americans," he said. "Too, a minister, I must have citizenship to stay in the U. S."

Furukawa's hobbies include photography, stamp collecting and French fencing, the latter which he practices in his dormitory before a mirror. As a new activity, he is taking up guitar playing, learning to play hymns.

Commenting on cultural differences between Japan and the U. S., Furukawa says "People in the U. S. are very frank. They show their feelings frankly. Japanese do not show their feelings much."

And, he said, students have a different way of enjoying fellowship here than in Japan. "Here when boys get together and some girl comes, then the boys leave me and go out with the girl. In Japan boys or girls get together. When boys get together, we do not want to be bothered by girls. Usually we like to discuss serious things always. Students are less serious here than in Japan."

He also said that America's attitude toward religion is less serious than in Japan. "In the U. S.," he said, "most of the people are quite religious but the attitude toward religion is less serious to me."

MARIN YOUTH COAST'S TOP TRAIL RIDER

Stephen Garretson, 12, of 225 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, is the new Pacific Coast champ of junior trail horse riders.

Garretson, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Kirk D. Garretson, won the trail horse championship stake on his mare "Cannonball" Nov. 19 at the Santa Barbara National Junior Horse Show, it was learned today.

Garretson and his horse outdid 23 top junior contenders; one of the competing horses was last year's national trail champion.

Missing Needles Believed Found By A.F.'s Radar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some 350 million tiny copper needles missing in space for a month may have been found, more or less.

But the Air Force said today it doesn't know what the controversial needles are doing or where they are going.

An announcement said that four radar glimpses have been recorded of what may be the tiny needles supposedly hurled into orbit last Oct. 21 in an experiment to test the possibility of a jam-proof communications system.

The Air Force said that "the target is so small and so far away that the radar returns are extremely weak and the information that can be derived from them is very limited."

What is a

PLIOHIPPUS?

A pliohippus is an extinct mammal, the ancestor of the modern horse.

The science of paleontology, the study of ancient life on the globe, is constantly revealing facts pertinent to a better understanding of life on the earth today. Yet many potential scientists may never pursue this subject because they may never go to college. Already many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Now Jimmy knows why it's our family bank!

"It was a banner day when our son opened a savings account with money he had earned. And our Wells Fargo American Trust manager made it a really big occasion. He presented Jimmy with a passbook and welcomed him as a customer. We could see our boy felt he had a new friend as well as a new account.

"Every child should learn the value of money, and we know our friends at the bank will help Jimmy just as they've always helped us. That's why our savings and checking accounts, our safe deposit box, our home loan are all at Wells Fargo American Trust—our 'family' bank."

Marinites Will Face State Parole Hearings

A former San Rafael cook imprisoned at San Quentin for second-degree murder and a one-time bellhop who used to live in Terra Linda and is serving time for sex perversion will face the California Adult Authority next February for consideration of fixing parole dates.

The murderer is Joseph Vaitonis, 42, convicted in 1954 of slaying his estranged wife's father, Martin Pavels, 65, and assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Greta Pavels, 42, with intent to kill in San Rafael. The other is Arthur Atwood, 35, convicted in 1960 of perverted acts with boys 8 and 11 in 1957 and 1959 at his home.

Vaitonis, serving sentences of five years to life for murder and six months to 14 years for attempted murder, has been repeatedly turned down for parole. The shootings occurred at an apartment where his estranged wife Irma and her parents lived at 1130 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Atwood worked as a bellhop in a San Francisco hotel until his arrest in October, 1959. The boys testified he held a knife in his hand and molested them. Parents of a six-year-old girl and a five-year-old boy also complained to the district attorney that Atwood molested their children, though these children did not testify. He was convicted March 17, 1960.

Administration Shakeup Removes Bowles From Job

CHESTER BOWLES
Moving up?

State Department Changes Concern 10 Positions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future of Chester Bowles as a top official of the administration was clouded by doubt and uncertainty today after his removal by President John F. Kennedy as undersecretary of state.

Hours after the announcement of a 10-man White House-State Department shakeup in the foreign policy high command, presidential associates and Bowles himself were silent on what job he would take over. The announcement said merely that he would move into a high policy-making position.

In its over-all effect, the reorganization was a tidying up operation, in most cases fitting men into positions involving the kind of work they were already doing.

One major result probably will be to strengthen foreign policy control in the hands of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and to lessen somewhat the amount of intervention in State Department operations by members of the White House staff. Officials considered it significant that two moves involved the transfer of Walt W. Rostow and Richard N. Goodwin from White House posts into jobs involving operational responsibilities in the State Department.

There were reports that Walter P. McConaughy, outgoing assistant secretary of state, would become ambassador to the Philippines.

No one is being dropped.

Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and ambassador to India and a Kennedy adviser during last year's presidential race, has been a controversial figure in the administration since its first weeks in office. The president and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were reported to consider him misplaced in the department's No. 2 position as undersecretary.

The shakeup announcement, made last night from the Kennedy headquarters at Hyannis Port, Mass., said that Bowles is to get a high policy-making position on relinquishing his present duties. There was no immediate statement from Bowles.

Officials here understood that he was being offered a combination assignment of roving ambassador and special foreign adviser to Kennedy and Rusk. As undersecretary he has spent considerable time traveling abroad and has been interested, within the State Department, chiefly in promoting policies of assistance to underdeveloped nations in Africa and Asia.

Administration leaders considered him misplaced as undersecretary, officials said, because he was more concerned with the broad lines of policy development in functioning as an idea man than in the day-to-day conduct of foreign relations traditionally handled by the undersecretary. Bowles is 60.

Other changes in the shakeup, which become effective immediately, are these:

1. George W. Ball, 51, undersecretary of state for economic affaris, to be undersecretary of state. He will continue to concentrate on economic affairs. A Washington lawyer, he is reported to have worked very closely with Rusk in recent months, exercising some of the duties which would normally have gone to Bowles.

2. George C. McGhee, counselor and chairman of policy planning in the State Department, to be undersecretary for political affairs. McGhee thus moves up to become the No. 3 man. He is a close associate of Rusk and known in the State Department as a vigorous administrator. McGhee, '49, is a former ambassador to Turkey.

3. W. Averill Harriman, 70, former governor of New York and member of the Truman administration in former years as well as ambassador to the Soviet Union and Great Britain, to be assistant secretary for the Far East. He is presently a roving ambassador and for several months has been U. S. negotiator at a Geneva conference on Laotian neutrality. The timing of his shift will be determined by his work at Geneva.

4. Walt W. Rostow, 55, former professor of economics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and now a deputy special assistant to Kennedy for national security affairs, to be State Department counselor and chairman of the policy planning council, succeeding McGhee. This move puts into the State Department a White House official who has had considerable interest in foreign policy development during the Kennedy administration.

5. Frederick G. Dutton, 38, Kennedy's assistant for Cabinet affairs, to be assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. Administration officials said this move is expected to strengthen administration efforts to win congressional support for foreign policy proposals at the next session.

6. Richard M. Goodwin, now deputy special counsel to Kennedy, to be deputy assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. Goodwin, 30, has been very active in inter-American affairs under the Kennedy administration. The transfer to the State Department gives him a position in line with the interest he has shown in this work.

7. Walter P. McConaughy, 58, presently assistant secretary for the Far East, is to be given an ambassadorial post when Harriman takes over his job. He is a former ambassador to Burma and Formosa.

8. Brooks Hays, former Democratic representative from Arkansas who is relinquishing the job of assistant secretary for congressional relations, goes to the White House as a special assistant to the president. Hays is 63.

9. Timothy J. Reardon Jr., 46, presently an administrative assistant to the president, becomes a special assistant to handle cabinet affairs as Dutton shifts to the State Department.

State Department officials said that Goodwin is scheduled to take a job presently held by Wymberley der Coerr, who is expected to be made an ambassador. The White House announcement did not cover this point.

Financial Firm Buys New Site

Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. has purchased an entire block in San Anselmo as the site for a new home office, according to Dr. Earle M. Young, president.

The property, on San Anselmo Avenue between Woodland and Ross Avenues, was acquired for $125,000 from Richard McLaren of San Anselmo and his sister, Mrs. James Thornton of Bayside Acres.

Robert Hageman of the firm of Hageman and Meyer is preparing design studies for a 15,000-square-foot building, said Young.

"With personnel now totaling 15, we have outgrown our present quarters at 380 San Anselmo Avenue," he said. "Not only do we need more space and adequate parking facilities for our customers, but we are also building for the future to participate in and help finance the expected expansion of the community."

Founded in 1950, Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. now has assets exceeding 17 million dollars.

The site for the new offices, known as the old McLaren livery stable property, has a frontage of 162 feet on San Anselmo Avenue, Young said it is hoped construction will be completed by next July.

Youths Visit Video Studio At Wrong Hour

The two Marin youths visiting Los Angeles wanted to see the inside of a television studio. Particularly, they wanted to see Desilu Studio, where "The Untouchables" is filmed.

The trouble was, it was 4 a.m. on Sunday and the studio, of course, was dark and locked. So Bruce Bostick, 17, son of Dr. Warren L. Bostick of 40 Twain Harte Lane, San Rafael, and Terry Hoffman, 18, son of O. D. Hoffman of 383 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, just crawled under the fence.

A watchman found them there. He called police who booked both youths on suspicion of burglary.

Dr. Bostick, who is president of the California Medical Assn., and his wife were in Denver. Los Angeles police notified Hoffman the boys were in custody but would be released to him.

He was to return them from Los Angeles today so they could resume their studies at San Rafael Military Academy, where both are seniors.

Zoning Requests Before Novato Planners Tonight

A request by Richard W. Hanna to change the zoning from planned industrial to heavy industrial in the area east of Highway 101 and north of Highway 37 will be considered tonight by the Novato planning commission.

The request for planned industrial was first placed before the commission in September. Ground-breaking ceremonies on the 460-acre Hanna Industrial Park were held on Oct. 20.

Two churches have requests before the commission. Jehovah's Witnesses want a permit for a church on a 17,650-square foot lot at 733 to 801 Lamont Avenue. The Methodist Church wants architectural supervision for a church on South Novato Boulevard across from Yukon Way.

Phone Pried Loose, Money Box Taken

The phone was pried from the booth at Garatti Motors at 7090 Redwood Highway, Novato police reported today, and the money box was taken.

The light had been broken out of the booth probably by the pry bar used to wreck the phone, reported Police Sgt. Wayne W. Knutila, who discovered the break-in at 4 a.m. today.

Good Health Depends On Body's Nerve Network

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The greatest communications system ever built is as old as mankind and will never be out of date. It is more common than the telephone but more complex than the TVA and a fleet of electronic space ships combined. What is this system?

Your nervous system . . . the incredibly vast network of fibers which links the brain, directly or indirectly with every cell, every organ and every part of your body.

The brain, of course, is the power house which generates, dispatches, receives and interprets messages to and from various parts of your body. The brain and its nerve network are in action every moment of your life—asleep or awake.

The nervous system is so complex that the most learned anatomists and physiologists know very little of its magnitude and function. The greatest electrical project ever conceived by man is insignificant compared with the human power system. One expert has estimated that there are 400 trillion nerve fibers passing through the average human skull into the spinal cord.

What happens when something goes wrong with the nerve network? When a nerve fails to deliver its proper quota of "power" to any part of the body, that part will lose its efficiency and eventually will become diseased because of an interference to the nerve.

Interferences occur most frequently in the spine when a displaced spinal bone (vertebra) will pinch or stretch the nerves within the spine or just outside it. The obvious remedy is to remove the interference.

Chiropractors specialize in removing spinal obstructions to the nervous system. This can be done by X-ray analysis and by skillful hand adjustments of any vertebra found to be causing interference.

Youth's Drowning Off Coast Probed

Coast Guard Marine Investigation Office personnel today were still checking circumstances of the apparent drowning Saturday of a 19-year-old Hayward youth between Muir and Stinson Beach.

Search for the body was abandoned after all-day hunt involving two vessels and two aircraft of the Coast Guard Search and Rescue forces.

Mitchell Attebery had been fishing from the Slide Ranch property with Thomas Clemensen, 17, and William Harry, 19, also from Hayward.

A big wave broke over the rock ledge from which the three had been fishing and Attebery was knocked into the surf 40 feet below. Harry climbed down and was able to reach Attebery he later said. He held Attebery's head above the surface for an instant, but when another wave swept both into the water, he lost his hold on his companion.

Harry's shoes, sox and shirt were ripped off by the waves before he gained the shore. He and Clemensen walked two miles to the home of Michael Gensburger, ranch manager, who notified the sheriff's office.

Nephew Of Cerf Is Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A teenage boy who had taken some change from his father's pants pocket shot himself to death last night and left a note telling his parents:

"You will be able to live without a thief in the house."

Alfred B. Cerf—a wholesaler who said he is a first cousin of publisher Bennett Cerf—told police there had been a family talk yesterday about some change taken from his pocket by his 16-year-old son Geoffrey. The father said it totaled less than a dollar.

The boy later was found lying on the floor of his upstairs bedroom by his mother. He died at Hollywood receiving hospital.

Some Permits For Burning Still Needed

Permits for outdoor burnings are still required in Tiburon and Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection Districts, officials of the two districts said today.

Burning restrictions in unincorporated territory of Marin not under jurisdiction of fire districts were lifted Friday by County Fire Chief Charles Reilly. Most fire districts acted in concert with the county fire department.

However, Capt. Charles Pruett of Tiburon Fire District said residents there are still required to obtain permits for all open burning.

In Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District, burning without a permit is allowed from sunrise to 5 p.m. for single family residences, effective today. However, contractors and business firms must apply to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for burning permits, district officials said.

State's Traffic Safety Record Wins Some Praise

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Public Works Director Robert Bradford said today that California now has the best traffic safety record "since the beginning of the auto," but agreed that the situation is still bad.

The 60 traffic deaths in California over the long Thanksgiving weekend were slightly worse than usual, Bradford told the governor's council. It was nearly 13 per cent of the national total of 443, but Bradford noted that California has 11 per cent of the nation's traffic on 4 per cent of the roads.

Dr. Daniel Blain, state director of mental hygiene, said he was convinced that the "human factor" can be blamed for many accidents. He said the did not mean mental illness but "a certain amount of poor judgment that exists in the normal range."

Bradford agreed, but said Blain was enough of a psychologist to know that it's a question whether to scare people into driving more safely, or to "educate" them.

"Two things are almost always present in an accident," Bradford said, "First, a 'aw was broken. Second, something went wrong with the driver's control of the vehicle. The latter is the more important."

Bradford said that while freeways reduce the accident rate by two thirds, they produce unusual problems.

About 37 per cent of all freeway accidents occur between midnight and 5 a.m., when only 5 per cent of the traffic is moving, he said. Also, only one car is involved in 52 per cent of freeway accidents.

The state now has about 2,000 miles of freeway, he said, but by 1980 will have 12,500 miles.

Guilty Plea To Income Tax Charge

Hunter C. Quistgard, 59, Santa Rosa real estate salesman and former president of Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in San Francisco today to a charge of willful failure to file a federal income tax return for 1955.

Quistgard, who lives in Marin but works in Santa Rosa, asked the court to dismiss three other counts of the criminal information which also charged failure to file for the years 1956 through 1958.

The government said his total gross income for the four years was $491,290 and that he owed a total tax of $7,793.

Quistgard filed his returns for the four years after the Internal Revenue Service started investigating his accounts in 1960. Agents said he explained his nonfiling by saying "I'm the world's worst bookkeeper."

Judge A. J. Zirpoli set Dec. 19 for sentencing and a ruling on the motion to dismiss three counts. The offense is a misdemeanor and the maximum penalty is one year and $10,000.

This is the "wagon" we hitched to a star

"That's us, taking a spin in our 'wagon'—the sleekest sportscar you ever saw. Actually, it's a by-product of something much more important. Something that began when Betty said to me a few years back: 'Jim, doesn't it worry you a little that we're not getting more living done?'

'We talked about it far into the night. We were drifting. It was time to hitch our wagon to a star, we decided—to pick out a dream and then plan toward it.

"What was it we really wanted? Our own business. College education for the kids. Enough left over to enjoy some of life's extras, like the sportscar that had always been a 'someday' thing with me."

Jim and Betty Hall worked at it. They soon realized everything hinged upon how well they managed money. And for help in this, they turned to Crocker-Anglo Bank.

They started with a savings account. Then, when Jim's chance to have his own business arose, he used a Crocker-Anglo loan to augment his savings. Over the years other C-A business loans helped him move ahead.

When Jim needed a site for a small plant, Crocker-Anglo's real estate loan department helped finance it. And when Betty wanted to assure college education for the children, C-A set up a family trust for the purpose. Later, the Halls called on Crocker-Anglo for help in setting up their first investment program.

Maybe you've seen the Halls giving their "wagon" a workout. They're just people. No different from the rest of us except...

They had a plan. Or call it a dream. And they used their bank for all it's worth.

FOURTH GRADERS IN NEW SCHOOL

Miss Dorothy DeStefano and her fourth grade class are shown in their new classroom at the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School at Woodland Avenue and Lovell Street in San Rafael. Annexation Meeting Scheduled

A meeting on annexation of San Jose Scvhool District to Novato Unified School District will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Benjamin D. Edger at 1249 Denlyn Street, Novato.

Petitions for annexation were being prepared today at request of Mrs. Donald Sparks of 1336 Monte Maria Avenue, reported Edwin L. Blackmore, assistant county schools superintendent.

Annexation was advocated by some opponents of creating a new Novato-San Jose Unified District prior to the election last Tuesday at which the unification proposal was turned down by 30 votes in Novato although approved in San Jose District.

Blackmore said signatures of a majority of registered voters in the San Jose District would be necessary to call an annexation election. This would take about 800 signatures, he said.

Mexico Political Editor Found Dead

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — The political columnist of the morning daily newspaper Noticias was beaten to death early today.

He was Carlos Estrada Sastre, 36.

Jose Garduno, publisher of Noticias, said it was the fourth time in the last three months that newspapermen critical of the state government of Gov. Eligio Esquivel had been beaten.

The political editor was found lying on the floor of his hotel room. He had arrived about an hour earlier, after attending jai alai games.

Police said his skull had been fractured.

Man Visits Estranged Wife's Home, Jailed For Assault

His estranged wife and another man — both San Jose School District teachers —wore nothing but startled looks when he found them sitting in bed in her Tamalpais Valley home early yesterday, a San Francisco naval architect said.

Charles McCardell, 35, employed by a San Francisco firm of marine engineering consultants, was in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. Sheriff's officers said he repeatedly struck Denton S. Winn, 37, of Petaluma, sixth grade teacher at Lynwood School, over the head with an 18-inch combination jackhandle and lug wrench.

McCardell's estranged wife, Elaine McCardell, 40, of 366 Tennessee Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, an eighth grade teacher at Pacheco School, was not injured.

Marin General Hospital said today Winn had had a "fair" night after 30 sutures were taken in his scalp and two in his left arm. A doctor said Winn's skull was injured.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said the sheriff's office sent three units to Mrs. McCardell's home a little before 3 a.m. yesterday in answer to calls from a phone operator and Marin Ambulance Service.

The officers found Winn lying on the floor and McCardell standing with the jackhandle in his hand, Bridges reported. McCardell claimed he struck in self defense.

Mrs. McCardell and Winn said they dined Saturday with two friends in Mill Valley and then went with the friends to a tavern in the San Francisco Marina district, after parking Mrs. McCardell's car outside the Buckeye Tavern near Sausalito. Mrs. McCardell asked Winn to accompany her home, saying her husband had annoyed her with phone calls and one late night visit, they reported.

At her home, they found "things disarranged," Mrs. McCardell said.

McCardell said he had waited at the Buckeye parking lot from 5 p.m. Saturday until 2 a.m. yesterday and saw the four return. He said he wanted to visit his wife and apologize "for all the ugly thoughts."

He said he followed Winn and his wife and got into the home by jimmying a window from atop a six-foot ladder. He said he took the jackhandle from his wife's car, "figuring there would be trouble."

He said he then "heard voices in the bedroom" and entered. He said he struck Winn three times when Winn and Mrs. McCardell moved toward him.

McCardell phoned Marin Ambulance and then canceled the call and then called the sheriff's office.

Inspector Bridges said the bed, walls, ceiling and floor were spattered with blood, and a closet door was split in two.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Ford Is Hit By Antitrust Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department filed a civil antitrust suit today against the Ford Motor Co. over its acquisition of Electric Autolite Co.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit.

A department spokesman said the suit asks the court to order Ford divest itself of two manufacturing plants, sales facilities and the "Autolite" trade name it acquired last spring from the Electric Autolite Co. of Toledo, Ohio.

The government charged that Ford's acquisition could substantially decrease competition in the spark plug business and in other automobile parts.

Ford purchased the "Autolite" trade name; the company's spark plug plant at Fostoria, Ohio; its battery plant at Owosso, Mich., and most of its sales organization last April 12.

An April 4 letter to Electric Autolite stockholders, the government said, reported the firm received about 28 million dollars in the deal.

Electric Autolite had been one of the nation's biggest independent suppliers of automobile parts. Autolite, the Champion Spark Plug Co., and General Motors produced more than 90 per cent of all spark plugs turned out in this country last year, the government said.

Besides spark plugs, Electric Autolite also had produced batteries, generators, electrical motors, instruments, and ignition systems in a full line of automotive electrical products using the name "Autolite," the government added.

Video Quiz Scandal Pair Plead Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons involved in television's quiz show scandals pleaded guilty today to charges they lied in denying they received help in answering questions. They received suspended sentences.

The pleas were entered by Timothy Horan of White Plains, N. Y., and Joseph Rosner of Manhattan, who had appeared on "Tic Tac Dough." Moran won $34,800 and Rosner $1,700.

Each had been indicted on two counts of second-degree perjury for telling a grand jury they had received no help. As their trial in Special Sessions Court was to begin, they were permitted to plead guilty to one count each.

Asst. Dist. Atty Joseph Stone asked that Judge Thomas E. Rohan approve the move because both men had been cooperative in assisting the two-year investigation and had shown remorse over giving false testimony.

Two Are Feared Lost As Boat Capsizes

A helicopter from Hamilton Air Force Base rescued a man clinging to a capsized boat off the Russian River mouth Saturday, but Coast Guard search for a man and his wife who had also been in the boat was abandoned last night after it appeared certain they could not have survived.

Maj. Thomas Crull piloted the helicopter sent by Detachment 11 of the Base Rescue Section, Western Air Rescue Center.

A sling was thrown out by Capt. Troy L. Allen, rescue commander. It was caught by James Talbott, Napa construction foreman who was clinging to a mooring ring in the bow of the overturned 16-foot cabin cruiser. He was promptly lifted clear and carried a mile to shore.

'Copter crew members were T/Sgt. Harold A. McDonald and A/1c Cecil A. Boothby.

Although the rescue was achieved within about an hour of the accident, darkness had fallen and nothing could be seen of Talbott's companions, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leissner, who had been drifting out to sea, clinging together and apparently on floating life jackets.

One jacket was found ashore last night by a Sonoma County sheriff's searching party.

The Coast Guard sent the Dexter, a 311-foot ship used for harbor entrance patrol, and a 95-foot patrol boat as well as two Albatross amphibian aircraft from the San Francisco base.

Leissner, like Talbott a Napa construction foreman, had moored his boat three days earlier in the river mouth while he, his wife and Talbott camped on Rivers End Beach nearby.

After a noon trip in the cruiser they anchored in the river but in late afternoon again went aboard and started the engine while lifting the anchor. Apparently the anchor rope fouled the propellor and the craft was swept out the river mouth by a strong current at ebb tide.

FIVE IN FAMILY DEAD

Mentally Ill Man Sought In Slayings

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Forty detectives have been assigned to track down an escaped mental patient accused of massacring the family of a brother-in-law who helped him come to this country a year ago.

Named in a first-degree murder warrant is Mate Mike Ivanov, 38.

"Irrifutable evidence" places the mentally disturbed Ivanov in the home of Peter Gregov at the time of the five slayings Saturday, according to Stuyvesant Pinnell, Nassau County chief of detectives.

The killer methodically stabbed and slashed to death Gregov, 39; Mrs. Gregov, 35, and their three sons, then neatly covered the bodies—Gregov's with a rug, the others with blankets or sheets. The mother's and sons' hands were bound behind their backs.

Also slain—by 17 stab wounds—was the Gregovs' pet dog.

The slayer struck from the front and back, plunging the weapon 20 to 30 times in each victim, mostly "deep, penetrating wounds" five or six inches deep, said Dr. Leslie Lukash, Nassau County medical examiner.

Gregov was a waiter, holding down two jobs, one in a night club as head waiter, the other in a restaurant.

Gregov came to the United States several years ago from Yugoslavia. In 1956, he helped a brother come here. Last year, he helped another brother, his sister and her husband, Ivanov, immigrate.

Neighbors said Gregov opened his Long Island home to the Ivanovs and they lived there for several weeks.

Domestic difficulties developed in the Ivanov family and Gregov asked his sister to take her troubles to Domestic Relations Court, she said. That led to Ivanov's committal on June 12 to the Central Islip State Hospital. He escaped Nov. 15.

Mrs. Ivanov said he was carrying a kitchen knife under his belt when he came to her residence in Booklyn Saturday morning. He threatened to cut off her head if she told of the visit, she said, then left shortly before noon after telling their four children, "Goodbye forever."

Police said the Gregov family feared Ivanov because of Gregov's role in the committal.

Autopsies on three of the bodies indicated that the Gregovs were slain between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday.

Two policemen, summoned by a brother of Gregov, found the victims before daylight yesterday in the modest home in Mineola. The brother had become alarmed because Gregov didn't meet him after work. Repeated telephone calls to the home were unanswered.

Gregov's body was in the living room and Mrs. Gregov's in a bedroom. In another bedroom was the body of Peter Jr., 17, a high school honor student. In the basement were Ronald, 15, behind a a playroom bar and Michael, 11, near an oil burner.

Pinnell said there was no sign of forced entry and, except for the covers removed from the beds to place on the bodies, no disorder.

Ivanov had been "depressed, upset and threatening suicide" at the time of his admission, said Dr. J. C. Kennedy of the hospital staff, but was "a quiet patient, a well-behaved patient."

Bay Bridge Bump Makes Traffic Crawl Along

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco-bound traffic slowed to a crawl today on the Bay Bridge and cars backed up to the toll plaza on the Oakland side, because of a road modification job at the Yerba Buena Island tunnel.

The traffic backup which came was no surprise. Westbound cars have been suffering delays since Saturday as a result of a 26-inch bump vehicles have to negotiate at snail's pace.

This obstacle is a raised deck of metal plates installed so workmen can lower the roadbed through the tunnel. The idea is to allow traffic to move while workmen excavate underneath. The roadbed is being lowered to increase clearance for big trucks.

Work will continue through most of the coming year, according to Norman Raab, chief engineer for State Toll Bridge Authority.

However, he added, "The worst should be over in a month so so."

To hold down the accident rate, the highway patrol cut speed through the tunnel to 25 miles an hour; then to 15.

Jr. Giants Victory Suggests Establishing Grid Bowl Here

The young gridders of the Redwood Junior Giants deserve the praise and commendations of all Marin for their spectacular 51-28 victory Thanksgiving Day in the Bronco Bowl at Boise, Iadho. It was a fitting climax to an undefeated season.

The Giants brought credit upon Marin County not only for their football prowess, but also for the way that they conducted themselves both on and off the field.

We're proud of them and of their coaches.

Two other Marin Pop Warner teams also had bowl bids. Both the San Rafael and the Mill Valley teams played in the double-header Fiesta Bowl in Redwood City. Thus half of Marin's six Pop Warner teams win post-season recognition.

All of which brings up the obvious question:

Why don't we have some sort of a bowl game of our own here in Marin?

Why not plan next season a State Junior Championship Bowl in which the champion of this area plays an invited champion from Southern California here in Marin?

Twice now the Redwood Junior Giants have gone back to Idaho to play an Idaho team in the cold, slushy weather of Boise. Perhaps we could invite an Idaho team down to balmy Marin, or maybe a team from Oregon or Nevada?

There are numerous ideas which could be developed, which might eventually lead to a real championship elimination, like in Little League Baseball, with the final game or games scheduled on, say, the San Rafael High School turf.

What is needed is a sponsor, interested in boys and athletics, which would undertake the hard work and planning which goes into such a contest. In Boise, it's the Optimists Club. Perhaps one of the local Optimists Clubs or other service organizations dedicated to youth development would consider such a project.

Bringing Up Glamour Girl

In the days when our character was being moulded by the toys we received for Christmas, we were given erector sets, doctor outfits and microscopes in the hope that we would evolve an abiding interest in science.

Now we wonder what the world is coming to. From the toy catalogue we received in the mail, it would appear that some modern parents may be trying to raise their daughters to be expensive floozies.

Take the "Glamour Dress-Up Set." For girls from four to nine. An imitation satin-lined fur stole, simulated pearls and diamond ring, and a plastic orchid. Who wants to be tied down at home with a nasty little Dydee Doll?

For little girls who can't quite aspire to the mink set, there is an outfit of a girdle, nylons and ruffled can-can garters.

However, we're not worried about the future of California womanhood. After all, we didn't become a scientist.

WHAT HAPPENED TO HIGH NOTES?

For some strange reason the organ in a Buffalo, N.Y. church just wouldn't hit the high notes.

When the organist complained, an investigation was made. Eventually the police were called in. They found that someone had stolen 47 of the pipes.

It was estimated that replacements for the missing pipes would cost $800.

The world's greatest musician would be at a loss to give an impressive performance unless all the pipes were in the organ, or all the strings were on the harp. Without the proper equipment, no amount of noble purpose or skill will suffice.

We can be thankful to almighty God that He never fails to provide us with the means to carry out the mission in life to which He has assigned us.

Put your gratitude to work by making full use of all the opportunities that come your way to restore the harmony that should be present in the lives of our fellow men.

"He that abides in Me, and I in him, the same bears much fruit: for without Me you can do nothing."

There's Much To Be Learned By Simply Opening The Mail

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average family spends $44 a year on dental bills. More than half the population (97 million) have dental cavities, but one out of three Americans never visits a dentist. About 21 million have a good reason—they have no teeth.

How they got started' Joe Stalin, the Soviet Union's fallen revolutionary idol, worked in his youth as a bookkeeper and once sang a solo in honor of Czar Alexander III at a church in Tiflis in 1894.

U.S. Must Decide How To Deal With New European Trade Giant

WASHINGTON — It now seems certain that the administration will go to Congress in the coming session to ask for new powers in order to negotiate about tariffs and trade arrangements with the European Common Market.

This is a bold decision, and not without considerable risk. It was taken because of a feeling in the highest councils of government that despite the fact that 1962 is not an ideal time to begin the painful process of adjustment to the emerging new trading world, a beginning cannot be put off.

This sense of urgency is due only in part to the fact that the Trade Agreements Act expires next summer. More than that, the Western Community and the United States in particular need a momentum which has been lacking in recent months.

THE DECISION to move forward now rather than in 1963 is risky, not only because 1962 is an election year when, as the saying goes, the tariff becomes a local issue in each district. An even greater difficulty, it seems to me, is that Congress and the country will not have before them as a going concern the new Common Market which will be created when Great Britain and other European powers join the original six members.

It may not be easy to make the country understand what the enlarged common market is going to be in the future, when in fact it is not yet in existence.

A MIGHTY EFFORT of public education is going to be needed to make the country realize how revolutionary the change is going to be. The enlarged Common Market will be the biggest trading area in the world. It will soon have free trade within it and a common tariff against us and all the other nations around it. This gigantic industrial complex is now growing at a rate which is twice our own average since the Korean War.

As an example, which ought to be favorable to the United States, we may look at the production of motor vehicles. The Common Market and Britain together are now producing just short of 6,000,000 vehicles a year. We are now producing at the rate of 8,000,000 a year.

But since 1950, our output has changed very little while that of the Common Market countries has quadrupled. Even Britain, with a slower rate of growth than that of the Western Continent, has doubled its output.

IN THE NEW Common Market we shall be facing a very formidable competitor with a faster rate of growth, with an enormous internal market, and with a highly efficient capacity to export. We shall be facing not only a competition which is formidable but the likelihood of deep difficulties in our balance of payments.

If we do not take strong measures at home and abroad, we may well find ourselves in an extremely difficult decade.

As the realities become visible to us, we shall find that we must reappraise assumptions which this generation of Americans have become used to taking for granted. Primarily, there is the assumption that in our relations with Europe we are the givers and they are the receivers, that it depends on us, therefore, how much or how little we shall participate in the affairs of Europe.

This assumption is ceasing to be valid as Western Europe, with its amazingly rapid economic growth, draws closely together toward economic and political union.

WE HAVE JUST begun to discuss the question of how we propose to adjust ourselves to the new economic reality. Discussion has been started by the Clayton-Herter report, the path-breaking speech of George Ball before the National Foreign Trade Convention, and the President's remarks at his recent press conference.

In much of the comment on what they have said the old assumption persists — that we are able to fix the terms on which we will associate ourselves with the new Common Market. But at once we are being warned from Europe that it is not going to work that way.

We are being told, quite bluntly for example by William Rees-Mogg, the discerning and accomplished economic editor of the "Sunday Times" of London, that it will now be difficult to obtain "any settlement with Europe which will expand American trading opportunities. The independence of Europe, from America and Russia, has now become a theme to which both the Americans and Russians are going to be asked to dance."

THIS MEANS that the Common Market is not merely a profitable economic arrangement. It is also the substance of a political union which is being forged into a new great power in the world.

In this century we have seen great powers die. Now, it would seem, we are witnessing the birth of a new great power.

What the world knows as the Common Market and as the European Economic Community is not, as the names suggest, merely an enlightened device for promoting prosperity. It is that. But the inner motive and resolve of the leaders of the Common Market is to make Europe again, as it was for so many centuries—until the World Wars of our times—a great center of power and influence around the globe.

THAT IS WHY when Britain decided to apply for membership, the crucial question was not how to safeguard the economic interests of the Commonwealth. That is quite manageable. The crucial question has been whether Great Britain was renouncing its political separation from the Continent, and whether it would then participate in the poltical purposes of the Continental countries.

After the British have settled their relationship, it will be our turn to begin to negotiate.

When 50 Little Shovelers Attack Indian Mound Anything Happens

The other day we went with 50 little shovelers to the China Camp Indian mounds where Digger Indians used to dump their used fire rocks. It was a day to remember.

We climbed under a barbed wire fence up onto the huge mound. The short ones, studying the Diggers in California history, carried shovels, trowels, scratchers and some had silver spoons.

Soon dust was flying amidst stickery gorse bushes and with cries of "Give me that shovel, kid," and "Hey!" and "Let's go some place where they haven't duggen yet."

A PARENT-SPONSORED trip, with mothers having driven the children to the scene, two third grade teachers were in the train, Jane Clayton and Nancy Waldeck. However, Miss Waldeck was so busy organizing everyone that she was left behind at school and Principal William Lovvorn had to rush her to the mounds a little late.

Fire stones were the chief finds. These were once used to heat water in baskets and to steam clams and oysters. According to archeologist Norman Wilson, assistant supervisor at Samuel P. Taylor State Park, the mound signifies an old village site.

Mrs. Clayton was beleaguered with, "What's this?"

"Fire stone," she replied.

"What's this?" asked Steven German.

"Probably fire stone," said the teacher.

"Couldn't be," said German, "because I brought it from school before I left."

MOTHERS DUG, too. Mrs. John Beedle and Mrs. George Artus worked as a team, beside their small diggers.

"I'm afraid I'll find a toe bone," Mrs. Beedle said. "My husband asked me what I would do if I came across a toe bone. I'd die."

Getting stuck in the leg with a thistle, we moved on. Overheard Ben Alvord say to his friend, "If you bust that shovel, I'll bust you." Reddish-haired, freckled Billy Harrington said, "I've found millions of them." (Fire stones.)

Tow-headed Zachary Smith, down in the big hole with three other short people, said, "They use the stones for adzes." Then Dan Shalleck found a silver bullet. "That couldn't have been from the Indians," we said. "They could have been fighting Indians," said Dan.

"I wish I had brought some flower pots," Mrs. Artus said. "It's wonderful potting soil."

Said Harry Kemp, laconically, holding a huge shovel, "What is fire stone worth? All the rock is fire stone."

"WATCH OUT for your foot," said a little girl.

Mrs. Nancy Emmons, to her son, Andrew, said, "Oh, I don't think that's anything." "It might be Indian jewelry," he answered, holding a large, lumpy rock.

Boy to Lisa Adler with pigtail: "You've moved 20 times."

"We found a bug," she answered.

There was Zachary Smith, still down in the biggest hole, almost buried, with three other children picking and sifting.

Kirk Beedle had a sack full of stone. Gretchen had a dirty face.

Then there was a great commotion and shouts of "I found an arrowhead." "Arrowhead!" "Let's see, John." "Neat-O!" and "Cool-ey!" John, with others after him, leaped down the sticker bush mound to the place of discovery.

"ONE BOY is losing his pants," Mrs. Clayton said. "He's got so many fire rocks in his pockets." She added that she believed the mound must be saved for the youngsters. "It's worth so much to them."

Two potato bugs were found, a spider and a grasshopper, a bent stick and a beer can opener. William Maxwell found a piece of pottery with a design on it.

"I'll break your head in with my cutting stone," someone yelled.

"I think it's about time to go," said one of the mothers, uneasily. And down the mound we went, under the barbed-wire fence.

Destroying What Had Right To Live

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On facing pages of our newspaper tonight (11/21) were a photograph of a hunter pridefully posing with a rare and beautiful, but dead, goose, and another picture of a group of gunners displaying their kill of an unusual and attractive deer.

This is sport?

In neither case could any of those brave marksmen have taken one of these harmless and handsome creatures in a fair contest. Completely outclassed in matters of fleetness, keenness of sight and hearing, dexterity and combat ability on a pound-for-pound basis, the humans had to rely on firearms from remote cover to destroy what had every right to live.

Quality Of Mercy Be Not Strained

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have written the following letter to the President and request that you print it to invoke thought and action on the urgent matter of protecting the prestige and the leadership role of the United States in the eyes of the world.

Dear Mr. President:

We urge you to consider the tragic consequences to the reputation of the United States, as well as to the suffering people of China, if we do not sell our overabundance of wheat to mitigate human suffering—regardless of the political views and policies dominating such people.

It is ridiculous enough to carry on the policy of denying the existence of the Red Chinese nation—no matter how much we resent its existence and despise its aims and methods; but to deny our idle stocks of food to hungry people—among them the aged, the ill and the immature—is a crassness beyond belief.

Further, it is to be hoped that the "quality of mercy" be "not strained" and that, should we rise to our human responsibility in allowing the grain to go to China—or to any other land where it is sorely needed—we do not sink to driving a hard bargain or to granting only a niggardly allotment. Let us remember noblesse oblige.

Grounds Improvement On School Agenda

Plans for improving the schoolgrounds at San Rafael's elementary and high schools are to be discussed by architect Carl F. Gromme at the San Rafael Board of Education's meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the district office on Mission Avenue.

The board also will receive a report on final inspection of the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School, which has been completed to free buildings of the former school of the same name for Davidson Junior High classrooms. Completion of the new school will mean the last classes will be moved out of E Street School, going to Laurel Dell.

Appraisers' reports on the E Street property are to be presented at the meeting. The City of San Rafael has asked the board of education to give it first refusal on the E Street School, which is one of the possible new city hall sites being studied for the city by Ebasco Services.

Recommendations regarding payment for home instruction are to be made by Supt. Bert C. Corona. Two home instruction teachers complained to the Nov. 14 board meeting that their pay was below that for such work in other districts.

Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson is to report on policy regarding use of gymnasiums by other schools. Robert E. Shore, coordinator for the "more able learner" program, is to report on that program.

Clerk Arrested In Snapping Of Power Pole

A 21-year-old San Francisco stock clerk was arrested Saturday on suspicion of driving into and snapping a power pole on Tiburon Boulevard and leaving the scene of the accident.

According to California Highway patrolmen and Sheriff's deputies, Thomas Hale Cooper apparently struck a PG&E pole near the intersection of Bay Vista Drive about 2:30 a.m. He was apprehended by Deputy Carl Mead on the frontage road near the Alto interchange where he admitted hitting the pole but said he drove on because he thought he had caused no damage.

Cooper was freed on $276 bail and ordered to appear in Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon.

Physical Education Program Is Approved

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees last week heard reports on the district's physical education program and indicated they felt that it is satisfactory.

His parents have issued a plea for anyone knowing of his whereabouts to notify the local police department.

Corte Madera Will Try Again For Pool

Corte Madera parks and recreation commissioners will again try to get a swimming pool in the town park, they decided last week.

A petition will be circulated next month in hopes of obtaining approval of 15 per cent of Corte Madera's registered voters to put a swimming pool bond issue on the ballot in the April 10, 1962, municipal election.

A bond issue for the swimming pool project was defeated in 1957. The cost of the pool at that time was estimated at $130,000. New estimate from the San Francisco landscape architectural firm of Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes is $165,000.

Bolinas Names Sanitary Unit

A special committee was named last week by the Bolinas Community Inc. to determine whether a feasibility survey should be made for joint sanitary facilities for the Bolinas and Stinson Beach areas.

Capt. David Edwards, president of the organization, announced that the comittee will be headed by Sherman Smith. Other members include Marion Dowdall, John Hamilton, Hurford Sharon and Captain Edwards.

Next meeting of the Bolinas Community Inc. is set for 8 p.m. Dec. 29 at the Bolinas Community Center. Florence Locke of Bolinas, a Shakespearean actress, will entertain at that meeting.

Unhappy Hickey Raps 49er Defense For Shoddy Show

Offense Stars In 38-28 Victory Over Minnesota

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Red Hickey and his 49ers were in a second place NFL tie today with the Detroit Lions but the redhead was far from happy with the way they got there on a 38-28 win over Minnesota's Vikings.

"If we defense the Colts in Baltimore next Sunday the way we did the Vikings in Kezar," said Hickey, "Johnny Unitas will pass us out of the park."

Hickey was well satisfied with the way his men operated offensviely once again off the T, particularly John Brodie, R. C. Owens and J. D. Smith—and so was a Kezar crowd of 43,905.

Before the Vikings got their bearings in their first visit to Kezar, Brodie, Owens and Smith put three TDs on the scoreboard. Then, the 49er defense, leaky as an uncalked skiff, let the Vikes score a couple of touchdowns.

That made Hickey very unhappy. He especially disliked the way Minnesota acquired its second TD in the closing 58 seconds of the first half since the tally would not have been possible if rookie quarterback Fran Tarkenton had not negotiated a 31-year pass to end Gordon Smith on a fourth-and-eight-to-go situation.

"Let's just say our defense wasn't up to standard," said Hickey.

Matt Hazeltine was excluded from that criticism. The 49er defensive captain tossed Tarkenton for minus twelve on one occasion and on a couple of others recovered a pair of Viking fumbles, one of them by an old teammate, Hugh McElhenny.

"Our offensive blocking was sharp, giving Smith good opening starts," said Hickey. "As for Owens, it was his best game of the year."

Hickey's tribute to Owens prompted someone to quip: "Maybe you better persuade your front office to get him under contract by giving him the raise he wants."

Owens made five almost unbelievable catches for 138 yards, more than half of the 246 credited to Brodie on 14 pass completions out of 24 tries.

Smith carried 27 of the 31 times Brodie called ground plays and posted 168 pards to tie the all-time one game 49er record set by Joe Perry against Green Bay in 1957. Smith accounted for all but 28 of the 196 yards rushing by the 49ers and of that 28 Brodie contributed 16 on a bootleg touchdown run.

When the Brodie-Owens-Smith combo ran the score to 21-0, the crowd relaxed in a picnic mood, warmly applauding a former home hero, McElhenny, as he romped once for 25 yards with a swing pass and once for 18 on the old Statue of Liberty handoff from Tarkenton.

Hickey didn't mind the relaxed attitude of the crowd, commenting "I guess they like the wide open, high scoring games." But he minced no words about the way the 49er defense seemed to relax after the offense posted that three touchdown lead.

As for McElhenny, Hickey had a good word—"still a fine ball player and still a shifty one. He could still be with us but he didn't want to be a reserve. That's why he went to the Vikings."

Minnesota rookie coach Norm Van Brocklin declared "Smith in my mind is one of the greatest backs in the league and that Owens just goes up and takes the ball away from defenders."

Jack Morris, charged with the job of defending against Owens, had this to say about the 49er who is playing out his option this season and will be a free agent in three weeks if he doesn't get the raise he wants:

"Owens' timing is absolutely fantastic in his leaps for the ball. It is almost impossible to defense him because he is all arms and legs when he goes up."

Owens was the decoy and Monty Stickles the receiver in the first 49er TD that spanned 61 yards in seven plays. Stickles caught a pair, one for 19, the other for 12, when Smith wasn't working the ground route which he did for the final six yards.

A 40-yard beauty by Brodie, with ex-49er Karl Rubke hanging on his neck, was taken by Owens for TD No. 2. Smith and Owens had to work overtime for TD No. 3. Smith, in four carries, got 66 yards and Owens made one of his spectacular leaps for a 47-yard pass from Honest John—a total of 113 yards, all of which were necessary because of a couple of 15-yard penalties, one a clip, one a hold. C. R. Roberts, incidentally, score TD No. 3 from the one but it was Smith and Owens who put in on the one.

VIKES SCORE

Now the Vikes finally scored, midway in the second quarter, on an eight play 58-yard sequence featuring McElhenny and some classy running by rookie Tommy Mason who bolted the 49er middle for the last nine yards.

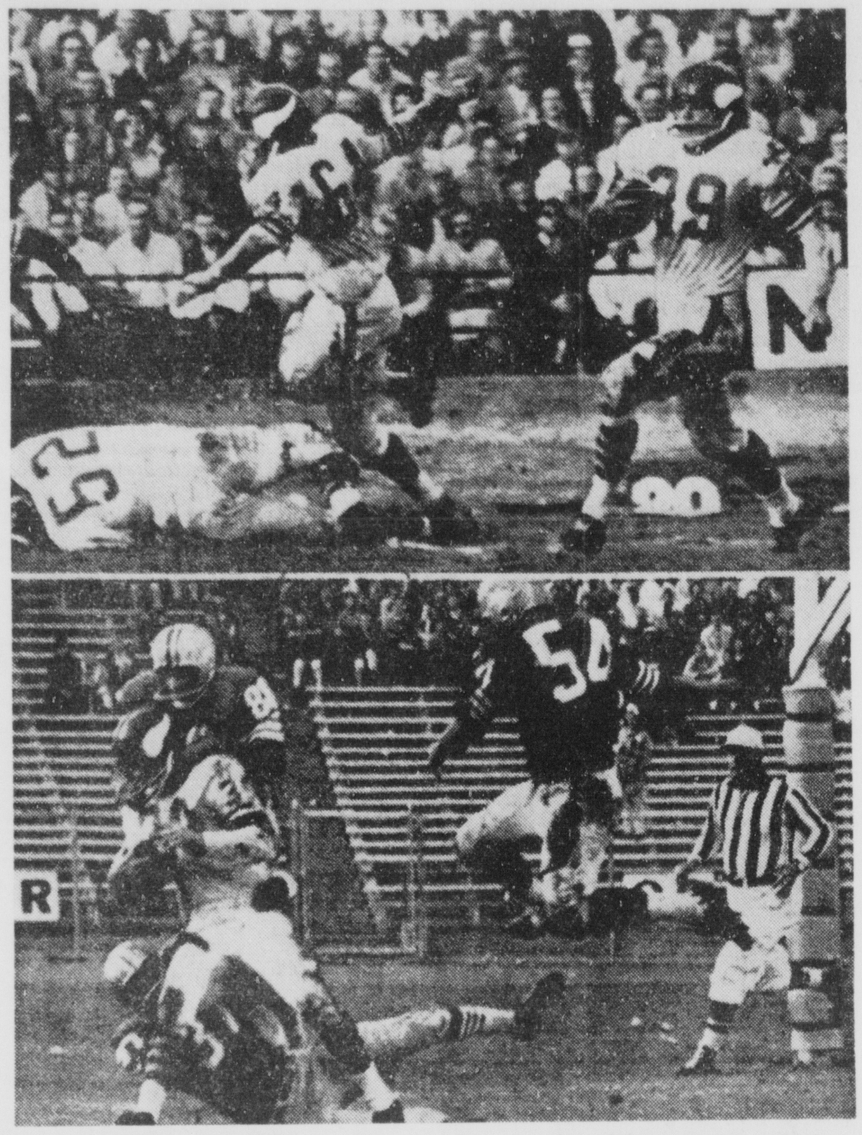
Then came a 42-yard field goal by Tommy Davis after which the Vikings traveled 76 yards in 11 plays, one of them being the fourth-and-eight Tarkenton-Smith 31-yard pass that Tarkenton promptly followed with a 17-yard scoring strike to veteran Jerry Reichow.

The third quarter was drawing to a close when Mason fumbled and Hazeltine recovered on the Minnesota 40 from which Owens and Smith took it in, Owens with another 25-yard spectacular, Smith with a 16-yard power drive.

Tarkenton and Smith quickly got that TD equalized on a 71-yard pass-run play that caught Dave Baker zigging when he should have been zagging.

A few minutes after the final quarter opened, McElhenny fumbled with Hazeltine's help in midfield and Hazeltine corraled the ball on the Minnesota 47. Once again Smith and Owens went to work, Owens leaping for a 22-yarder from Brodie, Smith cracking for nine to the 16, Brodie rolling out the final yardage with the ball on his hip bootlegger style as Bruce Bosley cleared rookie linebacker Rip Hawkins out of his way.

McElhenny's 18-yard Statue of Liberty run and his 25-yard romp with a swing pass allowed Tarkenton to score from the one for the final tally and boost Minnesota's overall yardage to 416, 139 on the ground, 277 in the air—just 26 short of what the 49ers compiled.



BROAD JUMP — Bob Harrison (54), San Francisco 49er linebacker leaps into the fray as Minnesota Viking Hugh McElhenny (39) is being mauled down by halfbacks Jerry Mertens (80) and Jim Johnson (37) of San Francisco. Ex-49er McElhenny stepped off 26 yards before they dropped him in the fourth period at Kezar yesterday. San Francisco won, 38-28. (AP Wirephoto)

49er R. C. Owens—A Puzzle Of Past Present, Future—Is In Option Year

CONNOLLY

There was another great offensive show at Kezar Stadium yesterday as the San Francisco Forty-Niners took an early lead over the Minnesota Vikings and then maintained a ten point cushion throughout the last half to win going away, 38 to 28.

But the big story of the day is not the great passing of quarterback John Brodie from the reliable old "T" formation, nor the tremendous running show put on by J. D. Smith, nor the fine defensive effort of Matt Hazeltine.

It has to be the puzzle of R. C. Owens, past, present and future.

In his fifth year with the 49ers, no one knows just how good this lanky flanker back really is, and I doubt if he knows himself. Every player has good days and bad days. R. C. goes this one better by having good and bad minutes or seconds.

When Owens came out of the College of Idaho he was a big question mark, as it is harder to judge the abilities of a man who is playing against lesser competition. His reputation as a good basketball player with a good pair of hands probably had a good deal to do with his making the team.

KEEP YOUR glasses on Owens during a game and you begin to wonder what he does to earn his keep. On running plays he seems to avoid all contact with the opposition for play after play, to the point of goofing off. Suddenly, POW! he hits a defensive tackle or line backer like the most devastating blocker in the game.

On a pass pattern, R.C. sometimes runs like old Stepin Fetchit, going nowhere but slowly. Call his number and he will take a pass over his shoulder half way down the other side of the field, with faster defenders trailing him in vain.

Everyone remembers the old "Alley Oop" with R.C. standing in the end zone surrounded by three or four defenders and outjumping them all to catch a long, high, Y. A. Tittle lob pass. This play alone kept Owens on the roster for a couple of years and gave him his nickname of "Oop."

THE CONCLUSION has to be R. C. Owens is just as good as he wants to be at any given moment.

The future of this puzzling man is even more of a question mark. Pro players usually sign for two years, and then renew the contract each year for two more. If they fail to sign for the second year they "play out their option" and become free agents, able to sign with any team or the highest bidder.

And "Oop" is playing out his option this year, because he was unhappy with the pay offered him on the renewal last year. So where does he go from here? That will be up to the 49ers and the guardian of the money bags, or some other club will own his pair of hands.

THIS DOUBLE-edged dilemma has more than one club sweating it out. If the Ooper gets a good real, many other top line players may follow his pattern. And on the other hand, those who do not take this gamble may be jealous of the higher salaries of free agent stars, thereby hurting the team effort.

SPITBALLS STILL NIX IN BASEBALL

TAMPA, FLA., (UPI) — It's tough news for the pitchers, but there'll be no spitballs thrown in the majors next season. Not legally, anyway.

Baseball's Playing Rules Committee made that official yesterday by voting down a proposal to legalize the spitters by an overwhelming margin of 8 to 1.

The committee, of course, couldn't do anything about a number of major league pitchers who throw spitballs illegally. Whitey Ford, the Yankees' 25-game winner, Pedro Ramos of the Twins, Early Wynn of the White Sox and Lew Burdette of the Braves are among those who have been accused of using spitters in violation of the rule.

"We decided to leave the rule the way it is after considerable discussion," said James Gallagher, chairman of the rules committee. "There doesn't seem to be any great need to give the pitchers another weapon.

"Besides, there was very little sentiment for any change," Gallagher added.

Tittle's Arm Carries Giants Big Step Closer To Pennant

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yelverton Abraham Tittle, like the fabled Rumpelstilskin, has a name that's virtually impossible to remember. But his exploits are hard to forget.

Acquired in an Aug. 15 trade that caused little stir, Tittle has been the No. 1 offensive weapon for the New York Giants in a series of stunning triumphs, the latest a 37-21 walloping of the Cleveland Browns yesterday.

Tittle, 34, with 12 years' experience in the National Football League, completed 18 of 27 passes for 253 yards against the Browns and kept the Giants rolling toward the Eastern Conference title with their fourth consecutive romp and ninth victory in their last 10 games.

Under the Bald Eagle's guidance, the revitalized New York offensive has accounted for an amazing 170 points in the last four games as the Giants built and maintained a one-game lead over the defending league champion Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles (8-3) kept pace yesterday, whipping the Dallas Cowboys 35-13 behind Sonny Jurgenson's five touchdown passes. They still have three games left, including a Dec. 10 meeting with the Giants at Philadelphia.

In the Western Conference, Green Bay, 17-9 winner over Detroit Thursday, holds a commanding lead over the Lions and San Francisco 49ers, tied for the runner-up spot at 6-4-1. The Packers, at 9-2, can wrap it up with one more victory. They meet the Giants at Milwaukee next.

OTHER GAMES

The 49ers remained in contention by beating Minnesota 38-28. In other games, Chicago edged Los Angeles 28-24. Baltimore thumped Washington 27-6 and Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 20-27.

Despite Tittle's prolific passing, the Giants scored all their touchdowns on the ground with Y. A. rambling five yards for one in the key clash that has just about eliminated the Browns (7-4) from title contention. Bobby Gaiters scored twice, on runs of one and 11 yards, Erich Barnes got the other on a 35-yard jaunt with an interception and Pat Summerall contributed three field goals.

Milt Plum got two scores for Cleveland with 43 and 15-yard tosses to Ray Renfro. The Giants held league rushing leader Jimmy Brown to 68 yards in 20 carries before a disappointed crowd of 80,455. That throng helped push the weekend attendance total for the league to 344,466, just under the seven-game record of 353,084 set Nov. 5.

CASARES STARS

The Bears (6-5), with fullback Rick Casares scoring three times, needed a 55-yard touchdown pass from Billy Wade to Willie Galimore with two minutes left to win it. Zeke Bratkowski passed for three Rams' (3-8) scores, including an 84-yarder to Ollie Matson.

Johnny Unitas connected with Jim Mutscheller for a 10-yard touchdown flip in the first period and when Steve Mhyra added the conversion the Colts (6-5) had all they needed to extend the inept Redskins (0-10-1) winless streak to 21 games.

Sub quarterback Rudy Bukich took over for Bobby Layne, engineered a 44-yard drive that spelled success for the Steelers (5-6) when Lou Michaels kicked an 18-yard field goal with 17 seconds left to beat the Cards (4-7). It was Michaels' third of the day.

WASHINGTON DRAFTS HAMLIN

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Washington Senators selected Ken Hamlin, 25, shortstop of the Toronto Club of the International League, to open the annual major league baseball players today.

Hamlin, who originally had been drafted by the Los Angeles club of the American League for $75,000 in the special draft in 1960, cost the Senators $25,000. He played with Los Angeles last year as well as with Toronto. A fine defensive player, Hamlin batted .207 in 42 games at Los Angeles and .264 in 97 at Toronto.

In all, 20 teams participated in the draft, including the two new National League clubs, Houston and the New York Mets.

The San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago White Sox all passed.

Big Game History; Future Of Schools' Teams Is Issue

By JACK STEVENSON

STANFORD (AP) — With their Big Game now history, it's time for both California and 20-7 victor Stanford to look to their football futures.

Both are optimistic with good freshmen prospects expected to bolster the varsities in 1962.

Coach Jack Curtis of Stanford, with one year left in his five-year agreement, stemmed rumors that he would leave the Indians when he said, "I hope to fulfill my contract. Next year will be the best since I've been here. We'll have more depth and quickness. I've been trying to build and the things I've been trying to get done are just starting to culminate."

Coach Marv Levy of California sees a longer haul, saying "Give us two good freshman teams, back-to-back, and we can play championship football. The current frosh are promising — very much so — but we need a second incoming crop just as good, if not better. We mean to get them."

California's freshmen were undefeated this fall.

Stanford was pleased with the results of its second year of coast-to-coast recruiting of athletes who meet the school's scholastic requirements.

Yet more pleasing was the victory over California, the first Big Game triumph for the Indians in four years and their first Big Five win since the conference was formed three years ago.

The result left both teams with 1-3 records in the Big Five. Stanford wound up 4-6 overall and California 1-7-1.

Stars were many—substitute Jim Smith, who engineered the offense all afternoon, Stan Lindskog, who accounted for 72 yards in a 76-yard scoring drive, and fullback Hal Steuber, who arrived as a battering ram off the injured list.

Still Levy credited the Stanford defense with making the big difference as he said. "Stanford played better defense than we did throughout the season. The team with the better defense will win 90 per cent of the time."

Smith won his athletic fame as the star right-handed pitcher on the Stanford baseball team the past three seasons. He won a football letter in 1958 as a reserve and didn't turn out for the squad last year.

With his baseball eligibility ended, he joined the grid squad again this fall but hurt his right shoulder in pre-season drills. With Steve Thurlow out with mononucleosis and Chuck Butler down with a knee injury, Rod Sears and Smith were the available quarterbacks for the Big Game. But Sears suffered from the flu so after the first Stanford offensive series, Smith took over.

DESPITE WATER

Despite pouring rain, he threw pass strikes to Frank Patitucci for 19 yards and to Lindskog for 16 in a 55-yard scoring drive climaxed by Ken Babapian's one-yard plunge on the second quarter's first play.

Later in the period, halfback Gary Craig circled end for 24 yards and a touchdown after taking a pitchout from Smith. The preceding play, the quarterback had hit an 11-yard pass to Chris Jessen. In the third quarter, it was Lindskog turning in runs of 49, 2 and 21 to set up the third touchdown.

California finally scored on a four-yard hootleg run by Randy Gold after guard John Erby recovered a Stanford fumble at the Indian 10.

WEST COAST SAGGING

UCLA's Bowl Job: Regain Prestige

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's Bruins draw the Rose Bowl assignment and with it the big job of trying to restore West Coast football prestige that sagged this year with intersectional losses.

The Uclans won the bowl berth with a 10-7 victory over Southern California Saturday in their finale of the regular season and Trojan Coach Johnny McKay commented:

"The Bruins are a good, sound team. I think people will be surprised by their showing in the Rose Bowl."

An opponent for UCLA will be chosen by the Big Five representatives later this week or possibly not until early next week. Big Ten champion Ohio State draws the most mention and should the Buckeyes be chosen and accept, the Pasadena game would see a rematch.

Ohio State beat the Bruins 13-3 last Oct. 7. UCLA also lost to Michigan and Washington in compiling a 7-3 record and a winning 3-1-0 in the Big Five.

Last Saturday's traditional battles along the coast all lived up to their advance billings as hard fought affairs.

Halfback Charlie Mitchell ran 23 yards with less than two minutes to play to give Washington a 21-17 victory over Washington State. A fumble provided Oregon State a 6-2 triumph over Oregon and unsung quarterback Jim Smith engineered a 20-7 victory for Stanford over California.

Only Oregon State plays this week, closing out its season at the University of Houston.

UCLA tailback Bobby Smith provided the winning touchdown for the Bruins in the third quarter of a rain drenched game by fighting six yards for a touchdown. Smith had booted a 31-yard field goal after Mike Haffner set it up with a 61-yard run.

That came in the second quarter but the lead shifted to USC when Trojan quarterback Pete Beathard ran a quick kick back 52 yards for a touchdown.

UCLA dominated the game as the Trojans crossed the midfield stripe only twice.

Washington's Mitchell ran his 23 yards to cap a 64-yard drive bringing victory after Washington State led 14-12 at the half and 17-15 after three quarters.

An early-season 21-14 loss to California cost Washington the title and a chance for a third trip to the Rose Bowl, where the Huskies twice had defended Western honor with victories over Wisconsin and Minnesota. This time they finished 2-1-1 in the conference, tied with Southern California. Cal and Stanford both wound up at 1-3.

Alumni Force Andy Of Tulane To Quit As Football Coach

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Andy Pilney, under fire from disgruntled alumni and fans, quit today as head football coach at Tulane after eight seasons, two of them successful ones.

Dr. Herbert Longenecker, Tulane president, announced Pilney's resignation less than two days after the Southeastern Conference team finished its season with a 62-0 shellacking by fourth-ranked Louisiana State.

Tulane had a 2-8 mark for the year and an over-all record of 25-49-6 since Pilney became head coach in 1954.

Tommy O'Boyle, one-time Tulane star who had been Pilney's chief assistant and offensive line coach, will serve as acting head coach while a five-man committee makes recommendations for a permanent head coach.

Pilney, 48-year-old former Notre Dame halfback, said he was leaving Tulane with no idea whether he would continue coaching.

Trial Of Alleged Basketball Fixer Began Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Trial of Aaron Wagman, 29-year-old convicted football fixer accused of bribery and attempted bribery in the college basketball scandal, is scheduled to begin in General Sessions Court today.

The grand jury investigating the basketball scandal, that numbers 37 players from 22 colleges, returned an indictment April 27 naming Wagman on 37 counts of conspiracy, bribery and attempted bribery.

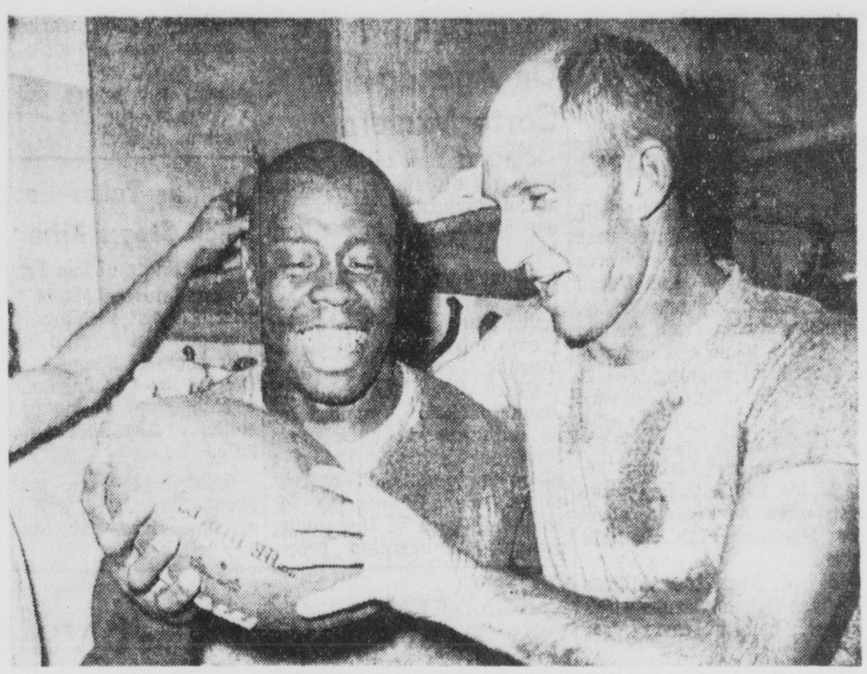
If convicted, Wagman could receive a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison or be fined $10,000 on each count.

Rams' Linebacker Is Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP)—William Jobko, 26, a linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, was hospitalized with head injuries and chest pains after the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears yesterday.

Coach Bob Waterfield of the Rams said he believed Jobko suffered injuries to his head in the second quarter. He was taken to Michael Reese Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said Jobko's condition was satisfactory.



GETS GAME BALL

Bob Gaiters, left, rookie fullback from New Mexico State, receives the game ball in the New York Giants' dressing room after yesterday's 37-21 Giant victory over the Cleveland Browns. Admiring Gaiters' trophy is Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle, right, who scored a touchdown and brilliantly completed 18 of 27 passes for 253 yards. Gaiters scored twice and gained 63 yards in 15 carries. (AP Wirephoto)

Champ Bowler Says Movies Did Trick

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Carter isn't a movie star, he's a bowler, but movies helped him win his fourth World's Invitational bowling title in five years yesterday.

The St. Louis athlete credited his blonde wife, Laverne, with helping him win the $7,500 first prize in the tournament.

"I'd been having quite a bit of trouble in the qualifying rounds," Carter said, "and I was throwing several bad balls each game although I couldn't figure out why."

"However, on the morning of the semi-finals," he continued, "my wife, Laverne, had some movies developed and I could see that I wasn't bending my left knee enough and consequently was throwing the ball from too high a position. I corrected this in the semi-finals and finals and you know the rest."

The rest was that Carter, who usually wins going away, had to rally in the final two games of the 100 game grind to nose out Ray Bluth. Second place money of $3,750 went to Bluth, who also is from St. Louis.

The women's division was won by Marge Merrick of Columbus, Ohio, who won two out of three games from Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., the defending champion, in the final position round. First place was worth $4,000.

Bressoud Traded To Boston Club

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — An exchange of shortstops between Boston and the new Houston club, sending Don Buddin to the Colts and Eddie Bressoud to the Red Sox, marked the first player trade of the baseball convention which got under way officially today.

The Red Sox-Colts swap was expected to spur further trades brewing since the three-week inter-league trading period began Nov. 21. The only other inter-league deal made so far was Washington's sale of shortstop Coot Veal to Pittsburgh last Tuesday.

Raiders Have 3 Chances To Crawl From AFL Cellar

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders have three more chances—all at home—to lift themselves from the cellar in the Western Division of the American Football League.

The first chance comes next Sunday at San Francisco's Candlestick Park against Buffalo, one of two teams the Raiders defeated during their disappointing 2-9 season.

Oakland has lost three straight since their 31-22 victory over the Bills three weeks ago and six of their last seven games.

The latest setback came here yesterday against Dallas as Abner Haynes put on a one-man show to lead the Texans to a 43-11 win.

Haynes scored five touchdowns, setting an AFL one-game record for touchdowns, total points and rushing. His performance snapped a six-game losing streak for Dallas.

Dallas rolled up 494 yards total offense, including 284 yards on the ground.

George Fleming kicked a 45-yard field goal and quarterback Nick Papac drove across from the 1-yard line for Oakland's points.

Papac replaced Tom Flores late in the third period. Flores made good on 17 of 26 passes for 137 yards.

Bowl Battle Now Up To Committees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battle for the postseason bowl spots comes off the gridiron and into eight committee conference rooms at as many sites today, with Alabama's final bid for a flock of honors and the annual war between Army and Navy this weekend temporarily sidetracked.

Only the Orange Bowl committee has finished its work, having Colorado and Louisiana State set for its Jan. 1, 1962 extravaganza.

Now it remains for the Rose Bowl committee to tap Ohio State as an opponent for UCLA in the Rose Bowl; for the Cotton Bowl committee to select Mississippi to face Texas, and for the Sugar Bowl committee to sweat out 'Bama's game against Auburn before inviting it to play Southwest Conference co-champ Arkansas in New Orleans.

These three are pretty well decided on pairings, with 'Bama Coach Bear Bryant, having decided on the Sugar Bowl if picked still trying to get a perfect 10-0 season, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with LSU and most likely the top spot in the final Associated Press poll the following week, bringing with it the national championship.

FRIDAY WINNER

Georgia Tech is already in the Gator Bowl, but that committee must pick between Miami (Fla.), a Friday night winner over Northwestern, and Penn State, which beat Pitt 47-26. The Hurricanes wind up against Florida this week and may get the nod, having beaten Penn State 25-8 earlier in the season.

With Missouri having eliminated itself from any bowl consideration after a 10-7 loss to Kansas' Jayhawks and with Syracuse already in the Liberty Bowl, there remains a pool of bowl eligibles that must fill both spots in the Bluebonnet, Gotham and National Trophy bowls, and the other spot in Philadelphia's Dec. 16 Liberty affair.

These include: Auburn, Kansas, Utah State, Wyoming, Rice, Duke and Maryland, in addition to Penn State and Miami.

Kansas has a blanket invitation to the Gotham, Dec. 9 in New York, and is also a Liberty favorite, along with Duke. Auburn has been given the nod by Washington's Dec. 30 National Trophy affair. Neither has accepted.

Ohio State jumped to the head of the Rose Bowl line with a crashing 50-20 victory over Michigan which wrapped up the Big Ten title as Minnesota lost to Wisconsin 23-21. UCLA won the Big Five title and the host spot with a 10-7 victory over Southern California.

'BAMA IDLE

Arkansas' 28-0 victory over Texas Tech tied it with Texas for the SWC crown and sent the Razorbacks into the Sugar Bowl. 'Bama was idle while Auburn beat Florida 32-15.

Texas nailed down the Cotton Bowl and co-SWC title on Thanksgiving Day. Ole Miss will probably give its answer to a bid after its game this week against Mississippi State. The Rebels also had last weekend off.

Colorado nailed down the Big Eight title with a 35-0 victory over Iowa State, in addition to its Orange Bowl trip. Virginia's 28-16 upset of Maryland killed the Terps' chances for the Gator Bowl.

Elsewhere, Rutgers finished its first perfect season with a 32-19 victory over Columbia, which had already nailed down a share of the Ivy League crown. Harvard got the other share with a 27-0 victory over Yale.

In other top games Saturday, Michigan State kept Illinois winless this year, 34-7, Iowa romped over Notre Dame 42-21, Syracuse beat Boston College 28-13, Dartmouth knocked Princeton out of a share of the Ivy League title 24-6 and Rice beat TCU 35-16 to stay in the running for a bowl bid.

Resto Shows the new look in telephone numbers

All-numeral phone numbers come to Marin County

All listings in the April, 1962, Marin County telephone directory will have all-numeral phone numbers. Numerals are being substituted for letters in everyone's number. Since the numerals correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, dialing itself will be unchanged.

The changeover to the new type of numbers will take place gradually:

- Anyone getting telephone service in Marin County for the first time, moving to a new address, or getting a new phone number, is now being given an all-numeral number.
- If your last name starts with any letter from A through E, your number converted to all numerals on November 8. Listings for the rest of the alphabet will be converted by early December.

New number plates for your telephone dial are being mailed or an installer will call when your number is converted. Also, Information Operators will have your all-numeral phone number. However, since no dialing change is involved, people will still reach you if they dial your number as listed in the present Marin County telephone directory.

These new phone numbers are part of a new nation-wide numbering system called All Number Calling. It's needed to keep ahead of America's growth. Twenty years ago there were less than 23 million phones in the U.S. Right now there are more than 74 million, and by 1975 there may be more than 160 million phones. This growth is rapidly exhausting usable letter combinations for prefix names.

By changing to an all-numeral system, enough numbers will be available to keep up with telephone growth in Marin County and the rest of the Nation.

BY YEAR 2000

Trend Indicates Men Will Be Taller And 20 Pounds Heavier

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Recent predictions that the average woman by the year 2000 will be an Amazon compared with her sister of today have caused whimpers of despair among the men.

Will the predicted increase in size of females mean that by the turn of the next century they will tower over the men? That all clothes closets will have to be marked "hers?"

No, comforts a spokesman for the men. Both will need more closet space, because the men are growing larger on the average too. They will need roomier cars, roomier furniture, and at the rate they are expanding both vertically and horizontally, higher ceilings and wider rooms.

J. E. Jeter, vice president in charge of sales for one of the world's largest manufacturers of men's knitwear, projected the growth of men for the next 39 years, based on company statistics kept since before World War I.

AVERAGE GROWTH

Jeter predicts that by the start of the 21st century, the average male will be four inches taller and weigh almost 20 pounds more than his counterpart today.

Prompting his company's research were statistics recently recited in this column on the predicted growth of girls. These figures had come from a manufacturer of foundation garments based on the way its garment sizing had changed since the 1900's.

These showed that, as of 1900, The average woman was 5 feet, 2 inches tall; by 1960, was 5 feet, 4.5 inches; and by 2000, should stand 5 feet, 6.5 inches. In weight, the figures for the same years were 114, 136 and 141.5 pounds.

As for the men, Jeter said, "We have watched a steady increase in men's garment sizes since before World War I. Add to this observation the expected advances in diet and nutrition, and you come up with a "pretty good picture of what the man of tomorrow will be like."

Jeter said the average male by 2000 will be 6 feet, 2 inches tall, and weigh 176 pounds.

WAISTLINE PROBLEM

"He will have a waistline problem, though, unless he gets more exercise," said Jeter. Unless he is careful, the push-button existence ahead will cause his waistline to spread from the 1961 average of 35 inches to 42.

Here are Jeters comparisons of past, current and future sizes of men:

Height: World War I, 5 feet, 7.3 inches; World War II, 5 feet, 8.4 inches; 1960, 5 feet, 10 inches; the year 2000, 6.2 inches.

Weight: World War I, 134 pounds; World War II, 146 pounds; 1960, 153 pounds; 2000, 176 pounds.

Waist: World War I, 28 inches; World War II, 33 inches; 1960, 35 inches; 2000, 42 inches.

Tamalpais Centre Yule Program Set

Tamalpais Centre Women's Club will have its Christmas party Friday, with the program to begin at 2 p.m. Entitled "A Christmas Story," the entertainment will be presented by Mrs. Cargill Hall, introduced by Mrs. Glen Gall, vice president.

Tea will follow the program, served by Mrs. Linton Whitby, chairman, and Mesdames Thomas Pring, L. F. Wilkie and Wallace Weber. At the tea tables will be Mesdames Thomas Peryam and Christina Farlatti.

A business meeting will precede the program at 1 p.m. and the board will meet at 11 a.m.

LAGAN UNIT WILL MARK 57TH YEAR

Lagan Institute, Young Ladies Institute, will celebrate its 57th birthday with a dinner tomorrow at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant. The 7 p.m. event will be a gathering of regular members and charter members to celebrate the group's anniversary. Miss Mildred Young is chairman.

Skimmer At Beach

"Skimmer" is the word that sums up the newest look in beachwear. Swim suit designers favor the suggested fit instead of the tight fit to suits for next summer. Some bikinis are still around, but the more modest two-piece swimsuits are best sellers, report California sportswear designers.

Using Foods From The Sea Is Goal Of FAO Officials

Did you ever try thin little white wafers like cigarette paper, dipped in sauce? You may have been eating seaweed.

Did you enjoy these little black mushrooms on rice at your favorite Chinese restaurant? These "mushrooms" probably were made of algae.

For man at last has begun to learn how to find some other food in the sea beside fish.

Experts of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization say that whereas much already has been done to make foods out of sea weed, the great challenge is how to feed men on vitamin and mineral rich plankton.

SOUP OF THE SEA

Plankton, FAO experts explain, is the "soup of the sea," microscopic plant and animal life floating in most of the warm water oceans, in vast quantity and wide dispersal. Sardines, herring and anchovies live on it. It furnishes a major diet even for huge whales, sharks and tuna.

The trouble so far has been that the plankton is so widely scattered and so small that sufficient quanties cannot be harvested economically.

FAO experts said laboratories in Japan, the United States, the United Kingdom and Germany have been trying to work out some system of cultivating plankton in concentration in controlled pools. So far it has not worked.

AS HUMAN FOOD

Sea weed so far has shown more practical results, and already has been used as human food and feed for livestock. The sea weed or marine algae differs from the plankton in that it grows larger and is attached to the sea bottom or rocks.

As an additive for livestock feed it is produced in Canada, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Holland, Ireland and Norway, and largely imported by West Germany. Production is well over 50,000 tons a year.

As human food it is widely used in Japan, China, and other countries of the Far East. Some sources estimate that sea weed now constitutes 25 per cent of the daily diet in parts of Japan. (AP)

Her Husband Preaches Double Standard While Wife Fumes

"I'm mad enough to spit in my husband's eye!" a mother writes, "because he preaches the double standard. Our boy is 17 and our girl is 16. My husband tells our son it is okay to neck and pet. He says boys should sow wild oats. At the same time he is almost insanely protective of our girl. He won't let her have a date. He rants at her about necking. The poor girl is confused. Does my husband make sense to you? How can he be so inconsistent?"

Many families face your problem. As I see it your husband is not inconsistent. If he believes it is right for boys to sow wild oats, it follows that girls need much protection. Boys are threats to their welfare.

I disagree with him, however. Nobody has a right to violate our moral code. If chastity is important for girls, it is important for boys. If petting is wrong for females, it is wrong for males. Some parents now tell both boys and girls that necking is okay. I've received scores of letters from parents who defended their youngsters' right to hug, kiss and pet when dating. They are really asking for trouble.

I don't think we should compromise. Of course many kids will disregard our advice—they're human. However, their physical and emotional responses come like lightning. They have poor judgment. They're easily swept into serious wrongdoing. In other words, boys as well as girls need protection. Necking and petting are wrong. Wild oats are wrong. Your husband is badly mistaken.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do you think boys and girls should be separated for school sex instruction? Our girl is in the sixth grade. The whole class is being taught about human reproduction. She says the kids frequently snicker. Is this proper?

V.B.

(A) No. The boys and girls should be separated. The instruction must be given in ways which prevent smutty overtones. The teaching should be done by carefully selected and thoroughly trained special teachers.

SEW SIMPLE

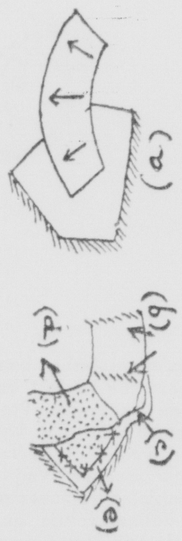
System Devised On Out-Grown Clothes

By EUNICE FARMER

This week's tailor trix winner is Mrs. E. H. Leffler, Charlotte, N.C., with this suggestion.

"Because I have twin girls, I have double expense of keeping them attractively clothed without the chance of handing down outgrown clothing from one to the other. Therefore, I devised several ideas of my own for using outgrown clothing.

"I combine blouses that have become too short, with outgrown slips or petticoats. Cut a slip off at the place which will make it the proper length when combined with a blouse. Sew the two together and the result is a blouse-slip combination which eliminates the problem of a short blouse always coming out of the skirt band."



"I would like to add a fur collar to a suit I am making. I have a large piece of fur which could be used for the collar if you could give me a few tips on handling fur."

Mrs. K.P.T.

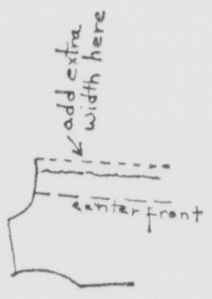
Dear Mrs. K.P.T.:

With little care, it wouldn't be too difficult to make a fur collar to add to your suit. Trim the seam allowance from your pattern. The hairs of the fur must all go in one direction, which means that piecing is usually necessary. Mark your pattern, as illustrated, with arrows indicating the way the fur should run (a).

Cut each piece of the fur carefully, cutting pelt only, the hair of the fur should not be cut. Sew the sections together just barely catching the edges together with tiny whipping stitches (b). Use a strong, waxed thread and only join the pelts, the hair will conceal the seams.

The edges of the fur should be finished with a narrow cotton tape. Whip the outer edges to the edge of the pelt (c). The fur may be backed with lambswool and then covered with muslin in order to pad the fur (d).This padding will be held in place by catch-stitching the inner edge of the tape over it (e).

Slip-stitch the edge of the tape to the collar of your garment. If the collar is large, you may also add a line of running stitches along center of collar to hold fur in place. This is done from the wrong side of collar.



"I have just finished a suit and was so proud of it until I wore it for the first time. I used the new very large buttons on it, and when the suit is buttoned, my blouse shows through the end of the buttonhole. What did I do wrong?"

Mrs. M. S.

Dear Mrs. M. S.:

I'm afraid there will be many women sharing your problem this year. If your pattern calls for the very large buttons, you will probably have no trouble. However, if you are adding large buttons to an old pattern, you will have to make an additional allowance for them.

The center front of your garment is never changed. In order to find the minimum allowance necessary for the large buttons, measure the width of the button. Take half the width of the button, plus ½ inch. This is the space needed from the center front to the seamline (not the cut edge of garment). Remember to add the same amount to the facing. You will probably need a small hook and eye at the edge of the coat so it will lay flat at the collar.

If your garment is top stitched about 1-inch from the outer edge, or if you are using a very wide binding, you will also need extra allowance between the center front and the edge of your garment. It wouldn't look attractive to have the button cover this detail.

Please send your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal.

Marinites Take Family Vacation Including USSR

In case you are planning now for the next family vacation, don't neglect the possibility of taking the whole group to Russia.

The experiences in the USSR of a Greenbrae family, the Frank M. Browns, formed the highlight of their recent five-week tour of Europe and in Britain. As they flew from Stockholm to Leningrad it was announced that the Russian astronaut was circling the earth, and later in Moscow they witnessed the parade to honor the new national hero from their hotel window.

As three of only about 400 American youngsters to visit the USSR, the Browns' children, Jeff, a University of California student; Fay and Madeleine found much to interest them, including the Kremlin Museum, The Hermitage, consisting of five buildings of art treasurers; the Winter Palace, the famous Moscow subways, the Moscow University, the GUM department store and tomb from which Stalin's body was recently removed.

They found the people friendly, but the group of six, which included Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Mabelle Purser of Greenbrae, found the language barrier a hindrance. From the time they landed in Leningrad until they left Moscow, the group was guided by an Intourist representative.

Generally they found Moscow to be a bustling, prosperous city compared with Leningrad, which had suffered greatly from the seige during World War II and has not been fully repaired. They found many people milling around in the GUM store but, not speaking Russian, the Browns found it hard to know whether many goods were being sold.

During the three days in Leningrad and five days in Moscow the family had no unpleasant incidents and was able to take street scenes and other pictures.

At Moscow University they met a scientist attending a convention of bio-chemists who spoke English, and Mr. Brown exchanged views with him on the USSR and the United States. Jeff, too, was able to talk briefly with English-speaking students in Moscow.

The Browns included visits to East and West Berlin, finding the former "like a graveyard," and leaving just before the wall went up. They also visited Sweden, Norway, Paris, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, where the festival was in progress, and Amsterdam before flying to Vancouver and home.

Generally they viewed their Russian trip as "highly interesting," reporting the food plain but good, the hotels suitable and the people friendly.

Today is Monday, Nov. 27, the 331st day of the year with 34 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1901, the War Department authorized the creation of the Army War College to provide instruction for commissioned officers.

In 1945, President Harry Truman named Gen. George C. Marshall as his special representative to China.

In 1951, Spanish sources indicated the U.S. had dropped plans for establishing air bases in Spain because of inadequate communication systems.

In 1956, President Dwight D. Eisenhower denied differences over the Suez crisis had weakened the U.S., British and French accord for NATO

A thought for the day. English writer Rudyard Kipling said: "The silliest woman can manage a clever man; but it needs a very clever woman to manage a fool!

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Married Man Loses Out To Opponent At Bridge

A French statesman once said that no crime is too great for a married man with a family to support. Clearly, this accounts for the way some bridge hands are played.

Opening lead — ♣ 5

South (a married man) ruffed the second club, led a heart to dummy and tried a spade finesse. This play did nothing to support his family.

West won with the queen of spades and forced South to ruff another club. South hopefully led out the ace and king of spades, but this left West with the only remaining trump. After ruffing two clubs, South could draw only three of West's trumps.

West ruffed the third diamond and cashed his last two clubs. South was down on a hand that should have given him game and rubber.

KEEP CONTROL: The secret of playing a hand of this sort is to keep control of the trumps. You cannot afford to let the opponents lead clubs since that will reduce your trump length

If you look ahead, you will see that loss of the spade finesse will give the enemy one more chance to lead a club. This is just what you want to avoid.

See what happens if you don't take a spade finesse. Win the second trick by ruffing a club and lead out the ace and king of spades. Now forget about the two outstanding trumps. Just start the diamonds and keep plugging away at them.

West will make his queen and four of trumps, but you stay one trump ahead of him. When West ruffs a diamond, he has only one trump left and you still have two trumps. You therefore keep control of the hand and lose only one club and two trumps.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your left, bids one spade and your partner doubles. The next player passes. You hold:

♠ 6 5
♥ Q 10 5 4 2
♦ 9 6 4
♣ A K 6

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. The jump response to a take-out double shows about nine to eleven points. If partner has minimum values for his double, he can pass; otherwise he will go on to game.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

North Marin Peace Group Is Formed

People for Peace, North Marin group recently formed to explore avenues toward easing world tensions without war, discussed fallout shelters at its regular meeting last week and concluded such shelters "provide only an illusion of security," Mrs. Bertram S. Koel of Terra Linda, newly elected chairman, announced.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. Giles Gibson, secretary; Mrs. Evert de-Vry, treasurer; Mrs. Norman Gurin, chairman of the public action committee; Mrs. Walter Simich, chariman of the government action committee, all of Terra Linda, and Leon Morgenstern, chairman of the education committee, and Mrs. Robert Conradt, librarian, both of Lucas Valley.

In the discussion of shelters it was pointed out that testimony prepared for the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy estimates total American dead following a thermonuclear war at 100 million, Mrs. Koel said.

This estimate is based on on studies by the Institute for Defense Analysis, and presupposes a civil defense-trained and shelter-protected population.

People for Peace believes support of universal disarmament and a stronger, more effective United Nations are a more positive program for survival than construction of fallout shelters, she reported.

The next meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morgenstern of 599 Loganberry Drive, Lucas Valley.

All persons interested in exploring avenues toward world peace are welcome to attend or to write to People for Peace, Box 242, San Rafael, Mrs. Koel announced.

Elected President

Frank R. Little of 160 Stanford Avenue, Mill Valley, has been elected president of the Almonte Improvement Club. Other officers elected at last Wednesday's meeting of the club were Hugh Brown, vice president; Charles Kahrs, secretary, and Richard Daw, treasurer.

Today's Rockets May Be Model Ts Of Space Age

By JOHN WHEELER

SUNNYVALE (AP) — If scientists at work on nuclear-powered spaceship designs succeed in conquering their formidable engineering problems, the rockets of today will be known as the Model Ts of the space age.

Some scientists say application of nuclear power to rocket flight may carry the United States into the lead in the race for the planets. They claim there are signs the Soviet Union lags in this field.

Nuclear-powered space vehicle designs are scheduled for submission to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the end of this month.

Aerojet General Corp. already is developing a nuclear fission and liquid hydrogen engine under a NASA contract. And the Atomic Energy Commission has accelerated its program to perfect a lightweight reactor at its Nevada Camp Mercury testing grounds.

The advantage of nuclear rockets over conventional liquid and solid fuel models has been compared to the superiority of speedy, long ranging U. S. atomic submarines over their diesel predecessors.

Dr. Harold Plank of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. here says a nuclear powered upper stage in a manned interplanetary space rocket system could provide twice the speed and double the payload of present rockets of the same weight.

Krafft Ehricke, General Dynamics Corp. rocket scientist, has been quoted, "Space will be conquered only by manned nuclear-powered vehicles."

Dr. Plank, who is in charge of the nuclear rocket program for his firm, says in addition to the nuclear rocket's power and range, it would be more reliable and much cheaper than conventional models.

Lockheed is one of several companies scrambling hard for a NASA contract to build the first flyable nuclear rocket.

The maiden flight of a U. S. nuclear rocket may come in 1965 or 1966, the AEC predicts.

Nuclear and conventional rockets are quite similar in that both use chemical fuels, turning them into rapidly expanding gases that propel the rockets in the same manner that a released toy balloon whooshes around the room.

In nuclear rocket engines a jet of liquid hydrogen will be directed through holes in an atomic reactor where temperatures may reach about 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit. This is far higher than the burning temperature in conventional rockets of the same size and would cause much greater exhaust gas expansion and a corresponding boosti n thrust, according to Areojet.

An even bigger factor in expected performance of nuclear rockets would come because vast quantities of liquid oxygen used in conventional liquid rockets would be replaced by a lightweight atomic reactor and its comparatively tiny amount of uranium fuel.

One major problems in harnessing the atom for space exploration is the vast quantities of radiation which would be given off by the reactor.

For this reason, says Dr. Plank, nuclear-powered engines probably would not be used in the atmosphere of the earth or other planets.

Plans call for a chemical booster to lift the nuclear rocket into space where it would be discarded as the nuclear power plant took over propulsion. A final stage conventional rocket could provide the power for landing on a distant body and later relaunching the manned capsule and returning it to earth.

The final stage would provide another useful function. It would give the crew some of the necessary shielding during nuclear operations.

There is still no specific role assigned the nuclear rockets by NASA. Proponents hope that once their worth is proven they may be fitted into the moon landing program. They feel the future is virtually unlimited.

Drunken Drivers Are Given Fines

Two men and a woman driver were fined for drunken driving last week in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced Roy Melford Newgard, 50, of 277 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and Roland L. Hayes, 21, of 409 Drake Street, Marin City. Each drew $166 fine, six months probation, and for four months may drive only for work and necessary family errands.

Newgard was caught on Highway 101 last Oct. 20, and Hayes on Cole Drive in Marin City last Saturday.

Betty Grace O'Brien, 43, of 1565 Fourth Street, San Rafael, must pay $110 fine, remain on six months probation and for three months drive only for work and to visit her children. Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced her for driving while intoxicated along Center Boulevard in Fairfax on Nov. 6.

B-B Shots Reported

Charles Daniels Jr. told San Rafael police last week someone had fired B-B shots through windows at his home at 191 Deer Park and the home of his mother-in-law at 335 Summit Avenue, San Rafael.

Meeting On Recall Slated Tomorrow

The Alto District Assn. will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Alto firehouse to hear discussion of the movement to recall County Supervisor J. Walter Blair.

Chairman Franklin J. McClain of the Recall Blair Committee said residents of nearby communities including Sutton Manor and Enchanted Knolls have been invited.

He said both Blair and candidate for supervisor Peter H Behr have been invited. Blair will not attend, campaign manager Price Hall said. Behr has said he would appear.

Drake Teacher On Heart Unit

Sir Francis Drake High School science teacher Norman N. Goldstein of San Anselmo has been appointed to the research committee of the California Heart Assn.

Goldstein will serve on a sub-committee in charge of grants to college students who will work with professional researchers in physiology and medicine. He is on a half-time leave of absence from teaching while heading a $25,000 research program.

Industrial Prices Are Holding Steady

NEW YORK (UPI) — Consumers are still plagued by the high cost of living. But one major contributor to rising prices in the past is absent just now. That is advancing industrial prices.

Such prices, in fact, are holding remarkably steady despite the recovery of industry from the last recession. In other postwar recoveries these prices have advanced sharply.

And because of this stability there is a growing hope that the general rise in the cost of living can be held in check this time. Adding to the prospect is an increasing belief that labor cost advances will be moderate in the next few months, perhaps about in line with offsetting increases in productivity.

WEAKENED

Some industrial prices have weakened during the recovery —notably aluminum and other non-ferrous metals. Steel prices haven't risen in spite of all the talk about it a few weeks ago when labor costs rose.

Prices of some building materials have dropped, with excess capacity or changing construction demands credited.

Many other industrial prices are holding in a narrow range close to recession levels.

Industrialists point to this to argue that any recent rises in consumer prices can be laid at other doors.

Services have been the most active risers in recent months. Some say this is a delayed reaction to earlier cost boosts at the manufacturing and labor levels.

ADDED COSTS

In general the rise in prices during and since the recession has been traced largely to the added costs of distribution, processing and retailing. The cost of the basic materials have remained fairly steady.

Food is its own story. Its original price is influenced by weather and government supports. After that the processing and distributing costs are added. Often the store price seems far away from the farm price.

But this time at least such creeping advances in the cost of living as have shown up in recent months can't be traced to soaring industrial prices.

In the recovery from the 1949 recession the jump in industrial prices was 15 per cent. After the 1954 recession industrial prices rose by 10 per cent, and after the 1958 slump, 3 per cent.

PERCENTAGE

Noting this diminishing percentage and the lack of any jump this time, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland wonders if industrial prices haven't achieved a stability that could even withstand the impact of increasing defense and other government spending.

The price stability was noted well before the recovery period. One of the major disappointments — to consumers at least—was that the cost of living continued to edge higher through most of the recession months. Prices didn't fall just because industrial activity did.

The reason given was that industrial materials might be in less demand but th cost of producing goods and services depended more on other things —labor, convenience processing, transportation, distribution outlets.

But if industrial prices should take a sudden spurt, you'd be sure to feel it in time in your monthly bills. That they are stable now is one happy factor for consumers to note.

Pet Comes Out Of Change Box

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)— When Gary Sutton, 14, and Carl Bishop, 13, went on a shopping trip, they parked Gary's pet, Clem, in a telephone booth. When the boys came back, they found Clem stuck in a coin return slot with only his tail showing.

A telephone repairman rescued Clem, a hamster, by dismantling the coin box.

Stinson Beach Fire Protection District commissioners will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the firehouse. They did not meet last week because of the holiday.

Fights Draw Suspended Sentences

Five Marin City residents drew 30-day suspended jail sentences from Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court Friday as result of two fights side by side in a parking [illegible] 621 Bridgeway, Sausalito. It took six law officers to quell the fights Friday morning.

Sausalito police, sheriff's deputies and California Highway Patrolmen arrested the three women and two men shortly after Thursday midnight.

Warned and given suspended sentences were Barbara Jean Bailey, 26, laundry worker of 62 Cole Drive, Mrs. Clenzell Marbury, 23, of 107 Drake Avenue, Alberta Roary, 32, of 409 Drake Avenue, Nayland Mitchell, 20, of Box 12, and Charles Blande, 19, of House 223.

Miss Bailey was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp lacerations after being slugged with a tire iron.

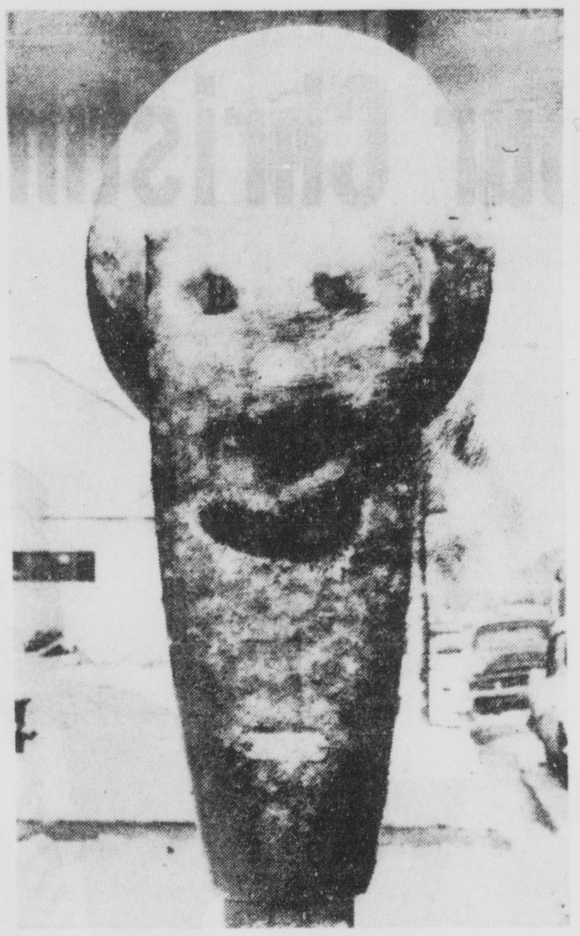
Nominated For Europe Trips

Four Tamalpais High School students have been nominated for tours abroad under the American Field Service, Mrs. Richard De Lew, chairman of the Tam AFS, announced today.

Named as candidates for the summer program are Katherine Ann Bloom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Bloom; Gregory Lynn Corey, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Mark Cory, and Laurie K. Pemberton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Pemberton. All are Tam seniors and live in Mill Valley.

Nominated to spend the school year of 1962-63 abroad was Stephen Yeazell, son of Mrs. Jeanette Yeazell of Sausalito.

Final selection is made at American Field Service headquarters in New York.



WHIMSICAL WITH WEATHER

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

Automation Is Moving Ahead —But Not Without Man's Aid

Automation in business and industry is moving ahead about as rapidly as people are available to make it work. New computers are able to do fantastic jobs in seconds that would require months of time by a man with a simple calculator, and electronic replacement of manpower for such jobs is inevitable.

Paradoxically the computers would be useless without someone to tell them what to do. The manpower is still needed—but not as much, perhaps, and differently skilled.

One school that apparently practices what it teaches is the Automation Institute of America, now registering applicants in Marin County for training in computer programming at its offices at 821 Market Street, San Francisco.

Students are not only taught how to feed the machines information by coding, but are to some extent machine taught. An unusual device called Autotutor employed by the institute imparts information and then checks back to determine how much and how fast the operator learned.

Don Purdy, registrar in Marin, says the institute will be giving applicants an initial interview on November 30 at 1040 B Street, San Rafael, third floor library conference room, between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. to qualify those interested in the courses and save them the time of traveling to San Francisco for this purpose.

DONALD I. LAWLESS of San Anselmo, former president and director of Bishop Oil Co., has opened an office at 400 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, as petroleum consultant to financial institutions and oil companies.

His services will include valuation and appraisal of producing and non-producing oil properties and consultation on their exploration, development and operation. During his 13 years with Bishop he was also chief geologist and president of the company's subsidiary, Canadian Bishop Oil, Ltd.

A 280-HOUR COURSE in home good retailing will be offered by the newly formed National Home Furnishings Education Foundation. The organization will maintain headquarters in the Western Merchandise Mart, San Francisco.

The course is an attempt to raise the level of salesmanship from its somewhat hit-or-miss operation in the home furnishings industry.

Wesley Lachman, vice president and general manager of Lachman Bros., with stores in San Francisco, San Mateo, San Jose and San Rafael, will serve as president pro-tem of the foundation.

MARINDIVIDUALS: A. H. (Chris) Christensen of Terra Linda, KPIX advertising and sales promotion manager, will join the sales department as an account executive on Dec. 1. He replaces Aubrey Holman who's been made assistant manager of the Westinghouse TV station in Cleveland. . . Addison E. Mooney of Corte Madera is attending a life insurance sales education conference this week in Honolulu sponsored by the Western Life Insurance Co.

SPACE NEEDLE, Wash., will become a familiar postmark next year. The Post Office Department has designated that name as its postmark cancellation on mail handled by the postal station at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

A special commemorative stamp will also be issued for use during the run of the fair—April 21 to Oct. 21.

The gardenia honors Alexander Garden, an 18th-century physician who lived in Charleston, S. C.

Russ Propose Banning Of Nuclear Tests

Western Powers Skeptical Of Uncontrolled Planning

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today that the United States, Britain and France agree with it now to ban all nuclear tests. First Western reaction was skeptical since the Soviet proposal seemed to call for an uncontrolled moratorium.

The proposal was made on the eve of the resumption of nuclear test ban talks in Geneva by the Soviet Union, Britain and the United States. France, the fourth nuclear power, is not a participant but a Soviet statement said the time has come to invite the French.

The Soviet Union released a proposed four-article draft agreement and in accompanying statement hinted they may resume tests if France does.

CHEATING

Under the Soviet proposal the four powers would agree to halt tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space. The argument was that each power now has the means of detecting such tests and cheating would be impossible.

The four powers also would undertake not to hold nuclear weapons tests underground while negotiating an agreement on a control system that could detect such blasts.

The proposal was delivered to the press but the embassies immediately involved — the British, American and French —were not called in. Neutral nations, however, were invited to send representatives to the Foreign Office.

REACTION

The first Western reaction in Moscow was that it was aimed to end atmospheric tests now that the Soviets had completed theirs and would tie up underground tests for an indefinite period until an agreement could be reached on means of detecting them.

That amounted to giving the Soviet Union a virtual veto over the kind of tests the United States is now carrying out. The United States says it will continue underground tests regardless of the resumption of negotiations at Geneva.

The United States and Britain declared in advance of the resumption of talks at Geneva that they will not again agree to a moratorium on tests until a treaty is signed.

The Geneva treaty talks collapsed in September when the Soviet Union abruptly ended a voluntary moratorium by launching a series of atmospheric tests.

In Geneva, informed sources said the proposal is unacceptable to the West.

Western sources at the conference said the Soviet plan appeared to be an unlimited and uncontrolled moratorium on testing such as the United States and Britain have repeatedly rejected.

Outer Space Peace Plan Is Given U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States today laid before the U.N. Outer Space Committee a stop-gap program "to preserve peace in outer space— and extend to all nations the benefits of exploring it.'

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost addressed the 24-nation body as it met for the first time with all its members present. The seven Soviet bloc countries ended their boycott despite their contention that the committee should give equal representation to Western, Communist and nonaligned countries.

The Soviet delegate, Valerian A. Zorin, in a brief speech, insisted that the committee must be reorganized to give "just representation" to all three groups of countries.

Yost listed four main steps which should be taken quickly:

1. Recognize that outer space and the celestial bodies are open to exploration by all and are not subject to seizure or claim by any country.
2. Agree to register all launchings of outer space vehicles.
3. Cooperate in use of whether satellites in an effort to improve forecasting services.
4. Cooperate in the use of communications satellites to improve global communications.

Zorin devoted most of his remarks to the composition and procedures of the outer space committee. He said the Soviet government favors broad cooperation in outer space exploration, but declared the committee must be reorganized to prevent its use to "promote the narrow interests of states."

Suspect Arrested In $3,500 Theft Of Rings From San Rafael Jeweler

One of two men suspected of lifting $3,500 worth of wedding and engagement rings from a San Rafael jewelry store in a theft that went undetected for four days, was arrested in San Francisco on Saturday as he was "fencing" six of the rings valued at almost $2,000.

A second man and the remainder of the rings were still sought today.

Held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $3,150 bail on a charge of grand theft was John Arthur Mitchell, 21, of San Francisco.

San Rafael Police Officer Thomas C. Cheetham said Mitchell confessed taking the rings from a showcase at Michael A. Gorb Credit Jewelers at 1115 Fourth Street while his accomplice occupied the attention of clerks.

Gorb, proprietor of the store, who lives at 335 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, told police that attendants at the store did not know the rings had been stolen until Saturday. "We knew they were not in the showcase, but everyone assumed they had merely been moved to another case," he said.

Cheetham, arrested Mitchell in a San Francisco parking lot after he had completed an appointment with an appraiser. He said San Francisco police learned of the theft through an informant who told them Mitchell was trying to "peddle hot jewelry." Cheetham, armed with a description of Mitchell and his car, "staked out" the lot and arrested Mitchell as he entered the car.

Mitchell had been getting an appraisal on three sets of rings, valued at $1,900. He has refused to name his accomplice, Cheetham said.

Mrs. Gorb said her husband had waited on one of the men but that no one could recall who had waited on the other. The tray containing the rings was lifted from the showcase without Gorb or any of the other clerks being aware of the theft.

Mitchell was to appear in Municipal Court this afternoon. He was being questioned further today in an attempt to learn the identity of his accomplice, police said.

Tough Penalties Are Urged For Forest Fire Starters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) today demanded tough penalties for those who start forest fires.

"The problem is just as severe as the narcotics problem," he told the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

He said arsonists do not get the same publicity as narcotics offenders in newspapers and on television because forest fires are a rural and not a metropolitan concern.

The committee was told that, with the exception of arson, most forest fire offenses are misdemeanors.

Earlier, California's conservation director declared the carelessness of many wildland area residents was partially to blame for forest fires.

DeWitt Nelson told a State Senate committee that approximately 60 to 70 per cent of all forest fires were caused by negligence, carelessness or "wilful intent" and said:

"The disregard by some people for the rights and privileges of others is definitely apparent. This becomes evident in the fires that originate through carelessness, negligence, lack of due diligence or wilful disregard of the laws that exist for the protection of the public."

He listed several causes of the California fire problem, including:

The three-year drought, tremendous increases in the number of subdivisions being built in wildlands, and recreation facilities.

Two Die As Car Whips Into Tree

Fatalities For Year Reach 16

Two Marin youths—a 20-year-old father and a San Rafael High School senior —died yesterday of injuries suffered when their car skidded and rammed a tree on B Street in San Rafael Saturday night.

The victims, both passengers in the car, were Larry Raymond Blankenship, 18, of 35 Bayview Street, San Rafael, and Thomas Duane Watson, 20, of Marin Town and Country Club, Fairfax.

FAIR CONDITION

The driver, Ronald Joseph Sauer, 19, of 103 LaBrea Street, San Rafael, was reported in fair condition at San Rafael General Hospital today, undergoing treatment for internal injuries.

The deaths were the 15th and 16th in Marin County traffic this year, and the second and third in San Rafael traffic. Last year by this date, traffic accidents had claimed 24 lives in Marin, four of them in San Rafael.

(Nationwide, 443 persons died of traffic injuries during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday, according to a United Press International compilation today. California had the highest total of any state—60 deaths.)

ATTEMPTS PASS

The San Rafael accident happened shortly after 10:30 p.m. Saturday. San Rafael police reported that a witness said Sauer was driving a 1955 convertible between 40 and 50 miles per hour southbound on B Street. He attempted to pass a car driven by Larry Francis Kenyon, 18, of 1212 Second Street, San Rafael.

Sauer's car skidded on wet pavement and struck the tree at the southeast corner of B and Bayview Streets. Sauer told officer Eugene Frederick he remembered braking after he skidded.

The car bounced back, spinning end-for-end, hitting the fender of Kenyon's car.

Kenyon, who was alone, was uninjured. The left front fender of his car was smashed. Sauer's car was totally wrecked.

Blankenship, according to witnesses, was in the back seat, the other two in the front.

Blankenship died at 5:10 a.m. and Watson at 11:45 a.m., yesterday, both of head injuries.

Watson, married and father of an eight-month-old child, had but recently begun a job as apprentice roofer with Marin County Roofing Co., after a period out of work. He and his wife, Jean, and their

Judge Butler Suffers Series Of Seizures

Retired Judge Edward I Butler, 87, recuperating from a heart attack at San Rafael General Hospital, suffered a serious set-back yesterday afternoon.

The former Marin Superior Court judge has undergone a series of seizures since noon yesterday and was described in "poor" condition by hospital attendants today.

'LEAFLET RAID'

Plane Hijacked In Venezuela

CURACAO, Netherlands Antilles (UPI) — Five Pro-Castro Venezuelan students today hijacked an airliner with 46 persons aboard for a "leaflet raid" on Caracas and forced the pilot at gunpoint to fly the plane here.

At least four Americans were among the 43 passengers aboard the four-engined DC-6, which was hijacked while on a domestic Venezuelan flight between Caracas and Maracaiba.

The Americans were identified as Frederick Malcott, Erale Elrick, George Hatley and Walter Lambert.

They were presumed to be oil men en route from the Venezuelan capital to the oil fields at Maracaibo.

Dutch police armed with tommyguns surrounded the big plane as it rolled to a stop. The hijackers were disarmed and taken to the airport office for questioning.

Passengers were permitted to disembark pending the police investigation but newsmen were denied access to them.

It was understood the Caracas government had asked immediate return of the plane and notified Curacao authorities it would seek to extradite the hijackers.

Pilot-Capt. Juan Nolck told airport authorities he had barely taken off from Maiquetia, Caracas airport, when the men burst into the forward cabin and ordered him to make a leisurely circle of the capital.

He said they dropped leaflets calling for demonstrations against the government tomorrow, the first anniversary of partial martial law imposed on Venezuela after leftist-inspired disorders. Then they ordered him to proceed to Curacao and ask permission for an emergency landing.

FOR SAN RAFAEL

Marin Businessmen Propose New Bank

A group of Marin businessmen, including three who were associated with the former First National Bank in San Rafael, have filed application with the California State Banking Department for permission to establish a new downtown San Rafael bank.

Name proposed for the bank, which would have initial capital of one million dollars, is Bank of Marin County.

Applicants are W. P. Murray Jr., D. F. Murray, A. J. Bianchi, Forrest E. Brown, Lawrence P. McNear Sr. and Graham McPhail.

The two Murrays were officers of the First National and were named vice presidents of Crocker-Anglo National Bank when it purchased the stock of First National and Bank of San Rafael last spring. W. P. Murray Jr. has been at Crocker-Anglo's Petaluma office, and D. F. Murray at the San Anselmo office. Both have resigned from Crocker-Anglo to launch the new banking venture.

Bianchi, Point Reyes dairyman, was a director of First National and the Bank of San Rafael. Brown is an executive of Brown-Ely Co.; McNear, of McNear Brick Co., and McPhail, of McPhail Fuel Co.

The application is the second announced within a few days for a new locally owned bank in Marin. Another group of local men, headed by attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, has applied for permission to establish a bank in the vicinity of the county civic center, to be capitalized at four million dollars.

$2-Million Missile 'Saves' Self

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—A two-million-dollar Titan missile saved itself from possible destruction today when it automatically shut down one second before an attempted launch.

The 98-foot missile was loaded with fuel and ready to go when an electronic computer detected some problem which could have caused an abortive launch.

The Air Force said only that the attempted launching was canceled due to technical reasons. It was not immediately rescheduled.

This was the second attempted launch that had to be postponed. That time, however, it was weather—winds and heavy rain—that forced postponement.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Spain Flood Ebbs

SEVILLA, Spain (AP) — Flood waters receded today from a large section of this historic city, leaving officials with a vast task of relief for thousands of homeless.

The Tamarguillo River, which heavy rains sent into low-lying sections over the weekend, had dropped 6 feet and smaller streams were also falling.

Paris-London Talks

LONDON (AP)—The weekend talks between President Charles de Gaulle and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan apparently eased — but did not eliminate—the French leader's opposition to Western negotiations on Berlin with the Soviet Union.

No communique was issued, but this was the impression that filtered from the prime minister's closely guarded country estate where the two leaders met. De Gaulle as usual had nothing to say to newsmen when he returned to Paris.

No Deals

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen says he made no secret deals with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to secure suspension of his demand for Soviet-Finnish defense talks.

"There are no secret conditions of any kind and no secret agreements between Finland and the Soviet Union," Kekkonen assured the anxious Finnish people yesterday on his return from his weekend meeting with Khrushchev.

Talks Canceled

BONN (UPI)—Influenza forced 85-year-old West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to cancel his scheduled trip to Paris Thursday for talks with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Trial To Resume

JERUSALEM (AP) — The trial of Adolf Eichmann will resume Dec. 11, the Israeli government announced today.

The former Nazi official is accused of major responsibility in the death of millions of Jews in Hitler's extermination camps.

The final phase in the lengthy trial will include the reading of the 300-page judgment which the three judges have drawn up.

Congo Skirmishes

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—National Congolese troops and Katanga forces skirmished over the weekend near Kapanga on the south Kasai border, the Elisabethville radio said today.

Reliable military sources here said only a few troops were involved in the clash when Congo soldiers raided across the border for food and other supplies.

President Moise Tshombe told a cheering crowd of 5,000 Africans and a handful of whites yesterday that Katanga must gird for war. He threatened a scorched-earth program to destroy Katanga's rich copper and cobalt mines if any attempt is made by the United Nations or central Congo government to end the province's self-proclaimed independence.

16 Die In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Lynching, shooting and grenade-throwing by anti-De Gaulle Europeans and Algerians in revenge clashes killed 16 persons and injured 87 in one of the bloodier weekends of the seven-year Algerian war.

French troops and police were caught in the middle as terrorism swept Algiers and the big western port city of Oran.

Waving clubs, a screaming mob of Europeans broke into a jail in Algiers, lynched one Algerian woman and savagely beat another before police reinforcements drove them off. The women had been arrested after a grenade wounded three Europeans in a sidewalk cafe.

Tough Talk

BERLIN (UPI) — Tough talk by East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht has dampened hopes that the Soviet Union might be willing to negotiate a reasonable settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland yesterday published a speech in which Ulbricht told his party central committee the Allies do not have "rights" of access to West Berlin across East German territory.

Earhart Study

BERKELEY (UPI)—A University of California anthropologist today began an extensive study of 37 teeth and a number of bone fragments — possible clues to the 24-year-old mystery concerning the disappearance of Amelia Earhart.

Prof. Theodore McCown scheduled a news conference to explain how he will seek to determine through laboratory tests whether the remains, found in the Marianna Islands of the Pacific, are those of the famous aviatrix, and navigator Fred Noonan.

Caroline's Birthday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Caroline Kennedy, who had two birthday parties last week, was 4 today.

She had her first party at the White House last Tuesday along with her brother, John Jr. who was 1 Saturday.

Caroline's second party was given here Saturday by her grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy.

President Praised, Told Off In Postcard Survey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The people are telling President John F. Kennedy what's on their minds — and also telling him off a bit—in stacks of oversize blue postcards piling up at the White House.

They praise him warmly or criticize him on his administration harshly. They talk about socialism, communism, nuclear tests, a balanced budget, fallout shelters, Caroline, racial and religious intolerance.

They mention aid to education, housing, preservation of wilderness areas.

The people writing the President want such things as a job, a loan, or free transportation for old folks.

More than anything else, they are strongly for or strongly against medical care for the aged financed through the Social Security System.

These blue cards are special ones, already addressed to Kennedy at the White House, carrying the salutation "Dear Mr. President."

They were on hand for anyone who wanted to pick them up at the series of regional conferences just staged in 12 cities under government auspices. Cabinet members and squads of other top-rank administration officials made the circuit, delivering speeches, taking part in panels, answering questions.

The objective, the administration said, was to tell the people about the record of Congress and the administration and to obtain their views.

Since Kennedy didn't get to any of the meetings, cards were made available to send views direct to him.

Some of the cards are neatly typed. Some are in shaky handwriting. One is in the carefully printed words of a child, another in Italian, another in rhyme.

A survey of the first 200 cards contained contributions from eight cities: Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Denver, Detroit, Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia. No cards were made available at Madison, Wis., the White House said, and the first batch included none from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle, where the last of the conferences took place.

The one topic that stands out in the first communications is medical care for the aged. On a numerical count, the number of cards expressing opinions on this issue runs about 5 to 4 against such care under the Social Security financing plan the administration recommends.

Tax Collections Running Better

Marin County tax collections this year are running a little better than last year, but a last-minute rush is still expected by the Dec. 11 deadline for first installment payment, County Tax Collector M. F. Donohue reported today.

Collections thus far total $4,149,345 as compared with $3,877,000 which had been paid up as of this time last year.

The total tax bill for this year is $21,811,000, of which about 12 million dollars is expected to come in on the first installment. This means about eight million dollars is expected to pour in during the next two weeks, Donohue said. A penalty will be imposed on first installment payments made after Dec. 11.

SENATOR BRIDGES SUCCUMBS AT 63

President, Ike, Nixon Pay Tribute To Senior Republican Member

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A funeral service at the New Hampshire state house at noon Wednesday is planned for Sen. Styles Bridges, 63, senior Republican member of the Senate, who died yesterday.

Bridges' death was not likely to change the present partisan lineup in the Senate but a liberal-conservative struggle to choose a successor in the Senate Republican leadership appeared possible when Congress reconvenes in January.

President John F. Kennedy led the tributes to the senator, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee and second ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee.

Kennedy telephoned Bridges' widow to extend condolences and later issued a statement describing Bridges as "a great patriot who devoted his life to the continuing strength of our country."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., said that in close association with Bridges "I came to learn how deeply he was dedicated to the good of our nation."

Among other tributes, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said at Los Angeles that Bridges was "one of the most effective political leaders ever produced by the Republican party."

Many political observers in traditionally Republican New Hampshire believed Republican Gov. Wesley Powell, a graduate of Bridges' staff, would be appointed to succeed him, although some other reports mentioned Bridges' widow.

The appointee will hold the seat only until the 1962 election, when the voters will choose a senator to complete the balance of Bridges' term, which expired in 1966.

Powell can not appoint himself. He would have to resign as governor and be appointed by his successor, the president of the state Senate, Samuel Green, a Manchester Republican.

A private funeral service for the immediate family only will be held tommorrow.

Bridges' office said the senator "died peacefully in his sleep at 5 a.m. in his Concord, N.H., home by complication arising from a severe coronary attack suffered Sept. 20."

He was the second leader of Congress to die in 10 days. House Speaker Sam Rayburn died Nov. 16.

Bridges was born and reared on a small farm in West Pembroke, Me. When he was 9, his father died, and Bridges plowed land and milked cows to help his mother and two younger children. He worked his way through the University of Maine, earning 15 cents an hour in dairy barns.

In the Senate, Bridges generally was regarded as an articulate spokesman for the conservative point of view, though he regarded himself as a "middle-of-the-roader."

Saltonstall Appears In Line For Post

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leverett Saltonstall, a quiet, 69-year-old senator from Boston, today appeared the most likely successor to Styles Bridges as Senate GOP policy chairman.

The former Massachusetts governor, now ending his 16th year in the Senate, is chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, more a post of honor than of action or power.

But speculation after Bridges' death in Concord, N. H., yesterday pointed automatically to Saltonstall as his successor.

Friends of Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., said they were certain Dirksen would not want the less strenuous, but still politically potent, job of policy chairman.

Dirksen—and most of the other ranking Republicans—is up for re-election next year. He has won esteem for his performance as minority leader.

Adding to his advantages in consideration for the policy post, Saltonstall was re-elected for a full six year term last fall.

There was the possibility that liberal Republicans—or another conservative group—might try to put one of their members in the policy spot. But it was felt that the job was Saltonstall's for the asking.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R.-Ariz.) holds the job of Senate GOP campaign chairman. This puts Goldwater, the party's most vocal conservative and possible presidential candidate, in a position to be seen and heard around the country more than he would as policy chairman.

Hope Fades For Finding Rockefeller

MERAUKE, Dutch New Guinea (AP)—Hope for Michael Rockefeller faded again today as wisps of smoke wafting up from the steamy Asmat jungle off which he disappeared eight days ago were identified as burning brush.

The smoke was spotted yesterday by an Australian Air Force plane, raising hopes at the search headquarters. Dutch officials said an investigation proved to be "a wild goose chase."

Helicopters criss-crossing the jungle wilderness of southwest New Guinea were scheduled to end their search tomorrow night. Michael's father, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and his sister, Mary Strawbridge, were expected to leave for the United States soon after.

Ground parties will continue to comb the crocodile-infested jungle coast for at least two more weeks.

"We still have one hope," a Dutch district official said. "It's possible Michael might be sick or injured and given aid and shelter by the natives.

"In this eventuality it's also possible that the natives would not tell authorities about his whereabouts until after he recuperated. They might be afraid they would be blamed for his illness."

STORY DISBELIEVED

Friend Says Harvey Panicked On Ketch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A friend said yesterday that Julian Harvey told him in confidence that he panicked and jumped off the ketch Bluebelle after, according to Harvey, a mast snapped and swept two passengers overboard.

James C. Boozer, 44, said Harvey made the statement stuttering under emotional stress after returning to Miami from his rescue by a tanker. It varies from Harvey's statement to the Coast Guard, and also from the account given by Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, now the Bluebelle's only survivor.

The two struck by the mast, Harvey told Boozer, were Harvey's wife, Mary, 34, and Dr. Arthur Duperrault, 49, Green Bay, Wis., optometrist who chartered the Fort Lauderdale vessel for his family's Bahamas cruise.

Boozer quoted Harvey as telling him, "I lost my nerve when I saw the blood and guts on the deck, and I jumped overboard." This was Nov. 12.

Two days after talking to Poozer, Harvey committed suicide by slashing his wrists.

Dr. Harry Jordan, Milwaukee chiropractor who is here looking into the death of his sister—Harvey's wife—said he knew about this second story "but I don't believe it."

Boozer said that after consulting his pastor, he told the Coast Guard of Harvey's statement.

In the Coast Guard inquiry Harvey said a mast snapped in a squall and punched holes in deck and hull. Then, he said, a fire broke out. He said all the Dupperaults and his wife jumped overboard to get away from the fire, and he cut a life boat adrift and escaped in that.

He had the body of Renee Duperrault, 8, in the boat with him when a rescue ship came upon it.

Terry Joe, whose discovery alive was made public less than 24 hours before Harvey killed himself, said the masts "leaned" but did not fall; the sails were flapping; she saw no fire and smelled no smoke. She said she saw her mother, Jean, 38, and a brother, Brian, 14, lying motionless on a bloody deck. The girl said Harvey slapped her in ordering her below deck, approached her with what looked like a rifle and finally left her alone on the sinking Bluebelle while he made his escape.

Warehouse Windows Reported Broken

More than 20 windows have been broken in a warehouse at 17 Lisbon Street, San Rafael.

Rollo Coffland, owner of the warehouse, said the damage to the 12-by-16-inch panes appeared to be the work of juveniles. The inside of the warehouse was littered with rocks, he said.

Niagara Cave, near Cresco, Iowa, features a 60-foot waterfall 200 feet underground.

Marin Phone Workers Will Not Walk Out

Marin telephone workers will not walk out in sympathy with the East Bay dispute which has put pickets in front of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. offices in nine Bay Area cities.

By a show of hands, Marin local 9404 of the Communication Workers of America voted yesterday afternoon overwhelmingly in favor of staying on the job.

The local's traffic vice president, Dorothy Foley of Mill Valley, said after the short meeting that "the membership agreed wholeheartedly to uphold the Communication Workers of America."

She added: "It is not an authorized strike. CWA is not behind it. At this time our local feels we should stay on the job pending future developments."

Mrs. Foley said the majority of the 360 members showed up for the meeting at the Labor Hall on Tamalpais Avenue in San Rafael. Pros and cons were presented and a vote taken. She said she preferred not to say what the actual wote was.

A telephone company spokesman said the dispute grew from suspension of two Oakland telephone operators: one for denying service to a customer who, she said, used abusive language, and the other for being tardy 46 times in 22 months.

The meeting will be held in Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, said Norman B. Livermore Jr., chairman.

Hamilton will discuss ideals and objectives of scouting with special reference to Marin plans for developing camps Tamarancho near Fairfax and Marin-Sierra north of Emigrant Gap as completely operational camps in the full Boy Scout program.

Water systems and functional buildings for these camps will be the objectives of the forthcoming Boy Scout building fund appeal.

Violinist Abel, Marin Symphony Demonstrate Expressive Power

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Maestro Sandor Salgo, the Marin Symphony Orchestra and guest violinist David Abel opend the 10th annual season of Symphony Guild of Marin-sponsored concerts Friday night with a performance memorable for its wide range of expressive power.

Again Marin music lovers indicated the extent to which the orchestra has gained their support by filling nearly all seats at the Marin Catholic High School Auditorium. That they were not disappointed was shown in the warmth of their response to both guest artist Abel and the orchestra.

The orchestra demonstrated mastery of an expressive power that ranged from the sensitive obbligato for parts of Abel's solo work in the Beethoven Concerto in D Major for Violin, Opus 61, and subtlety and gossamer delicacy of some of Ravel's "Mother Goose Suite," to the acme of sonorous brilliance in the finale of "A Lincoln Portrait" by Copland.

In Abel's playing were heard tonal purity and sweetness—even in the highest register—depth of feeling and technical control and dexterity comparable to the best to be heard today among violin virtuosi.

However, except to insatiable Beethoven and violin devotees, the work, according to some comments overheard, seemed too long. The unusual applause at the end of the first movement may have been partly a release of physical tension as well as spontaneous ovation.

Fortunately intermission and the brief impressionistic gems of the "Mother Goose Suite" followed. These offered partial solo opportunities for some fine work by such individual instruments as the clarinet, double bassoon, flute and oboe, and especially the violin in concert master Charles Meacham's passages in "The Conversations of Beauty and the Beast" and "The Fairy Garden."

The contemporary, strongly rhythmic "A Lincoln Portrait" was a moving experience enhanced by Dr. Robert Loper's reading of Lincoln's words in the sincere, untheatrical style approved by the composer. No small achievement was the clarity of his diction against the complementary playing of the orchestra.

A delightfully spirited reading of the melodious overture from Glinka's opera "Ruslan and Ludmilla" was the attention-stimulating opening of the program.

Foster Parents Plan Yule Party

EXHAUSTING CHORE

Stinky Way To Get Rid Of Skunks

By RALPH CHATOIAN
Cartoon by Jack Lucey

There have been many ways to get rid of those little black animals with white stripes down their back, but most ways are rather stinky. A Corte Madera man has found a way that is completely non-odorous.

You simply trap the skunk in a box, connect a hose from the exhaust pipe of a car to a hole in the box, turn on the engine, and wait.

That's what Frederick E. Goodwin of 142 Grenada Drive, Corte Madera, a geography teacher at Santa Venetia Junior High School, did. And he has a six-for-six record, which smells darn good.

Before he tried this method, he had called the Marin Humane Society when he wanted to rid his back yard of a skunk which had become an uninvited guest. The men came out and quickly ended the skunk's life with a shotgun blast. But Goodwin's back yard smelled pretty bad for some time, he said.

Goodwin concluded that any violent death to a skunk would result in that last-minute spray of skunknel number five perfume. He thought of trapping the unwanted skunks in a box, but pondered on what to do with the thing once it is caught.

He asked a druggist if poison was the answer and got a suggestion of gassing. He then built a plywood box about two feet long and one foot high and wide. In one end he placed a sliding door which would fall shut when the rear bottom of the box was stepped on.

For bait he used dog food placed in the rear of the box. In this end is a small glass window through which viewers may see that it is truly a skunk trapped and not a small dog or feline.

A little plug is stuck in a hole on top of the box. When it is time to get rid of the skunk, the hose is inserted in the opening and the skunk is quietly put to sleep.

"I found that the skunk will not spray as long as it is trapped in the box," Goodwin said.

He declared that neighborhood children "even pounded on the box when a skunk was inside," insuring the fact that the skunk would not spray when trapped.

When the skunks' last breath was out, Goodwin removed it, odor free. All but two of the six were buried. One he skinned as a souvenir and the other he took to his junior high school, where it will be stuffed.

Goodwin lives in his Marin Estates home with his wife, Jean, and son, Danny, 3. Before the subdivision was built, the area was called Skunk Hollow because of the large number of skunks—which the residents found out this past summer.

But Goodwin hasn't seen a skunk for more than a month. Looks like he won the battle.

MARIN YOUTH COAST'S TOP TRAIL RIDER

Stephen Garretson, 12, of 225 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, is the new Pacific Coast champ of junior trail horse riders.

Garretson, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Kirk D. Garretson, won the trail horse championship stake on his mare "Cannonball" Nov. 19 at the Santa Barbara National Junior Horse Show, it was learned today.

Garretson and his horse outdid 23 top junior contenders; one of the competing horses was last year's national trail champion.

Mill Valleyan To Preach In Japanese At Church

Born a Buddhist, Harou Furukawa of Mill Valley will begin preaching in Japanese next month at his Baptist Mission in San Francisco's Richmond District.

Furukawa, a third year divinity student at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point, was nicknamed Harry by one of his professors. He is 26, a native of Fukuoka on the Japanese island of Kyushu.

Furukawa received his bachelor's degree in English literature from the Baptist University, Seinan Gakuin, at Fukuoka. In 1957 he came to Los Angeles where he lived with relatives and studied political science at El Camino College. He came to Mill Valley in 1959 where he lives on campus in Truett Hall.

His parents, three brothers and two sisters are in Japan where his father makes and sells stationery. All of his family are Buddhists except one brother who is a Methodist. Furukawa became a Christian when a senior while attending Baptist high school.

On graduation in June with a bachelor's degree in divinity, he expects to devote his time to working as a minister with Nisei, Americans of Japanese ancestry.

He said he pastors now at the San Francisco Mission which meets in a Baptist church and where he is employed by the Home Mission Board. He has worked as a gardener on campus and, in Los Angeles, in both a printing shop and a nursery.

Furukawa plans to seek American citizenship. "I feel I would have to be a part of the people I serve who are Americans," he said. "Too, a minister, I must have citizenship to stay in the U. S."

Furukawa's hobbies include photography, stamp collecting and French fencing, the latter which he practices in his dormitory before a mirror. As a new activity, he is taking up guitar playing, learning to play hymns.

Commenting on cultural differences between Japan and the U. S., Furukawa says "People in the U. S. are very frank. They show their feelings frankly. Japanese do not show their feelings much."

And, he said, students have a different way of enjoying fellowship here than in Japan. "Here when boys get together and some girl comes, then the boys leave me and go out with the girl. In Japan boys or girls get together. When boys get together, we do not want to be bothered by girls. Usually we like to discuss serious things always. Students are less serious here than in Japan."

He also said that America's attitude toward religion is less serious than in Japan. "In the U. S.," he said, "most of the people are quite religious but the attitude toward religion is less serious to me."

Missing Needles Believed Found By A.F.'s Radar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some 350 million tiny copper needles missing in space for a month may have been found, more or less.

But the Air Force said today it doesn't know what the controversial needles are doing or where they are going.

An announcement said that four radar glimpses have been recorded of what may be the tiny needles supposedly hurled into orbit last Oct. 21 in an experiment to test the possibility of a jam-proof communications system.

The Air Force said that "the target is so small and so far away that the radar returns are extremely weak and the information that can be derived from them is very limited."

Six Assault Victims Identify Assailant

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Six rape victims have identified an unemployed tile setter as their assailant, it was learned today.

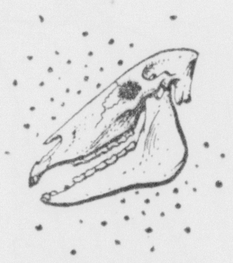
What is a PLIOHIPPUS?



A pliohippus is an extinct mammal, the ancestor of the modern horse.

The science of paleontology, the study of ancient life on the globe, is constantly revealing facts pertinent to a better understanding of life on the earth today. Yet many potential scientists may never pursue this subject because they may never go to college. Already many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Marinites Will Face State Parole Hearings

A former San Rafael cook imprisoned at San Quentin for second-degree murder and a one-time bellhop who used to live in Terra Linda and is serving time for sex perversion will face the California Adult Authority next February for consideration of fixing parole dates.

The murderer is Joseph Vaitonis, 42, convicted in 1954 of slaying his estranged wife's father, Martin Pavels, 65, and assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Greta Pavels, 42, with intent to kill in San Rafael. The other is Arthur Atwood, 35, convicted in 1960 of perverted acts with boys 8 and 11 in 1957 and 1959 at his home.

Vaitonis, serving sentences of five years to life for murder and six months to 14 years for attempted murder, has been repeatedly turned down for parole. The shootings occurred at an apartment where his estranged wife Irma and her parents lived at 1130 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Atwood worked as a bellhop in a San Francisco hotel until his arrest in October, 1959. The boys testified he held a knife in his hand and molested them. Parents of a six-year-old girl and a five-year-old boy also complained to the district attorney that Atwood molested their children, though these children did not testify. He was convicted March 17, 1960.

Administration Shakeup Removes Bowles From Job

CHESTER BOWLES
Moving up?

State Department Changes Concern 10 Positions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future of Chester Bowles as a top official of the administration was clouded by doubt and uncertainty today after his removal by President John F. Kennedy as undersecretary of state.

Hours after the announcement of a 10-man White House-State Department shakeup in the foreign policy high command, presidential associates and Bowles himself were silent on what job he would take over. The announcement said merely that he would move into a high policy-making position.

In its over-all effect, the reorganization was a tidying up operation, in most cases fitting men into positions involving the kind of work they were already doing.

One major result probably will be to strengthen foreign policy control in the hands of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and to lessen somewhat the amount of intervention in State Department operations by members of the White House staff. Officials considered it significant that two moves involved the transfer of Walt W. Rostow and Richard N. Goodwin from White House posts into jobs involving operational responsibilities in the State Department.

There were reports that Walter P. McConaughy, outgoing assistant secretary of state, would become ambassador to the Philippines.

No one is being dropped.

Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and ambassador to India and a Kennedy adviser during last year's presidential race, has been a controversial figure in the administration since its first weeks in office. The president and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were reported to consider him misplaced in the department's No. 2 position as undersecretary.

The shakeup announcement, made last night from the Kennedy headquarters at Hyannis Port, Mass., said that Bowles is to get a high policy-making position on relinquishing his present duties. There was no immediate statement from Bowles.

Officials here understood that he was being offered a combination assignment of roving ambassador and special foreign adviser to Kennedy and Rusk. As undersecretary he has spent considerable time traveling abroad and has been interested, within the State Department, chiefly in promoting policies of assistance to underdeveloped nations in Africa and Asia.

Administration leaders considered him misplaced as undersecretary, officials said, because he was more concerned with the broad lines of policy development in functioning as an idea man than in the day-to-day conduct of foreign relations traditionally handled by the undersecretary. Bowles is 60.

Other changes in the shakeup, which become effective immediately, are these:

1. George W. Ball, 51, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, to be undersecretary of state. He will continue to concentrate on economic affairs. A Washington lawyer, he is reported to have worked very closely with Rusk in recent months, exercising some of the duties which would normally have gone to Bowles.

2. George C. McGhee, counselor and chairman of policy planning in the State Department, to be undersecretary for political affairs. McGhee thus moves up to become the No. 3 man. He is a close associate of Rusk and known in the State Department as a vigorous administrator. McGhee, '49, is a former ambassador to Turkey.

3. W. Averill Harriman, 70, former governor of New York and member of the Truman administration in former years as well as ambassador to the Soviet Union and Great Britain, to be assistant secretary for the Far East. He is presently a roving ambassador and for several months has been U. S. negotiator at a Geneva conference on Laotian neutrality. The timing of his shift will be determined by his work at Geneva.

4. Walt W. Rostow, 55, former professor of economics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and now a deputy special assistant to Kennedy for national security affairs, to be State Department counselor and chairman of the policy planning council, succeeding McGhee. This move puts into the State Department a White House official who has had considerable interest in foreign policy development during the Kennedy administration.

5. Frederick G. Dutton, 38, Kennedy's assistant for Cabinet affairs, to be assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. Administration officials said this move is expected to strengthen administration efforts to win congressional support for foreign policy proposals at the next session.

6. Richard M. Goodwin, now deputy special counsel to Kennedy, to be deputy assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. Goodwin, 30, has been very active in inter-American affairs under the Kennedy administration. The transfer to the State Department gives him a position in line with the interest he has shown in this work.

7. Walter P. McConaughy, 58, presently assistant secretary for the Far East, is to be given an ambassadorial post when Harriman takes over his job. He is a former ambassador to Burma and Formosa.

9. Timothy J. Reardon Jr., 46, presently an administrative assistant to the president, becomes a special assistant to handle cabinet affairs as Dutton shifts to the State Department.

State Department officials said that Goodwin is scheduled to take a job presently held by Wymberley der Coerr, who is expected to be made an ambassador. The White House announcement did not cover this point.

Financial Firm Buys New Site

Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. has purchased an entire block in San Anselmo as the site for a new home office, according to Dr. Earle M. Young, president.

The property, on San Anselmo Avenue between Woodland and Ross Avenues, was acquired for $125,000 from Richard McLaren of San Anselmo and his sister, Mrs. James Thornton of Bayside Acres.

Robert Hageman of the firm of Hageman and Meyer is preparing design studies for a 15,000-square-foot building, said Young.

"With personnel now totaling 15, we have outgrown our present quarters at 380 San Anselmo Avenue," he said. "Not only do we need more space and adequate parking facilities for our customers, but we are also building for the future to participate in and help finance the expected expansion of the community."

Founded in 1950, Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. now has assets exceeding 17 million dollars.

The site for the new offices, known as the old McLaren livery stable property, has a frontage of 162 feet on San Anselmo Avenue. Young said it is hoped construction will be completed by next July.

Youths Visit Video Studio At Wrong Hour

The two Marin youths visiting Los Angeles wanted to see the inside of a television studio. Particularly, they wanted to see Desilu Studio, where "The Untouchables" is filmed.

The trouble was, it was 4 a.m. on Sunday and the studio, of course, was dark and locked. So Bruce Bostick, 17, son of Dr. Warren L. Bostick of 40 Twain Harte Lane, San Rafael, and Terry Hoffman, 18, son of O. D. Hoffman of 383 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, just crawled under the fence.

A watchman found them there. He called police who booked both youths on suspicion of burglary.

Dr. Bostick, who is president of the California Medical Assn., and his wife were in Denver. Los Angeles police notified Hoffman the boys were in custody but would be released to him.

He was to return them from Los Angeles today so they could resume their studies at San Rafael Military Academy, where both are seniors.

Zoning Requests Before Novato Planners Tonight

A request by Richard W. Hanna to change the zoning from planned industrial to heavy industrial in the area east of Highway 101 and north of Highway 37 will be considered tonight by the Novato planning commission.

The request for planned industrial was first placed before the commission in September. Ground-breaking ceremonies on the 460-acre Hanna Industrial Park were held on Oct. 20.

Two churches have requests before the commission. Jehovah's Witnesses want a permit for a church on a 17,650-square foot lot at 733 to 801 Lamont Avenue. The Methodist Church wants architectural supervision for a church on South Novato Boulevard across from Yukon Way.

Good Health Depends On Body's Nerve Network

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The greatest communications system ever built is as old as mankind and will never be out of date. It is more common than the telephone but more complex than the TVA and a fleet of electronic space ships combined. What is this system?

Your nervous system . . . the incredibly vast network of fibers which links the brain, directly or indirectly with every cell, every organ and every part of your body.

The brain, of course, is the power house which generates, dispatches, receives and interprets messages to and from various parts of your body. The brain and its nerve network are in action every moment of your life—asleep or awake.

The nervous system is so complex that the most learned anatomists and physiologists know very little of its magnitude and function. The greatest electrical project ever conceived by man is insignificant compared with the human power system. One expert has estimated that there are 400 trillion nerve fibers passing through the average human skull into the spinal cord.

What happens when something goes wrong with the nerve network? When a nerve fails to deliver its proper quota of "power" to any part of the body, that part will lose its efficiency and eventually will become diseased because of an interference to the nerve.

Interferences occur most frequently in the spine when a displaced spinal bone (vertebra) will pinch or stretch the nerves within the spine or just outside it. The obvious remedy is to remove the interference.

Chiropractors specialize in removing spinal obstructions to the nervous system. This can be done by X-ray analysis and by skillful hand adjustments of any vertebra found to be causing interference.

Youth's Drowning Off Coast Probed

Coast Guard Marine Investigation Office personnel today were still checking circumstances of the apparent drowning Saturday of a 19-year-old Hayward youth between Muir and Stinson Beach.

Search for the body was abandoned after all-day hunt involving two vessels and two aircraft of the Coast Guard Search and Rescue forces.

Mitchell Attebery had been fishing from the Slide Ranch property with Thomas Clemensen, 17, and William Harry, 19, also from Hayward.

A big wave broke over the rock ledge from which the three had been fishing and Attebery was knocked into the surf 40 feet below. Harry climbed down and was able to reach Attebery he later said. He held Attebery's head above the surface for an instant, but when another wave swept both into the water, he lost his hold on his companion.

Harry's shoes, sox and shirt were ripped off by the waves before he gained the shore. He and Clemensen walked two miles to the home of Michael Gensburger, ranch manager, who notified the sheriff's office.

Nephew Of Cerf Is Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A teenage boy who had taken some change from his father's pants pocket shot himself to death last night and left a note telling his parents:

"You will be able to live without a thief in the house."

Alfred B. Cerf—a wholesaler who said he is a first cousin of publisher Bennett Cerf—told police there had been a family talk yesterday about some change taken from his pocket by his 16-year-old son Geoffrey. The father said it totaled less than a dollar.

The boy later was found lying on the floor of his upstairs bedroom by his mother. He died at Hollywood receiving hospital.

Some Permits For Burning Still Needed

Permits for outdoor burnings are still required in Tiburon and Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection Districts, officials of the two districts said today.

Burning restrictions in unincorporated territory of Marin not under jurisdiction of fire districts were lifted Friday by County Fire Chief Charles Reilly. Most fire districts acted in concert with the county fire department.

However, Capt. Charles Pruett of Tiburon Fire District said residents there are still required to obtain permits for all open burning.

In Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District, burning without a permit is allowed from sunrise to 5 p.m. for single family residences, effective today. However, contractors and business firms must apply to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for burning permits, district officials said.

State's Traffic Safety Record Wins Some Praise

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Public Works Director Robert Bradford said today that California now has the best traffic safety record "since the beginning of the auto," but agreed that the situation is still bad.

The 60 traffic deaths in California over the long Thanksgiving weekend were slightly worse than usual, Bradford told the governor's council. It was nearly 13 per cent of the national total of 443, but Bradford noted that California has 11 per cent of the nation's traffic on 4 per cent of the roads.

Dr. Daniel Blain, state director of mental hygiene, said he was convinced that the "human factor" can be blamed for many accidents. He said the did not mean mental illness but "a certain amount of poor judgment that exists in the normal range."

Bradford agreed, but said Blain was enough of a psychologist to know that it's a question whether to scare people into driving more safely, or to "educate" them.

"Two things are almost always present in an accident," Bradford said, "First, a 'aw was broken. Second, something went wrong with the driver's control of the vehicle. The latter is the more important."

Bradford said that while freeways reduce the accident rate by two thirds, they produce unusual problems.

About 37 per cent of all freeway accidents occur between midnight and 5 a.m., when only 5 per cent of the traffic is moving, he said. Also, only one car is involved in 52 per cent of freeway accidents.

The state now has about 2,000 miles of freeway, he said, but by 1980 will have 12,500 miles.

Guilty Plea To Income Tax Charge

Hunter C. Quistgard, 59, Santa Rosa real estate salesman and former president of Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in San Francisco today to a charge of willful failure to file a federal income tax return for 1955.

Quistgard, who lives in Marin but works in Santa Rosa, asked the court to dismiss three other counts of the criminal information which also charged failure to file for the years 1956 through 1958.

The government said his total gross income for the four years was $491,290 and that he owed a total tax of $7,793.

Quistgard filed his returns for the four years after the Internal Revenue Service started investigating his accounts in 1960. Agents said he explained his nonfiling by saying "I'm the world's worst bookkeeper."

Judge A. J. Zirpoli set Dec. 19 for sentencing and a ruling on the motion to dismiss three counts. The offense is a misdemeanor and the maximum penalty is one year and $10,000.

This is the "wagon" we hitched to a star

"That's us, taking a spin in our 'wagon'—the sleekest sportscar you ever saw. Actually, it's a by-product of something much more important. Something that began when Betty said to me a few years back: 'Jim, doesn't it worry you a little that we're not getting more living done?'

'We talked about it far into the night. We were drifting. It was time to hitch our wagon to a star, we decided—to pick out a dream and then plan toward it.

"What was it we really wanted? Our own business. College education for the kids. Enough left over to enjoy some of life's extras, like the sportscar that had always been a 'someday' thing with me."

Jim and Betty Hall worked at it. They soon realized everything hinged upon how well they managed money. And for help in this, they turned to Crocker-Anglo Bank.

They started with a savings account. Then, when Jim's chance to have his own business arose, he used a Crocker-Anglo loan to augment his savings. Over the years other C-A business loans helped him move ahead.

When Jim needed a site for a small plant, Crocker-Anglo's real estate loan department helped finance it. And when Betty wanted to assure college education for the children, C-A set up a family trust for the purpose. Later, the Halls called on Crocker-Anglo for help in setting up their first investment program.

Maybe you've seen the Halls giving their "wagon" a workout. They're just people. No different from the rest of us except...

They had a plan. Or call it a dream. And they used their bank for all it's worth.

Annexation Meeting Scheduled

A meeting on annexation of San Jose Scvhool District to Novato Unified School District will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Benjamin D. Edger at 1249 Denlyn Street, Novato.

Petitions for annexation were being prepared today at request of Mrs. Donald Sparks of 1336 Monte Maria Avenue, reported Edwin L. Blackmore, assistant county schools superintendent.

Annexation was advocated by some opponents of creating a new Novato-San Jose Unified District prior to the election last Tuesday at which the unification proposal was turned down by 30 votes in Novato although approved in San Jose District.

Blackmore said signatures of a majority of registered voters in the San Jose District would be necessary to call an annexation election. This would take about 800 signatures, he said.

Man Visits Estranged Wife's Home, Jailed For Assault

His estranged wife and another man — both San Jose School District teachers —wore nothing but startled looks when he found them sitting in bed in her Tamalpais Valley home early yesterday, a San Francisco naval architect said.

Charles McCardell, 35, employed by a San Francisco firm of marine engineering consultants, was in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. Sheriff's officers said he repeatedly struck Denton S. Winn, 37, of Petaluma, sixth grade teacher at Lynwood School, over the head with an 18-inch combination jackhandle and lug wrench.

McCardell's estranged wife, Elaine McCardell, 40, of 366 Tennessee Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, an eighth grade teacher at Pacheco School, was not injured.

Marin General Hospital said today Winn had had a "fair" night after 30 sutures were taken in his scalp and two in his left arm. A doctor said Winn's skull was injured.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges said the sheriff's office sent three units to Mrs. McCardell's home a little before 3 a.m. yesterday in answer to calls from a phone operator and Marin Ambulance Service.

The officers found Winn lying on the floor and McCardell standing with the jackhandle in his hand, Bridges reported. McCardell claimed he struck in self defense.

Mrs. McCardell and Winn said they dined Saturday with two friends in Mill Valley and then went with the friends to a tavern in the San Francisco Marina district, after parking Mrs. McCardell's car outside the Buckeye Tavern near Sausalito. Mrs. McCardell asked Winn to accompany her home, saying her husband had annoyed her with phone calls and one late night visit, they reported.

At her home, they found "things disarranged," Mrs. McCardell said.

McCardell said he had waited at the Buckeye parking lot from 5 p.m. Saturday until 2 a.m. yesterday and saw the four return. He said he wanted to visit his wife and apologize "for all the ugly thoughts."

He said he followed Winn and his wife and got into the home by jimmying a window from atop a six-foot ladder. He said he took the jackhandle from his wife's car, "figuring there would be trouble."

He said he then "heard voices in the bedroom" and entered. He said he struck Winn three times when Winn and Mrs. McCardell moved toward him.

McCardell phoned Marin Ambulance and then canceled the call and then called the sheriff's office.

Inspector Bridges said the bed, walls, ceiling and floor were spattered with blood, and a closet door was split in two.

Innocent Plea By Woman In Narcotics Case

She was represented by attorney Frank Duncan of Ventura, whose mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, is at Corona Women's Prison under sentence of death for slaying Duncan's wife Olga in 1958.

Mrs. Herrera appeared before Judge David R. Baty of Point Reyes Station, sitting in municipal court in San Rafael. She is free in $5,250 bail.

Mrs. Marie Frances Hall, 46, of Hayward, free in $1,050 bail, has been arraigned and granted a continuance to Nov. 30. Mrs. Anne Marie Kellam, 25, of Oakland, free in the same bail, is to plea on Nov. 30.

The three women and six prison inmates are charged with conspiring to smuggle heroin and marijuana into prison for sale to inmates.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

FIVE IN FAMILY DEAD

Mentally Ill Man Sought In Slayings

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Forty detectives have been assigned to track down an escaped mental patient accused of massacring the family of a brother-in-law who helped him come to this country a year ago.

Named in a first-degree murder warrant is Mate Mike Ivanov, 38.

"Irrifutable evidence" places the mentally disturbed Ivanov in the home of Peter Gregov at the time of the five slayings Saturday, according to Stuyvesant Pinnell, Nassau County chief of detectives.

The killer methodically stabbed and slashed to death Gregov, 39; Mrs. Gregov, 35, and their three sons, then neatly covered the bodies—Gregov's with a rug, the others with blankets or sheets. The mother's and sons' hands were bound behind their backs.

Also slain—by 17 stab wounds—was the Gregovs' pet dog.

The slayer struck from the front and back, plunging the weapon 20 to 30 times in each victim, mostly "deep, penetrating wounds" five or six inches deep, said Dr. Leslie Lukash, Nassau County medical examiner.

Gregov was a waiter, holding down two jobs, one in a night club as head waiter, the other in a restaurant.

Gregov came to the United States several years ago from Yugoslavia. In 1956, he helped a brother come here. Last year, he helped another brother, his sister and her husband, Ivanov, immigrate.

Neighbors said Gregov opened his Long Island home to the Ivanovs and they lived there for several weeks.

Domestic difficulties developed in the Ivanov family and Gregov asked his sister to take her troubles to Domestic Relations Court, she said. That led to Ivanov's committal on June 12 to the Central Islip State Hospital. He escaped Nov. 15.

Mrs. Ivanov said he was carrying a kitchen knife under his belt when he came to her residence in Booklyn Saturday morning. He threatened to cut off her head if she told of the visit, she said, then left shortly before noon after telling their four children, "Goodbye forever."

Police said the Gregov family feared Ivanov because of Gregov's role in the committal.

Autopsies on three of the bodies indicated that the Gregovs were slain between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday.

Two policemen, summoned by a brother of Gregov, found the victims before daylight yesterday in the modest home in Mineola. The brother had become alarmed because Gregov didn't meet him after work. Repeated telephone calls to the home were unanswered.

Gregov's body was in the living room and Mrs. Gregov's in a bedroom. In another bedroom was the body of Peter Jr., 17, a high school honor student. In the basement were Ronald, 15, behind a a playroom bar and Michael, 11, near an oil burner.

Pinnell said there was no sign of forced entry and, except for the covers removed from the beds to place on the bodies, no disorder.

Ivanov had been "depressed, upset and threatening suicide" at the time of his admission, said Dr. J. C. Kennedy of the hospital staff, but was "a quiet patient, a well-behaved patient."

Bay Bridge Bump Makes Traffic Crawl Along

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco-bound traffic slowed to a crawl today on the Bay Bridge and cars backed up to the toll plaza on the Oakland side, because of a road modification job at the Yerba Buena Island tunnel.

The traffic backup which came was no surprise. Westbound cars have been suffering delays since Saturday as a result of a 26-inch bump vehicles have to negotiate at snail's pace.

This obstacle is a raised deck of metal plates installed so workmen can lower the roadbed through the tunnel. The idea is to allow traffic to move while workmen excavate underneath. The roadbed is being lowered to increase clearance for big trucks.

Work will continue through most of the coming year, according to Norman Raab, chief engineer for State Toll Bridge Authority.

However, he added, "The worst should be over in a month so so."

To hold down the accident rate, the highway patrol cut speed through the tunnel to 25 miles an hour; then to 15.

Ford Is Hit By Antitrust Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department filed a civil antitrust suit today against the Ford Motor Co. over its acquisition of Electric Autolite Co.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit.

A department spokesman said the suit asks the court to order Ford divest itself of two manufacturing plants, sales facilities and the "Autolite" trade name it acquired last spring from the Electric Autolite Co. of Toledo, Ohio.

The government charged that Ford's acquisition could substantially decrease competition in the spark plug business and in other automobile parts.

Ford purchased the "Autolite" trade name; the company's spark plug plant at Fostoria, Ohio; its battery plant at Owosso, Mich., and most of its sales organization last April 12.

An April 4 letter to Electric Autolite stockholders, the government said, reported the firm received about 28 million dollars in the deal.

Electric Autolite had been one of the nation's biggest independent suppliers of automobile parts. Autolite, the Champion Spark Plug Co., and General Motors produced more than 90 per cent of all spark plugs turned out in this country last year, the government said.

Besides spark plugs, Electric Autolite also had produced batteries, generators, electrical motors, instruments, and ignition systems in a full line of automotive electrical products using the name "Autolite," the government added.

Video Quiz Scandal Pair Plead Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons jnvolved in television's quiz show scandals pleaded guilty today to charges they lied in denying they received help in answering questions. They received suspended sentences.

The pleas were entered by Timothy Horan of White Plains, N. Y., and Joseph Rosner of Manhattan, who had appeared on "Tic Tac Dough." Moran won $34,800 and Rosner $1,700.

Each had been indicted on two counts of second-degree perjury for telling a grand jury they had received no help. As their trial in Special Sessions Court was to begin, they were permitted to plead guilty to one count each.

Asst. Dist. Atty Joseph Stone asked that Judge Thomas E. Rohan approve the move because both men had been cooperative in assisting the two-year investigation and had shown remorse over giving false testimony.

Two Are Feared Lost As Boat Capsizes

A helicopter from Hamilton Air Force Base rescued a man clinging to a capsized boat off the Russian River mouth Saturday, but Coast Guard search for a man and his wife who had also been in the boat was abandoned last night after it appeared certain they could not have survived.

Maj. Thomas Crull piloted the helicopter sent by Detachment 11 of the Base Rescue Section, Western Air Rescue Center.

A sling was thrown out by Capt. Troy L. Allen, rescue commander. It was caught by James Talbott, Napa construction foreman who was clinging to a mooring ring in the bow of the overturned 16-foot cabin cruiser. He was promptly lifted clear and carried a mile to shore.

'Copter crew members were T/Sgt. Harold A. McDonald and A/1c Cecil A. Boothby.

Although the rescue was achieved within about an hour of the accident, darkness had fallen and nothing could be seen of Talbott's companions, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leissner, who had been drifting out to sea, clinging together and apparently on floating life jackets.

One jacket was found ashore last night by a Sonoma County sheriff's searching party.

The Coast Guard sent the Dexter, a 311-foot ship used for harbor entrance patrol, and a 95-foot patrol boat as well as two Albatross amphibian aircraft from the San Francisco base.

Leissner, like Talbott a Napa construction foreman, had moored his boat three days earlier in the river mouth while he, his wife and Talbott camped on Rivers End Beach nearby.

After a noon trip in the cruiser they anchored in the river but in late afternoon again went aboard and started the engine while lifting the anchor. Apparently the anchor rope fouled the propellor and the craft was swept out the river mouth by a strong current at ebb tide.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Jr. Giants Victory Suggests Establishing Grid Bowl Here

The young gridders of the Redwood Junior Giants deserve the praise and commendations of all Marin for their spectacular 51-28 victory Thanksgiving Day in the Bronco Bowl at Boise, Iadho. It was a fitting climax to an undefeated season.

The Giants brought credit upon Marin County not only for their football prowess, but also for the way that they conducted themselves both on and off the field.

We're proud of them and of their coaches.

Two other Marin Pop Warner teams also had bowl bids. Both the San Rafael and the Mill Valley teams played in the double-header Fiesta Bowl in Redwood City. Thus half of Marin's six Pop Warner teams win post-season recognition.

All of which brings up the obvious question:

Why don't we have some sort of a bowl game of our own here in Marin?

Why not plan next season a State Junior Championship Bowl in which the champion of this area plays an invited champion from Southern California here in Marin?

Twice now the Redwood Junior Giants have gone back to Idaho to play an Idaho team in the cold, slushy weather of Boise. Perhaps we could invite an Idaho team down to balmy Marin, or maybe a team from Oregon or Nevada?

There are numerous ideas which could be developed, which might eventually lead to a real championship elimination, like in Little League Baseball, with the final game or games scheduled on, say, the San Rafael High School turf.

What is needed is a sponsor, interested in boys and athletics, which would undertake the hard work and planning which goes into such a contest. In Boise, it's the Optimists Club. Perhaps one of the local Optimists Clubs or other service organizations dedicated to youth development would consider such a project.

Bringing Up Glamour Girl

In the days when our character was being moulded by the toys we received for Christmas, we were given erector sets, doctor outfits and microscopes in the hope that we would evolve an abiding interest in science.

Now we wonder what the world is coming to. From the toy catalogue we received in the mail, it would appear that some modern parents may be trying to raise their daughters to be expensive floozies.

Take the "Glamour Dress-Up Set." For girls from four to nine. An imitation satin-lined fur stole, simulated pearls and diamond ring, and a plastic orchid. Who wants to be tied down at home with a nasty little Dydee Doll?

For little girls who can't quite aspire to the mink set, there is an outfit of a girdle, nylons and ruffled can-can garters.

However, we're not worried about the future of California womanhood. After all, we didn't become a scientist.

WHAT HAPPENED TO HIGH NOTES?

For some strange reason the organ in a Buffalo, N.Y. church just wouldn't hit the high notes.

When the organist complained, an investigation was made. Eventually the police were called in. They found that someone had stolen 47 of the pipes.

It was estimated that replacements for the missing pipes would cost $800.

The world's greatest musician would be at a loss to give an impressive performance unless all the pipes were in the organ, or all the strings were on the harp. Without the proper equipment, no amount of noble purpose or skill will suffice.

We can be thankful to almighty God that He never fails to provide us with the means to carry out the mission in life to which He has assigned us.

Put your gratitude to work by making full use of all the opportunities that come your way to restore the harmony that should be present in the lives of our fellow men.

"He that abides in Me, and I in him, the same bears much fruit: for without Me you can do nothing."

U.S. Must Decide How To Deal With New European Trade Giant

WASHINGTON — It now seems certain that the administration will go to Congress in the coming session to ask for new powers in order to negotiate about tariffs and trade arrangements with the European Common Market.

This is a bold decision, and not without considerable risk. It was taken because of a feeling in the highest councils of government that despite the fact that 1962 is not an ideal time to begin the painful process of adjustment to the emerging new trading world, a beginning cannot be put off.

This sense of urgency is due only in part to the fact that the Trade Agreements Act expires next summer. More than that, the Western Community and the United States in particular need a momentum which has been lacking in recent months.

THE DECISION to move forward now rather than in 1963 is risky, not only because 1962 is an election year when, as the saying goes, the tariff becomes a local issue in each district. An even greater difficulty, it seems to me, is that Congress and the country will not have before them as a going concern the new Common Market which will be created when Great Britain and other European powers join the original six members.

It may not be easy to make the country understand what the enlarged common market is going to be in the future, when in fact it is not yet in existence.

A MIGHTY EFFORT of public education is going to be needed to make the country realize how revolutionary the change is going to be. The enlarged Common Market will be the biggest trading area in the world. It will soon have free trade within it and a common tariff against us and all the other nations around it. This gigantic industrial complex is now growing at a rate which is twice our own average since the Korean War.

As an example, which ought to be favorable to the United States, we may look at the production of motor vehicles. The Common Market and Britain together are now producing just short of 6,000,000 vehicles a year. We are now producing at the rate of 8,000,000 a year.

But since 1950, our output has changed very little while that of the Common Market countries has quadrupled. Even Britain, with a slower rate of growth than that of the Western Continent, has doubled its output.

IN THE NEW Common Market we shall be facing a very formidable competitor with a faster rate of growth, with an enormous internal market, and with a highly efficient capacity to export. We shall be facing not only a competition which is formidable but the likelihood of deep difficulties in our balance of payments.

If we do not take strong measures at home and abroad, we may well find ourselves in an extremely difficult decade.

As the realities become visible to us, we shall find that we must reappraise assumptions which this generation of Americans have become used to taking for granted. Primarily, there is the assumption that in our relations with Europe we are the givers and they are the receivers, that it depends on us, therefore, how much or how little we shall participate in the affairs of Europe.

This assumption is ceasing to be valid as Western Europe, with its amazingly rapid economic growth, draws closely together toward economic and political union.

WE HAVE JUST begun to discuss the question of how we propose to adjust ourselves to the new economic reality. Discussion has been started by the Clayton-Herter report, the path-breaking speech of George Ball before the National Foreign Trade Convention, and the President's remarks at his recent press conference.

In much of the comment on what they have said the old assumption persists — that we are able to fix the terms on which we will associate ourselves with the new Common Market. But at once we are being warned from Europe that it is not going to work that way.

We are being told, quite bluntly for example by William Rees-Mogg, the discerning and accomplished economic editor of the "Sunday Times" of London, that it will now be difficult to obtain "any settlement with Europe which will expand American trading opportunities. The independence of Europe, from America and Russia, has now become a theme to which both the Americans and Russians are going to be asked to dance."

THIS MEANS that the Common Market is not merely a profitable economic arrangement. It is also the substance of a political union which is being forged into a new great power in the world.

In this century we have seen great powers die. Now, it would seem, we are witnessing the birth of a new great power.

What the world knows as the Common Market and as the European Economic Community is not, as the names suggest, merely an enlightened device for promoting prosperity. It is that. But the inner motive and resolve of the leaders of the Common Market is to make Europe again, as it was for so many centuries—until the World Wars of our times—a great center of power and influence around the globe.

THAT IS WHY when Britain decided to apply for membership, the crucial question was not how to safeguard the economic interests of the Commonwealth. That is quite manageable. The crucial question has been whether Great Britain was renouncing its political separation from the Continent, and whether it would then participate in the poltical purposes of the Continental countries.

After the British have settled their relationship, it will be our turn to begin to negotiate.

When 50 Little Shovelers Attack Indian Mound Anything Happens

The other day we went with 50 little shovelers to the China Camp Indian mounds where Digger Indians used to dump their used fire rocks. It was a day to remember.

We climbed under a barbed wire fence up onto the huge mound. The short ones, studying the Diggers in California history, carried shovels, trowels, scratchers and some had silver spoons.

Soon dust was flying amidst stickery gorse bushes and with cries of "Give me that shovel, kid," and "Hey!" and "Let's go some place where they haven't duggen yet."

A PARENT-SPONSORED trip, with mothers having driven the children to the scene, two third grade teachers were in the train, Jane Clayton and Nancy Waldeck. However, Miss Waldeck was so busy organizing everyone that she was left behind at school and Principal William Lovvorn had to rush her to the mounds a little late.

Fire stones were the chief finds. These were once used to heat water in baskets and to steam clams and oysters. According to archeologist Norman Wilson, assistant supervisor at Samuel P. Taylor State Park, the mound signifies an old village site.

Mrs. Clayton was beleaguered with, "What's this?"

"Fire stone," she replied.

"What's this?" asked Steven German.

"Probably fire stone," said the teacher.

"Couldn't be," said German, "because I brought it from school before I left."

MOTHERS DUG, too. Mrs. John Beedle and Mrs. George Artus worked as a team, beside their small diggers.

"I'm afraid I'll find a toe bone," Mrs. Beedle said. "My husband asked me what I would do if I came across a toe bone. I'd die."

Getting stuck in the leg with a thistle, we moved on. Overheard Ben Alvord say to his friend, "If you bust that shovel, I'll bust you." Reddish-haired, freckled Billy Harrington said, "I've found millions of them." (Fire stones.)

Tow-headed Zachary Smith, down in the big hole with three other short people, said, "They use the stones for adzes." Then Dan Shalleck found a silver bullet. "That couldn't have been from the Indians," we said. "They could have been fighting Indians," said Dan.

"I wish I had brought some flower pots," Mrs. Artus said. "It's wonderful potting soil."

Said Harry Kemp, laconically, holding a huge shovel, "What is fire stone worth? All the rock is fire stone."

"WATCH OUT for your foot," said a little girl.

Mrs. Nancy Emmons, to her son, Andrew, said, "Oh, I don't think that's anything." "It might be Indian jewelry," he answered, holding a large, lumpy rock.

Boy to Lisa Adler with pigtail: "You've moved 20 times."

"We found a bug," she answered.

There was Zachary Smith, still down in the biggest hole, almost buried, with three other children picking and sifting.

Kirk Beedle had a sack full of stone. Gretchen had a dirty face.

Then there was a great commotion and shouts of "I found an arrowhead." "Arrowhead!" "Let's see, John." "Neat-O!" and "Cool-ey!" John, with others after him, leaped down the sticker bush mound to the place of discovery.

"ONE BOY is losing his pants," Mrs. Clayton said. "He's got so many fire rocks in his pockets." She added that she believed the mound must be saved for the youngsters. "It's worth so much to them."

Two potato bugs were found, a spider and a grasshopper, a bent stick and a beer can opener. William Maxwell found a piece of pottery with a design on it.

"I'll break your head in with my cutting stone," someone yelled.

"I think it's about time to go," said one of the mothers, uneasily. And down the mound we went, under the barbed-wire fence.

Destroying What Had Right To Live

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On facing pages of our newspaper tonight (11/21) were a photograph of a hunter pridefully posing with a rare and beautiful, but dead, goose, and another picture of a group of gunners displaying their kill of an unusual and attractive deer.

This is sport?

In neither case could any of those brave marksmen have taken one of these harmless and handsome creatures in a fair contest. Completely outclassed in matters of fleetness, keenness of sight and hearing, dexterity and combat ability on a pound-for-pound basis, the humans had to rely on firearms from remote cover to destroy what had every right to live.

Quality Of Mercy Be Not Strained

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have written the following letter to the President and request that you print it to invoke thought and action on the urgent matter of protecting the prestige and the leadership role of the United States in the eyes of the world.

Dear Mr. President:

We urge you to consider the tragic consequences to the reputation of the United States, as well as to the suffering people of China, if we do not sell our overabundance of wheat to mitigate human suffering—regardless of the political views and policies dominating such people.

It is ridiculous enough to carry on the policy of denying the existence of the Red Chinese nation—no matter how much we resent its existence and despise its aims and methods; but to deny our idle stocks of food to hungry people—among them the aged, the ill and the immature—is a crassness beyond belief.

Further, it is to be hoped that the "quality of mercy" be "not strained" and that, should we rise to our human responsibility in allowing the grain to go to China—or to any other land where it is sorely needed—we do not sink to driving a hard bargain or to granting only a niggardly allotment. Let us remember noblesse oblige.

Grounds Improvement On School Agenda

Plans for improving the schoolgrounds at San Rafael's elementary and high schools are to be discussed by architect Carl F. Gromme at the San Rafael Board of Education's meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the district office on Mission Avenue.

The board also will receive a report on final inspection of the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School, which has been completed to free buildings of the former school of the same name for Davidson Junior High classrooms. Completion of the new school will mean the last classes will be moved out of E Street School, going to Laurel Dell.

Appraisers' reports on the E Street property are to be presented at the meeting. The City of San Rafael has asked the board of education to give it first refusal on the E Street School, which is one of the possible new city hall sites being studied for the city by Ebasco Services.

Recommendations regarding payment for home instruction are to be made by Supt. Bert C. Corona. Two home instruction teachers complained to the Nov. 14 board meeting that their pay was below that for such work in other districts.

Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson is to report on policy regarding use of gymnasiums by other schools. Robert E. Shore, coordinator for the "more able learner" program, is to report on that program.

Clerk Arrested In Snapping Of Power Pole

A 21-year-old San Francisco stock clerk was arrested Saturday on suspicion of driving into and snapping a power pole on Tiburon Boulevard and leaving the scene of the accident.

According to California Highway patrolmen and Sheriff's deputies, Thomas Hale Cooper apparently struck a PG&E pole near the intersection of Bay Vista Drive about 2:30 a.m. He was apprehended by Deputy Carl Mead on the frontage road near the Alto interchange where he admitted hitting the pole but said he drove on because he thought he had caused no damage.

Cooper was freed on $276 bail and ordered to appear in Municipal Court tomorrow afternoon.

Physical Education Program Is Approved

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees last week heard reports on the district's physical education program and indicated they felt that it is satisfactory.

Mrs. Mildred Sadler, Stinson Beach School principal, and James Matranga, Bolinas principal, outlined the programs of their respective schools.

MISSING BOY—Bruce Crawford (above), 15-year-old Avon Lake, Ohio boy, disappeared from his home on Sept. 23. He was described by his parents as five-feet, nine-inches tall, weighing 135 pounds with brown hair, brown eyes and braces on his lower teeth. His parents have issued a plea for anyone knowing of his whereabouts to notify the local police department.

Rezoning Of Terra Linda On Tap For City Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold first public hearing tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall on an application for rezoning of 24 acres near Terra Linda from unclassified to planned community zoning.

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. B. Wheeler and Sanford B. Weiss, plan 215 units for the area, ranging in size from single family dwellings up to one building of 16 units. The development, to be known as Terra Linda Meadows, would be an extension of Manuel Freitas Parkway on Monticello Road. No commercial building is planned for the area.

A second public hearing will be held on rezoning of a parcel of land on Jones Place south of First Street from duplex residential to multiple family residential.

The San Rafael Methodist Church will apply for a use permit and variances which would permit remodeling of a home opposite the church at 199 Greenfield Avenue into a church school.

Robert Stock will request a use permit to convert a residence at 1450 Lincoln Avenue to a rest home.

A public hearing date will be set for an appeal to rezone a lot at Lincoln Avenue at Pacheco Street which would permit construction of a service station., The lot is owned by United Ambulance Co.

INFORMATION CHIEF—Maj. Neil J. O'Donnell of Novato has assumed duties as information officer of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, at Fort Baker following services as military advisor to a South Korean anti-aircraft artillery group at Pusan.

Corte Madera Will Try Again For Pool

Corte Madera parks and recreation commissioners will again try to get a swimming pool in the town park, they decided last week.

A petition will be circulated next month in hopes of obtaining approval of 15 per cent of Corte Madera's registered voters to put a swimming pool bond issue on the ballot in the April 10, 1962, municipal election.

A bond issue for the swimming pool project was defeated in 1957. The cost of the pool at that time was estimated at $130,000. New estimate from the San Francisco landscape architectural firm of Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes is $165,000.

Bolinas Names Sanitary Unit

A special committee was named last week by the Bolinas Community Inc. to determine whether a feasibility survey should be made for joint sanitary facilities for the Bolinas and Stinson Beach areas.

Capt. David Edwards, president of the organization, announced that the comittee will be headed by Sherman Smith. Other members include Marion Dowdall, John Hamilton, Hurford Sharon and Captain Edwards.

Next meeting of the Bolinas Community Inc. is set for 8 p.m. Dec. 29 at the Bolinas Community Center. Florence Locke of Bolinas, a Shakespearean actress, will entertain at that meeting.

Unhappy Hickey Raps 49er Defense For Shoddy Show

Offense Stars In 38-28 Victory Over Minnesota

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Red Hickey and his 49ers were in a second place NFL tie today with the Detroit Lions but the redhead was far from happy with the way they got there on a 38-28 win over Minnesota's Vikings.

"If we defense the Colts in Baltimore next Sunday the way we did the Vikings in Kezar," said Hickey, "Johnny Unitas will pass us out of the park."

Hickey was well satisfied with the way his men operated offensviely once again off the T, particularly John Brodie, R. C. Owens and J. D. Smith—and so was a Kezar crowd of 43,905.

Before the Vikings got their bearings in their first visit to Kezar, Brodie, Owens and Smith put three TDs on the scoreboard. Then, the 49er defense, leaky as an uncalked skiff, let the Vikes score a couple of touchdowns.

That made Hickey very unhappy. He especially disliked the way Minnesota acquired its second TD in the closing 58 seconds of the first half since the tally would not have been possible if rookie quarterback Fran Tarkenton had not negotiated a 31-year pass to end Gordon Smith on a fourth-and-eight-to-go situation.

"Let's just say our defense wasn't up to standard," said Hickey.

Matt Hazeltine was excluded from that criticism. The 49er defensive captain tossed Tarkenton for minus twelve on one occasion and on a couple of others recovered a pair of Viking fumbles, one of them by an old teammate, Hugh McElhenny.

"Our offensive blocking was sharp, giving Smith good opening starts," said Hickey. "As for Owens, it was his best game of the year."

Hickey's tribute to Owens prompted someone to quip: "Maybe you better persuade your front office to get him under contract by giving him the raise he wants."

Owens made five almost unbelievable catches for 138 yards, more than half of the 246 credited to Brodie on 14 pass completions out of 24 tries.

Smith carried 27 of the 31 times Brodie called ground plays and posted 168 pards to tie the all-time one game 49er record set by Joe Perry against Green Bay in 1957. Smith accounted for all but 28 of the 196 yards rushing by the 49ers and of that 28 Brodie contributed 16 on a bootleg touchdown run.

When the Brodie-Owens-Smith combo ran the score to 21-0, the crowd relaxed in a picnic mood, warmly applauding a former home hero, McElhenny, as he romped once for 25 yards with a swing pass and once for 18 on the old Statue of Liberty handoff from Tarkenton.

Hickey didn't mind the relaxed attitude of the crowd, commenting "I guess they like the wide open, high scoring games." But he minced no words about the way the 49er defense seemed to relax after the offense posted that three touchdown lead.

As for McElhenny, Hickey had a good word—"still a fine ball player and still a shifty one. He could still be with us but he didn't want to be a reserve. That's why he went to the Vikings."

Minnesota rookie coach Norm Van Brocklin declared "Smith in my mind is one of the greatest backs in the league and that Owens just goes up and takes the ball away from defenders."

Jack Morris, charged with the job of defending against Owens, had this to say about the 49er who is playing out his option this season and will be a free agent in three weeks if he doesn't get the raise he wants:

"Owens' timing is absolutely fantastic in his leaps for the ball. It is almost impossible to defense him because he is all arms and legs when he goes up."

Owens was the decoy and Monty Stickles the receiver in the first 49er TD that spanned 61 yards in seven plays. Stickles caught a pair, one for 19, the other for 12, when Smith wasn't working the ground route which he did for the final six yards.

A 40-yard beauty by Brodie, with ex-49er Karl Rubke hanging on his neck, was taken by Owens for TD No. 2. Smith and Owens had to work overtime for TD No. 3. Smith, in four carries, got 66 yards and Owens made one of his spectacular leaps for a 47-yard pass from Honest John—a total of 113 yards, all of which were necessary because of a couple of 15-yard penalties, one a clip, one a hold. C. R. Roberts, incidentally, score TD No. 3 from the one but it was Smith and Owens who put in on the one.

VIKES SCORE

Now the Vikes finally scored, midway in the second quarter, on an eight play 58-yard sequence featuring McElhenny and some classy running by rookie Tommy Mason who bolted the 49er middle for the last nine yards.

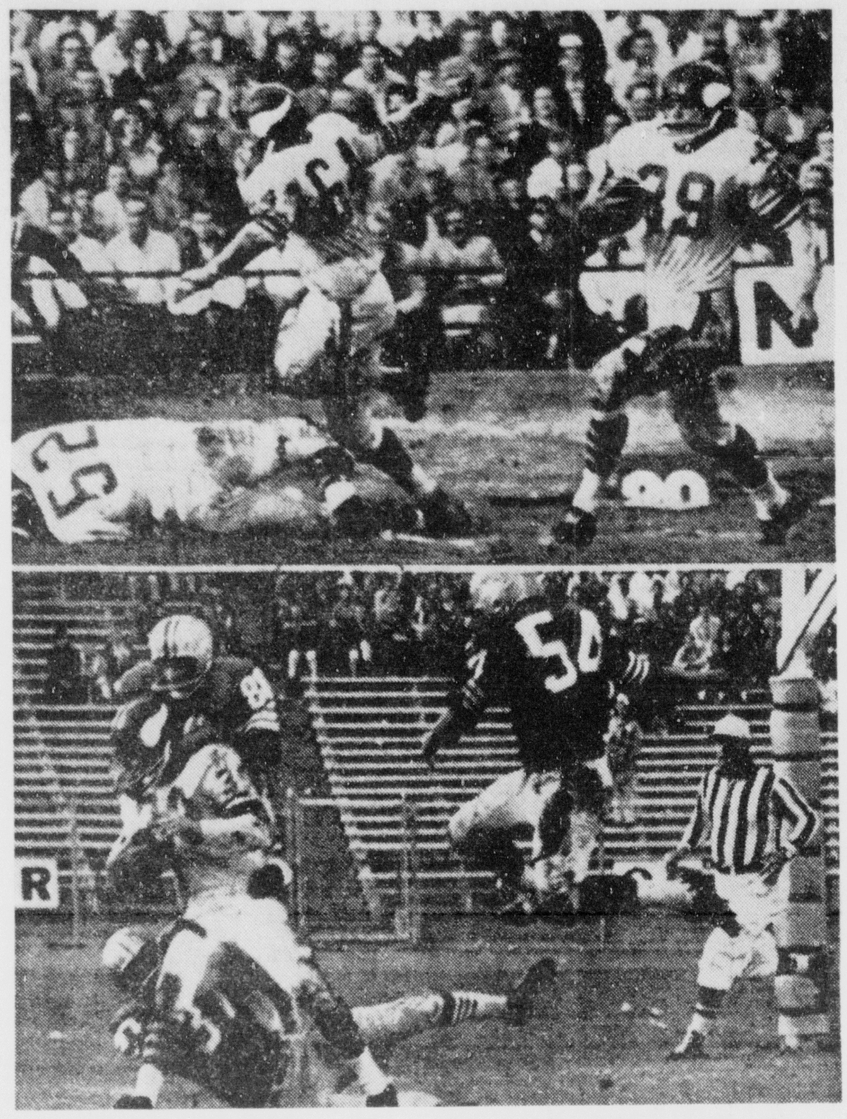
Then came a 42-yard field goal by Tommy Davis after which the Vikings traveled 76 yards in 11 plays, one of them being the fourth-and-eight Tarkenton-Smith 31-yard pass that Tarkenton promptly followed with a 17-yard scoring strike to veteran Jerry Reichow.

The third quarter was drawing to a close when Mason fumbled and Hazeltine recovered on the Minnesota 40 from which Owens and Smith took it in, Owens with another 25-yard spectacular, Smith with a 16-yard power drive.

Tarkenton and Smith quickly got that TD equalized on a 71-yard pass-run play that caught Dave Baker zigging when he should have been zagging.

A few minutes after the final quarter opened, McElhenny fumbled with Hazeltine's help in midfield and Hazeltine corraled the ball on the Minnesota 47. Once again Smith and Owens went to work, Owens leaping for a 22-yarder from Brodie, Smith cracking for nine to the 16, Brodie rolling out the final yardage with the ball on his hip bootlegger style as Bruce Bosley cleared rookie linebacker Rip Hawkins out of his way.

McElhenny's 18-yard Statue of Liberty run and his 25-yard romp with a swing pass allowed Tarkenton to score from the one for the final tally and boost Minnesota's overall yardage to 416, 139 on the ground, 277 in the air—just 26 short of what the 49ers compiled.



BROAD JUMP — Bob Harrison (54), San Francisco 49er linebacker leaps into the fray as Minnesota Viking Hugh McElhenny (39) is being mauled down by halfbacks Jerry Mertens (80) and Jim Johnson (37) of San Francisco. Ex-49er McElhenny stepped off 26 yards before they dropped him in the fourth period at Kezar yesterday. San Francisco won, 38-28. (AP Wirephoto)

Tittle's Arm Carries Giants Big Step Closer To Pennant

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yelverton Abraham Tittle, like the fabled Rumpelstilskin, has a name that's virtually impossible to remember. But his exploits are hard to forget.

Acquired in an Aug. 15 trade that caused little stir, Tittle has been the No. 1 offensive weapon for the New York Giants in a series of stunning triumphs, the latest a 37-21 walloping of the Cleveland Browns yesterday.

Tittle, 34, with 12 years' experience in the National Football League, completed 18 of 27 passes for 253 yards against the Browns and kept the Giants rolling toward the Eastern Conference title with their fourth consecutive romp and ninth victory in their last 10 games.

Under the Bald Eagle's guidance, the revitalized New York offensive has accounted for an amazing 170 points in the last four games as the Giants built and maintained a one-game lead over the defending league champion Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles (8-3) kept pace yesterday, whipping the Dallas Cowboys 35-13 behind Sonny Jurgenson's five touchdown passes. They still have three games left, including a Dec. 10 meeting with the Giants at Philadelphia.

In the Western Conference, Green Bay, 17-9 winner over Detroit Thursday, holds a commanding lead over the Lions and San Francisco 49ers, tied for the runner-up spot at 6-4-1. The Packers, at 9-2, can wrap it up with one more victory. They meet the Giants at Milwaukee next.

OTHER GAMES

The 49ers remained in contention by beating Minnesota 38-28. In other games, Chicago edged Los Angeles 28-24. Baltimore thumped Washington 27-6 and Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 20-27.

Despite Tittle's prolific passing, the Giants scored all their touchdowns on the ground with Y. A. rambling five yards for one in the key clash that has just about eliminated the Browns (7-4) from title contention. Bobby Gaiters scored twice, on runs of one and 11 yards, Erich Barnes got the other on a 35-yard jaunt with an interception and Pat Summerall contributed three field goals.

Milt Plum got two scores for Cleveland with 43 and 15-yard tosses to Ray Renfro. The Giants held league rushing leader Jimmy Brown to 68 yards in 20 carries before a disappointed crowd of 80,455. That throng helped push the weekend attendance total for the league to 344,466, just under the seven-game record of 353,084 set Nov. 5.

CASARES STARS

The Bears (6-5), with fullback Rick Casares scoring three times, needed a 55-yard touchdown pass from Billy Wade to Willie Galimore with two minutes left to win it. Zeke Bratkowski passed for three Rams' (3-8) scores, including an 84-yarder to Ollie Matson.

Johnny Unitas connected with Jim Mutscheller for a 10-yard touchdown flip in the first period and when Steve Mhyra added the conversion the Colts (6-5) had all they needed to extend the inept Redskins (0-10-1) winless streak to 21 games.

Sub quarterback Rudy Bukich took over for Bobby Layne, engineered a 44-yard drive that spelled success for the Steelers (5-6) when Lou Michaels kicked an 18-yard field goal with 17 seconds left to beat the Cards (4-7). It was Michaels' third of the day.

WASHINGTON DRAFTS HAMLIN

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Washington Senators selected Ken Hamlin, 25, shortstop of the Toronto Club of the International League, to open the annual major league baseball players today.

Hamlin, who originally had been drafted by the Los Angeles club of the American League for $75,000 in the special draft in 1960, cost the Senators $25,000. He played with Los Angeles last year as well as with Toronto. A fine defensive player, Hamlin batted .207 in 42 games at Los Angeles and .264 in 97 at Toronto.

In all, 20 teams participated in the draft, including the two new National League clubs, Houston and the New York Mets.

CONNOLLY

There was another great offensive show at Kezar Stadium yesterday as the San Francisco Forty-Niners took an early lead over the Minnesota Vikings and then maintained a ten point cushion throughout the last half to win going away, 38 to 28.

But the big story of the day is not the great passing of quarterback John Brodie from the reliable old "T" formation, nor the tremendous running show put on by J. D. Smith, nor the fine defensive effort of Matt Hazeltine.

It has to be the puzzle of R. C. Owens, past, present and future.

In his fifth year with the 49ers, no one knows just how good this lanky flanker back really is, and I doubt if he knows himself. Every player has good days and bad days. R. C. goes this one better by having good and bad minutes or seconds.

When Owens came out of the College of Idaho he was a big question mark, as it is harder to judge the abilities of a man who is playing against lesser competition. His reputation as a good basketball player with a good pair of hands probably had a good deal to do with his making the team.

KEEP YOUR glasses on Owens during a game and you begin to wonder what he does to earn his keep. On running plays he seems to avoid all contact with the opposition for play after play, to the point of goofing off. Suddenly, POW! he hits a defensive tackle or line backer like the most devastating blocker in the game.

On a pass pattern, R.C. sometimes runs like old Stepin Fetchit, going nowhere but slowly. Call his number and he will take a pass over his shoulder half way down the other side of the field, with faster defenders trailing him in vain.

Everyone remembers the old "Alley Oop" with R.C. standing in the end zone surrounded by three or four defenders and outjumping them all to catch a long, high, Y. A. Tittle lob pass. This play alone kept Owens on the roster for a couple of years and gave him his nickname of "Oop."

THE CONCLUSION has to be R. C. Owens is just as good as he wants to be at any given moment.

The future of this puzzling man is even more of a question mark. Pro players usually sign for two years, and then renew the contract each year for two more. If they fail to sign for the second year they "play out their option" and become free agents, able to sign with any team or the highest bidder.

And "Oop" is playing out his option this year, because he was unhappy with the pay offered him on the renewal last year. So where does he go from here? That will be up to the 49ers and the guardian of the money bags, or some other club will own his pair of hands.

THIS DOUBLE-edged dilemma has more than one club sweating it out. If the Ooper gets a good real, many other top line players may follow his pattern. And on the other hand, those who do not take this gamble may be jealous of the higher salaries of free agent stars, thereby hurting the team effort.

Central School Big At Olive Bowl

LINDSAY (AP) — Wingback Jim Blakney of Hanford provided the spark in College of the Sequoias' 36-0 football victory over Oceanside-Carlsbad College in the 15th annual Olive Bowl.

Blakney dashed 34 yards for one touchdown and passed 31 yards for another Saturday night.

SPITBALLS STILL NIX IN BASEBALL

TAMPA, FLA., (UPI) — It's tough news for the pitchers, but there'll be no spitballs thrown in the majors next season. Not legally, anyway.

Baseball's Playing Rules Committee made that official yesterday by voting down a proposal to legalize the spitters by an overwhelming margin of 8 to 1.

The committee, of course, couldn't do anything about a number of major league pitchers who throw spitballs illegally. Whitey Ford, the Yankees' 25-game winner, Pedro Ramos of the Twins, Early Wynn of the White Sox and Lew Burdette of the Braves are among those who have been accused of using spitters in violation of the rule.

"We decided to leave the rule the way it is after considerable discussion," said James Gallagher, chairman of the rules committee. "There doesn't seem to be any great need to give the pitchers another weapon.

"Besides, there was very little sentiment for any change," Gallagher added.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)–Tackle Frank Buncom of Southern California starred in a losing cause Saturday to win Big Five honors as its Lineman of the Week.

As his Trojans lost to UCLA 10-7 in the conference title decider, Buncom played 45 minutes and was instrumental in turning back several Bruin scoring threats.

Big Game History; Future Of Schools' Teams Is Issue

By JACK STEVENSON

STANFORD (AP) — With their Big Game now history, it's time for both California and 20-7 victor Stanford to look to their football futures.

Both are optimistic with good freshmen prospects expected to bolster the varsities in 1962.

Coach Jack Curtis of Stanford, with one year left in his five-year agreement, stemmed rumors that he would leave the Indians when he said, "I hope to fulfill my contract. Next year will be the best since I've been here. We'll have more depth and quickness. I've been trying to build and the things I've been trying to get done are just starting to culminate."

Coach Marv Levy of California sees a longer haul, saying "Give us two good freshman teams, back-to-back, and we can play championship football. The current frosh are promising — very much so — but we need a second incoming crop just as good, if not better. We mean to get them."

California's freshmen were undefeated this fall.

Stanford was pleased with the results of its second year of coast-to-coast recruiting of athletes who meet the school's scholastic requirements.

Yet more pleasing was the victory over California, the first Big Game triumph for the Indians in four years and their first Big Five win since the conference was formed three years ago.

The result left both teams with 1-3 records in the Big Five. Stanford wound up 4-6 overall and California 1-7-1.

Stars were many—substitute Jim Smith, who engineered the offense all afternoon, Stan Lindskog, who accounted for 72 yards in a 76-yard scoring drive, and fullback Hal Steuber, who arrived as a battering ram off the injured list.

Still Levy credited the Stanford defense with making the big difference as he said. "Stanford played better defense than we did throughout the season. The team with the better defense will win 90 per cent of the time."

Smith won his athletic fame as the star right-handed pitcher on the Stanford baseball team the past three seasons. He won a football letter in 1958 as a reserve and didn't turn out for the squad last year.

With his baseball eligibility ended, he joined the grid squad again this fall but hurt his right shoulder in pre-season drills. With Steve Thurlow out with mononucleosis and Chuck Butler down with a knee injury, Rod Sears and Smith were the available quarterbacks for the Big Game. But Sears suffered from the flu so after the first Stanford offensive series, Smith took over.

DESPITE WATER

Despite pouring rain, he threw pass strikes to Frank Patitucci for 19 yards and to Lindskog for 16 in a 55-yard scoring drive climased by Ken Babapian's one-yard plunge on the second quarter's first play.

Later in the period, halfback Gary Craig circled end for 24 yards and a touchdown after taking a pitchout from Smith. The preceding play, the quarterback had hit an 11-yard pass to Chris Jessen. In the third quarter, it was Lindskog turning in runs of 49, 2 and 21 to set up the third touchdown.

California finally scored on a four-yard hootleg run by Randy Gold after guard John Erby recovered a Stanford fumble at the Indian 10.

GETS GAME BALL

Bob Gaiters, left, rookie fullback from New Mexico State, receives the game ball in the New York Giants' dressing room after yesterday's 37-21 Giant victory over the Cleveland Browns. Admiring Gaiters' trophy is Giant quarterback Y. A. Tittle, right, who scored a touchdown and brilliantly completed 18 of 27 passes for 253 yards. Gaiters scored twice and gained 63 yards in 15 carries. (AP Wirephoto)

Bowl Battle Now Up To Committees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The battle for the postseason bowl spots comes off the gridiron and into eight committee conference rooms at as many sites today, with Alabama's final bid for a flock of honors and the annual war between Army and Navy this weekend temporarily sidetracked.

Only the Orange Bowl committee has finished its work, having Colorado and Louisiana State set for its Jan. 1, 1962 extravaganza.

Now it remains for the Rose Bowl committee to tap Ohio State as an opponent for UCLA in the Rose Bowl; for the Cotton Bowl committee to select Mississippi to face Texas, and for the Sugar Bowl committee to sweat out 'Bama's game against Auburn before inviting it to play Southwest Conference co-champ Arkansas in New Orleans.

These three are pretty well decided on pairings, with 'Bama Coach Bear Bryant, having decided on the Sugar Bowl if picked still trying to get a perfect 10-0 season, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with LSU and most likely the top spot in the final Associated Press poll the following week, bringing with it the national championship.

FRIDAY WINNER

Georgia Tech is already in the Gator Bowl, but that committee must pick between Miami (Fla.), a Friday night winner over Northwestern, and Penn State, which beat Pitt 47-26. The Hurricanes wind up against Florida this week and may get the nod, having beaten Penn State 25-8 earlier in the season.

With Missouri having eliminated itself from any bowl consideration after a 10-7 loss to Kansas' Jayhawks and with Syracuse already in the Liberty Bowl, there remains a pool of bowl eligibles that must fill both spots in the Bluebonnet, Gotham and National Trophy bowls, and the other spot in Philadelphia's Dec. 16 Liberty affair.

These include: Auburn, Kansas, Utah State, Wyoming, Rice, Duke and Maryland, in addition to Penn State and Miami.

Kansas has a blanket invitation to the Gotham, Dec. 9 in New York, and is also a Liberty favorite, along with Duke. Auburn has been given the nod by Washington's Dec. 30 National Trophy affair. Neither has accepted.

Ohio State jumped to the head of the Rose Bowl line with a crashing 50-20 victory over Michigan which wrapped up the Big Ten title as Minnesota lost to Wisconsin 23-21. UCLA won the Big Five title and the host spot with a 10-7 victory over Southern California.

'BAMA IDLE

Arkansas' 28-0 victory over Texas Tech tied it with Texas for the SWC crown and sent the Razorbacks into the Sugar Bowl. 'Bama was idle while Auburn beat Florida 32-15.

Texas nailed down the Cotton Bowl and co-SWC title on Thanksgiving Day. Ole Miss will probably give its answer to a bid after its game this week against Mississippi State. The Rebels also had last weekend off.

Colorado nailed down the Big Eight title with a 35-0 victory over Iowa State, in addition to its Orange Bowl trip. Virginia's 28-16 upset of Maryland killed the Terps' chances for the Gator Bowl.

Elsewhere, Rutgers finished its first perfect season with a 32-19 victory over Columbia, which had already nailed down a share of the Ivy League crown. Harvard got the other share with a 27-0 victory over Yale.

In other top games Saturday, Michigan State kept Illinois winless this year, 34-7, Iowa romped over Notre Dame 42-21, Syracuse beat Boston College 28-13, Dartmouth knocked Princeton out of a share of the Ivy League title 24-6 and Rice beat TCU 35-16 to stay in the running for a bowl bid.

WEST COAST SAGGING

UCLA's Bowl Job: Regain Prestige

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's Bruins draw the Rose Bowl assignment and with it the big job of trying to restore West Coast football prestige that sagged this year with intersectional losses.

The Uclans won the bowl berth with a 10-7 victory over Southern California Saturday in their finale of the regular season and Trojan Coach Johnny McKay commented:

"The Bruins are a good, sound team. I think people will be surprised by their showing in the Rose Bowl."

An opponent for UCLA will be chosen by the Big Five representatives later this week or possibly not until early next week. Big Ten champion Ohio State draws the most mention and should the Buckeyes be chosen and accept, the Pasadena game would see a rematch.

Ohio State beat the Bruins 13-3 last Oct. 7. UCLA also lost to Michigan and Washington in compiling a 7-3 record and a winning 3-1-0 in the Big Five.

Last Saturday's traditional battles along the coast all lived up to their advance billings as hard fought affairs.

Halfback Charlie Mitchell ran 23 yards with less than two minutes to play to give Washington a 21-17 victory over Washington State. A fumble provided Oregon State a 6-2 triumph over Oregon and unsung quarterback Jim Smith engineered a 20-7 victory for Stanford over California.

Only Oregon State plays this week, closing out its season at the University of Houston.

UCLA tailback Bobby Smith provided the winning touchdown for the Bruins in the third quarter of a rain drenched game by fighting six yards for a touchdown. Smith had booted a 31-yard field goal after Mike Haffner set it up with a 61-yard run.

That came in the second quarter but the lead shifted to USC when Trojan quarterback Pete Beathard ran a quick kick back 52 yards for a touchdown.

UCLA dominated the game as the Trojans crossed the midfield stripe only twice.

Washington's Mitchell ran his 23 yards to cap a 64-yard drive bringing victory after Washington State led 14-12 at the half and 17-15 after three quarters.

An early-season 21-14 loss to California cost Washington the title and a chance for a third trip to the Rose Bowl, where the Huskies twice had defended Western honor with victories over Wisconsin and Minnesota. This time they finished 2-1-1 in the conference, tied with Southern California. Cal and Stanford both wound up at 1-3.

Champ Bowler Says Movies Did Trick

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Carter isn't a movie star, he's a bowler, but movies helped him win his fourth World's Invitational bowling title in five years yesterday.

The St. Louis athlete credited his blonde wife, Laverne, with helping him win the $7,500 first prize in the tournament.

"I'd been having quite a bit of trouble in the qualifying rounds," Carter said, "and I was throwing several bad balls each game although I couldn't figure out why."

"However, on the morning of the semi-finals," he continued, "my wife, Laverne, had some movies developed and I could see that I wasn't bending my left knee enough and consequently was throwing the ball from too high a position. I corrected this in the semi-finals and finals and you know the rest."

The rest was that Carter, who usually wins going away, had to rally in the final two games of the 100 game grind to nose out Ray Bluth. Second place money of $3,750 went to Bluth, who also is from St. Louis.

The women's division was won by Marge Merrick of Columbus, Ohio, who won two out of three games from Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., the defending champion, in the final position round. First place was worth $4,000.

Bressoud Traded To Boston Club

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — An exchange of shortstops between Boston and the new Houston club, sending Don Buddin to the Colts and Eddie Bressoud to the Red Sox, marked the first player trade of the baseball convention which got under way officially today.

The Red Sox-Colts swap was expected to spur further trades brewing since the three-week inter-league trading period began Nov. 21. The only other inter-league deal made so far was Washington's sale of shortstop Coot Veal to Pittsburgh last Tuesday.

Alumni Force Andy Of Tulane To Quit As Football Coach

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Andy Pilney, under fire from disgruntled alumni and fans, quit today as head football coach at Tulane after eight seasons, two of them successful ones.

Dr. Herbert Longenecker, Tulane president, announced Pilney's resignation less than two days after the Southeastern Conference team finished its season with a 62-0 shellacking by fourth-ranked Louisiana State.

Tulane had a 2-8 mark for the year and an over-all record of 25-49-6 since Pilney became head coach in 1954.

Tommy O'Boyle, one-time Tulane star who had been Pilney's chief assistant and offensive line coach, will serve as acting head coach while a five-man committee makes recommendations for a permanent head coach.

Pilney, 48-year-old former Notre Dame halfback, said he was leaving Tulane with no idea whether he would continue coaching.

Trial Of Alleged Basketball Fixer Began Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Trial of Aaron Wagman, 29-year-old convicted football fixer accused of bribery and attempted bribery in the college basketball scandal, is scheduled to begin in General Sessions Court today.

The grand jury investigating the basketball scandal, that numbers 37 players from 22 colleges, returned an indictment April 27 naming Wagman on 37 counts of conspiracy, bribery and attempted bribery.

If convicted, Wagman could receive a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison or be fined $10,000 on each count.

Rams' Linebacker Is Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP)—William Jobko, 26, a linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, was hospitalized with head injuries and chest pains after the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears yesterday.

Coach Bob Waterfield of the Rams said he believed Jobko suffered injuries to his head in the second quarter. He was taken to Michael Reese Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said Jobko's condition was satisfactory.

Raiders Have 3 Chances To Crawl From AFL Cellar

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders have three more chances—all at home—to lift themselves from the cellar in the Western Division of the American Football League.

The first chance comes next Sunday at San Francisco's Candlestick Park against Buffalo, one of two teams the Raiders defeated during their disappointing 2-9 season.

Oakland has lost three straight since their 31-22 victory over the Bills three weeks ago and six of their last seven games.

The latest setback came here yesterday against Dallas as Abner Haynes put on a one-man show to lead the Texans to a 43-11 win.

Haynes scored five touchdowns, setting an AFL one-game record for touchdowns, total points and rushing. His performance snapped a six-game losing streak for Dallas.

Dallas rolled up 494 yards total offense, including 284 yards on the ground.

George Fleming kicked a 45-yard field goal and quarterback Nick Papac drove across from the 1-yard line for Oakland's points.

Papac replaced Tom Flores late in the third period. Flores made good on 17 of 26 passes for 137 yards.

Driver Hurt As Car Flips Over

Howard A. Bottini, 23, of 41 Jewell Street, San Rafael, was treated for concussion at San Rafael General Hospital yesterday after he lost control of his car near Mill Valley and it "flipped."

Bottini told California Highway patrolmen he was traveling southbound on Highway 101 near Route 1, passing another car, when "all of a sudden the front end went out from under me and I lost control and flipped." He remained in hospital several hours and was released.

Six-year-old Scott Healey was treated at Marin General Hospital at 5 a.m. yesterday for a cut on his nose received when his mother, Mrs. Bernard Healey, ran her car into a parked car on Glenwood Avenue in Tamalpais Valley. The Healeys live at 635 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley.

Linda Kite, 23, injured her right shin when the car in which she was riding with her husband, Dick, 23, struck a car driven by Gustav Adolph Carlson, 72, on La Cuesta Drive near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Woodacre.

Carlson of 23 Alemar Drive, San Rafael, was cited by highway patrolmen for failing to halt on a flashing light and failing to yield right-of-way. Mrs. Kite, who lives at 25 Richmond Road, San Anselmo, was not hospitalized.

Driving in heavy rain at 2:55 a.m. Saturday on Highway 101, about 1,000 feet south of Orange Avenue in Novato, Ross L. Perez, 19, of Santa Rosa, went off the road, struck the bank and was thrown from his car. Taken to Novato Hospital, he was treated for fractured ribs.

Boys Toss Cough Drops At San Rafael Home

What James Spencer Goodale of San Rafael thought to be rocks being hurled at his home last night at 27 West Crescent Drive turned out to be cough drops.

Police found and reprimanded three San Rafael boys, two 13-year-olds and one 10-year-old, for throwing the cough drops.

Coins Stolen

A coin change machine at the San Rafael Laundry and Cleaners at 512 Third Street was broken into and emptied of about $4 sometime yesterday, the shop's owner, Reed L. DeHarmond of 4 Knight Drive, San Rafael told police today.

Sergeant's Wife Found Dead At Home

Mrs. Geneva Strunk, 24, wife of a Hamilton Air Force Base fireman and mother of three small children, was found dead in her Petaluma home Friday.

Petaluma police said she had apparently taken the contents of a bottle of sleeping pills. A note found near her closed with the words: "That's all the pills. I think I'll go to sleep now."

S/Sgt. Curtis Strunk, 26, found his wife's body on the floor when he arrived home from Hamilton Field, he told police.

He had taken the children to a friend's home, at his wife's request, before leaving for work.

Eldest of the three children is 3; the youngest 6 months.

Three Hurt On Way Home From Funeral

Three young persons on their way to San Rafael after attending a funeral in Sonoma suffered minor injuries when their car went out of control on Highway 12 south of the Mangels Ranch in Sonoma County Saturday.

Jack Ehert, 21, and Lea Norris, 24, both of San Rafael, and Guy Barron, 18, of Colfax were treated at Sonoma Valley Hospital. Ehert reportedly was the driver.

Presto Shows the new look in telephone numbers

All-numeral phone numbers come to Marin County

All listings in the April, 1962, Marin County telephone directory will have all-numeral phone numbers. Numerals are being substituted for letters in everyone's number. Since the numerals correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, dialing itself will be unchanged.

The changeover to the new type of numbers will take place gradually:

- Anyone getting telephone service in Marin County for the first time, moving to a new address, or getting a new phone number, is now being given an all-numeral number.
- If your last name starts with any letter from A through E, your number converted to all numerals on November 8. Listings for the rest of the alphabet will be converted by early December.

New number plates for your telephone dial are being mailed or an installer will call when your number is converted. Also, Information Operators will have your all-numeral phone number. However, since no dialing change is involved, people will still reach you if they dial your number as listed in the present Marin County telephone directory.

These new phone numbers are part of a new nation-wide numbering system called All Number Calling. It's needed to keep ahead of America's growth. Twenty years ago there were less than 23 million phones in the U.S. Right now there are more than 74 million, and by 1975 there may be more than 160 million phones. This growth is rapidly exhausting usable letter combinations for prefix names.

By changing to an all-numeral system, enough numbers will be available to keep up with telephone growth in Marin County and the rest of the Nation.

Trend Indicates Men Will Be Taller And 20 Pounds Heavier

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Recent predictions that the average woman by the year 2000 will be an Amazon compared with her sister of today have caused whimpers of despair among the men.

Will the predicted increase in size of females mean that by the turn of the next century they will tower over the men? That all clothes closets will have to be marked "hers?"

No, comforts a spokesman for the men. Both will need more closet space, because the men are growing larger on the average too. They will need roomier cars, roomier furniture, and at the rate they are expanding both vertically and horizontally, higher ceilings and wider rooms.

J. E. Jeter, vice president in charge of sales for one of the world's largest manufacturers of men's knitwear, projected the growth of men for the next 39 years, based on company statistics kept since before World War I.

AVERAGE GROWTH

Jeter predicts that by the start of the 21st century, the average male will be four inches taller and weigh almost 20 pounds more than his counterpart today.

Prompting his company's research were statistics recently recited in this column on the predicted growth of girls. These figures had come from a manufacturer of foundation garments based on the way its garment sizing had changed since the 1900's.

These showed that, as of 1900, The average woman was 5 feet, 2 inches tall; by 1960, was 5 feet, 4.5 inches; and by 2000, should stand 5 feet, 6.5 inches. In weight, the figures for the same years were 114, 136 and 141.5 pounds.

As for the men, Jeter said, "We have watched a steady increase in men's garment sizes since before World War I. Add to this observation the expected advances in diet and nutrition, and you come up with a "pretty good picture of what the man of tomorrow will be like."

Jeter said the average male by 2000 will be 6 feet, 2 inches tall, and weigh 176 pounds.

WAISTLINE PROBLEM

"He will have a waistline problem, though, unless he gets more exercise," said Jeter. Unless he is careful, the push-button existence ahead will cause his waistline to spread from the 1961 average of 35 inches to 42.

Here are Jeters comparisons of past, current and future sizes of men:

Height: World War I, 5 feet, 7.3 inches; World War II, 5 feet, 8.4 inches; 1960, 5 feet, 10 inches; the year 2000, 6.2 inches.

Weight: World War I, 134 pounds; World War II, 146 pounds; 1960, 158 pounds; 2000, 176 pounds.

Waist: World War I, 28 inches; World War II, 33 inches; 1960, 35 inches; 2000, 42 inches.

A business meeting will precede the program at 1 p.m. and the board will meet at 11 a.m.

Skimmer At Beach

"Skimmer" is the word that sums up the newest look in beachwear. Swim suit designers favor the suggested fit instead of the tight fit to suits for next summer. Some bikinis are still around, but the more modest two-piece swimsuits are best sellers, report California sportswear designers.

Using Foods From The Sea Is Goal Of FAO Officials

Did you ever try thin little white wafers like cigarette paper, dipped in sauce? You may have been eating seaweed.

Did you enjoy these little black mushrooms on rice at your favorite Chinese restaurant? These "mushrooms" probably were made of algae.

For man at last has begun to learn how to find some other food in the sea beside fish.

Experts of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization say that whereas much already has been done to make foods out of sea weed, the great challenge is how to feed men on vitamin and mineral rich plankton.

SOUP OF THE SEA

Plankton, FAO experts explain, is the "soup of the sea," microscopic plant and animal life floating in most of the warm water oceans, in vast quantity and wide dispersal. Sardines, herring and anchovies live on it. It furnishes a major diet even for huge whales, sharks and tuna.

The trouble so far has been that the plankton is so widely scattered and so small that sufficient quanties cannot be harvested economically.

FAO experts said laboratories in Japan, the United States, the United Kingdom and Germany have been trying to work out some system of cultivating plankton in concentration in controlled pools. So far it has not worked.

AS HUMAN FOOD

Sea weed so far has shown more practical results, and already has been used as human food and feed for livestock. The sea weed or marine algae differs from the plankton in that it grows larger and is attached to the sea bottom or rocks.

As an additive for livestock feed it is produced in Canada, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Holland, Ireland and Norway, and largely imported by West Germany. Production is well over 50,000 tons a year.

As human food it is widely used in Japan, China, and other countries of the Far East. Some sources estimate that sea weed now constitutes 25 per cent of the daily diet in parts of Japan. (AP)

Her Husband Preaches Double Standard While Wife Fumes

"I'm mad enough to spit in my husband's eye!" a mother writes, "because he preaches the double standard. Our boy is 17 and our girl is 16. My husband tells our son it is okay to neck and pet. He says boys should sow wild oats. At the same time he is almost insanely protective of our girl. He won't let her have a date. He rants at her about necking. The poor girl is confused. Does my husband make sense to you? How can he be so inconsistent?"

Many families face your problem. As I see it your husband is not inconsistent. If he believes it is right for boys to sow wild oats, it follows that girls need much protection. Boys are threats to their welfare.

I disagree with him, however. Nobody has a right to violate our moral code. If chastity is important for girls, it is important for boys. If petting is wrong for females, it is wrong for males. Some parents now tell both boys and girls that necking is okay. I've received scores of letters from parents who defended their youngsters' right to hug, kiss and pet when dating. They are really asking for trouble.

I don't think we should compromise. Of course many kids will disregard our advice—they're human. However, their physical and emotional responses come like lightning. They have poor judgment. They're easily swept into serious wrongdoing. In other words, boys as well as girls need protection. Necking and petting are wrong. Wild oats are wrong. Your husband is badly mistaken.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do you think boys and girls should be separated for school sex instruction? Our girl is in the sixth grade. The whole class is being taught about human reproduction. She says the kids frequently snicker. Is this proper?

V.B.

(A) No. The boys and girls should be separated. The instruction must be given in ways which prevent smutty overtones. The teaching should be done by carefully selected and thoroughly trained special teachers.

SEW SIMPLE

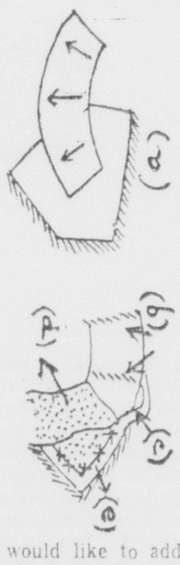
System Devised On Out-Grown Clothes

By EUNICE FARMER

This week's tailor trix winner is Mrs. E. H. Leffler, Charlotte, N.C., with this suggestion.

"Because I have twin girls, I have double expense of keeping them attractively clothed without the chance of handing down outgrown clothing from one to the other. Therefore, I devised several ideas of my own for using outgrown clothing.

"I combine blouses that have become too short, with outgrown slips or petticoats. Cut a slip off at the place which will make it the proper length when combined with a blouse. Sew the two together and the result is a blouse-slip combination which eliminates the problem of a short blouse always coming out of the skirt band."



"I would like to add a fur collar to a suit I am making. I have a large piece of fur which could be used for the collar if you could give me a few tips on handling fur."

Mrs. K.P.T.

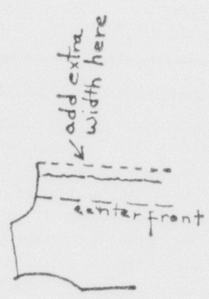
Dear Mrs. K.P.T.:

With little care, it wouldn't be too difficult to make a fur collar to add to your suit. Trim the seam allowance from your pattern. The hairs of the fur must all go in one direction, which means that piecing is usually necessary. Mark your pattern, as illustrated, with arrows indicating the way the fur should run (a).

Cut each piece of the fur carefully, cutting pelt only, the hair of the fur should not be cut. Sew the sections together just barely catching the edges together with tiny whipping stitches (b). Use a strong, waxed thread and only join the pelts, the hair will conceal the seams.

The edges of the fur should be finished with a narrow cotton tape. Whip the outer edges to the edge of the pelt (c). The fur may be backed with lambswool and then covered with muslin in order to pad the fur (d).This padding will be held in place by catch-stitching the inner edge of the tape over it (e).

Slip-stitch the edge of the tape to the collar of your garment. If the collar is large, you may also add a line of running stitches along center of collar to hold fur in place. This is done from the wrong side of collar.



"I have just finished a suit and was so proud of it until I wore it for the first time. I used the new very large buttons on it, and when the suit is buttoned, my blouse shows through the end of the buttonhole. What did I do wrong?"

Mrs. M. S.

Dear Mrs. M. S.:

I'm afraid there will be many women sharing your problem this year. If your pattern calls for the very large buttons, you will probably have no trouble. However, if you are adding large buttons to an old pattern, you will have to make an additional allowance for them.

The center front of your garment is never changed. In order to find the minimum allowance necessary for the large buttons, measure the width of the button. Take half the width of the button, plus ½ inch. This is the space needed from the center front to the seamline (not the cut edge of garment). Remember to add the same amount to the facing. You will probably need a small hook and eye at the edge of the coat so it will lay flat at the collar.

If your garment is top stitched about 1-inch from the outer edge, or if you are using a very wide binding, you will also need extra allowance between the center front and the edge of your garment. It wouldn't look attractive to have the button cover this detail.

Marinites Take Family Vacation Including USSR

In case you are planning now for the next family vacation, don't neglect the possibility of taking the whole group to Russia.

The experiences in the USSR of a Greenbrae family, the Frank M. Browns, formed the highlight of their recent five-week tour of Europe and in Britain. As they flew from Stockholm to Leningrad it was announced that the Russian astronaut was circling the earth, and later in Moscow they witnessed the parade to honor the new national hero from their hotel window.

As three of only about 400 American youngsters to visit the USSR, the Browns' children, Jeff, a University of California student; Fay and Madeleine found much to interest them, including the Kremlin Museum, The Hermitage, consisting of five buildings of art treasurers; the Winter Palace, the famous Moscow subways, the Moscow University, the GUM department store and tomb from which Stalin's body was recently removed.

They found the people friendly, but the group of six, which included Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Mabelle Purser of Greenbrae, found the language barrier a hindrance. From the time they landed in Leningrad until they left Moscow, the group was guided by an Intourist representative.

Generally they found Moscow to be a bustling, prosperous city compared with Leningrad which had suffered greatly from the seige during World War II and has not been fully repaired. They found many people milling around in the GUM store but, not speaking Russian, the Browns found it hard to know whether many goods were being sold.

During the three days in Leningrad and five days in Moscow the family had no unpleasant incidents and was able to take street scenes and other pictures.

At Moscow University they met a scientist attending a convention of bio-chemists who spoke English, and Mr. Brown exchanged views with him on the USSR and the United States. Jeff, too, was able to talk briefly with English-speaking students in Moscow.

The Browns included visits to East and West Berlin, finding the former "like a graveyard," and leaving just before the wall went up. They also visited Sweden, Norway, Paris, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, where the festival was in progress, and Amsterdam before flying to Vancouver and home.

Generally they viewed their Russian trip as "highly interesting," reporting the food plain but good, the hotels suitable and the people friendly.

Married Man Loses Out To Opponent At Bridge

A French statesman once said that no crime is too great for a married man with a family to support. Clearly, this accounts for the way some bridge hands are played.

Opening lead — ♣ 5

South (a married man) ruffed the second club, led a heart to dummy and tried a spade finesse. This play did nothing to support his family.

West won with the queen of spades and forced South to ruff another club. South hopefully led out the ace and king of spades, but this left West with the only remaining trump. After ruffing two clubs, South could draw only three of West's trumps.

West ruffed the third diamond and cashed his last two clubs. South was down on a hand that should have given him game and rubber.

KEEP CONTROL: The secret of playing a hand of this sort is to keep control of the trumps. You cannot afford to let the opponents lead clubs since that will reduce your trump length

If you look ahead, you will see that loss of the spade finesse will give the enemy one more chance to lead a club. This is just what you want to avoid.

See what happens if you don't take a spade finesse. Win the second trick by ruffing a club and lead out the ace and king of spades. Now forget about the two outstanding trumps. Just start the diamonds and keep plugging away at them.

West will make his queen and four of trumps, but you stay one trump ahead of him. When West ruffs a diamond, he has only one trump left and you still have two trumps. You therefore keep control of the hand and lose only one club and two trumps.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your left, bids one spade and your partner doubles. The next player passes. You hold:

♠ 6 5
♥ Q 10 5 4 2
♦ 9 6 4
♣ A K 6

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. The jump response to a take-out double shows about nine to eleven points. If partner has minimum values for his double, he can pass; otherwise he will go on to game.

North Marin Peace Group Is Formed

People for Peace, North Marin group recently formed to explore avenues toward easing world tensions without war, discussed fallout shelters at its regular meeting last week and concluded such shelters "provide only an illusion of security," Mrs. Bertram S. Koel of Terra Linda, newly elected chairman, announced.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. Giles Gibson, secretary; Mrs. Evert deVry, treasurer; Mrs. Norman Gurin, chairman of the public action committee; Mrs. Walter Simich, chariman of the government action committee, all of Terra Linda, and Leon Morgenstern, chairman of the education committee, and Mrs. Robert Conradt, librarian, both of Lucas Valley.

In the discussion of shelters it was pointed out that testimony prepared for the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy estimates total American dead following a thermonuclear war at 100 million, Mrs. Koel said.

This estimate is based on on studies by the Institute for Defense Analysis, and presupposes a civil defense-trained and shelter-protected population.

People for Peace believes support of universal disarmament and a stronger, more effective United Nations are a more positive program for survival than construction of fallout shelters, she reported.

The next meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morgenstern of 599 Loganberry Drive, Lucas Valley.

All persons interested in exploring avenues toward world peace are welcome to attend or to write to People for Peace, Box 242, San Rafael, Mrs. Koel announced.

Elected President

Frank R. Little of 160 Stanford Avenue, Mill Valley, has been elected president of the Almonte Improvement Club. Other officers elected at last Wednesday's meeting of the club were Hugh Brown, vice president; Charles Kahrs, secretary, and Richard Daw, treasurer.

Today's Rockets May Be Model Ts Of Space Age

By JOHN WHEELER

SUNNYVALE (AP) — If scientists at work on nuclear-powered spaceship designs succeed in conquering their formidable engineering problems, the rockets of today will be known as the Model Ts of the space age.

Some scientists say application of nuclear power to rocket flight may carry the United States into the lead in the race for the planets. They claim there are signs the Soviet Union lags in this field.

Nuclear-powered space vehicle designs are scheduled for submission to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the end of this month.

Aerojet General Corp. already is developing a nuclear fission and liquid hydrogen engine under a NASA contract. And the Atomic Energy Commission has accelerated its program to perfect a lightweight reactor at its Nevada Camp Mercury testing grounds.

The advantage of nuclear rockets over conventional liquid and solid fuel models has been compared to the superiority of speedy, long ranging U. S. atomic submarines over their diesel predecessors.

Dr. Harold Plank of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. here says a nuclear powered upper stage in a manned interplanetary space rocket system could provide twice the speed and double the payload of present rockets of the same weight.

Krafft Ehricke, General Dynamics Corp. rocket scientist, has been quoted, "Space will be conquered only by manned nuclear-powered vehicles."

Dr. Plank, who is in charge of the nuclear rocket program for his firm, says in addition to the nuclear rocket's power and range, it would be more reliable and much cheaper than conventional models.

Lockheed is one of several companies scrambling hard for a NASA contract to build the first flyable nuclear rocket.

The maiden flight of a U. S. nuclear rocket may come in 1965 or 1966, the AEC predicts.

Nuclear and conventional rockets are quite similar in that both use chemical fuels, turning them into rapidly expanding gases that propel the rockets in the same manner that a released toy balloon whooshes around the room.

In nuclear rocket engines a jet of liquid hydrogen will be directed through holes in an atomic reactor where temperatures may reach about 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit. This is far higher than the burning temperature in conventional rockets of the same size and would cause much greater exhaust gas expansion and a corresponding boosti n thrust, according to Areojet.

An even bigger factor in expected performance of nuclear rockets would come because vast quantities of liquid oxygen used in conventional liquid rockets would be replaced by a lightweight atomic reactor and its comparatively tiny amount of uranium fuel.

One major problems in harnessing the atom for space exploration is the vast quantities of radiation which would be given off by the reactor.

For this reason, says Dr. Plank, nuclear-powered engines probably would not be used in the atmosphere of the earth or other planets.

Plans call for a chemical booster to lift the nuclear rocket into space where it would be discarded as the nuclear power plant took over propulsion. A final stage conventional rocket could provide the power for landing on a distant body and later relaunching the manned capsule and returning it to earth.

The final stage would provide another useful function. It would give the crew some of the necessary shielding during nuclear operations.

There is still no specific role assigned the nuclear rockets by NASA. Proponents hope that once their worth is proven they may be fitted into the moon landing program. They feel the future is virtually unlimited.

Drunken Drivers Are Given Fines

Two men and a woman driver were fined for drunken driving last week in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced Roy Melford Newgard, 50, of 277 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and Roland L. Hayes, 21, of 409 Drake Street, Marin City. Each drew $166 fine, six months probation, and for four months may drive only for work and necessary family errands.

Newgard was caught on Highway 101 last Oct. 20, and Hayes on Cole Drive in Marin City last Saturday.

Betty Grace O'Brien, 43, of 1565 Fourth Street, San Rafael, must pay $110 fine, remain on six months probation and for three months drive only for work and to visit her children, Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced her for driving while intoxicated along Center Boulevard in Fairfax on Nov. 6.

B-B Shots Reported

Charles Daniels Jr. told San Rafael police last week someone had fired B-B shots through windows at his home at 191 Deer Park and the home of his mother-in-law at 335 Summit Avenue, San Rafael.

Drake Teacher On Heart Unit

Sir Francis Drake High School science teacher Norman N. Goldstein of San Anselmo has been appointed to the research committee of the California Heart Assn.

Industrial Prices Are Holding Steady

NEW YORK (UPI) — Consumers are still plagued by the high cost of living. But one major contributor to rising prices in the past is absent just now. That is advancing industrial prices.

Such prices, in fact, are holding remarkably steady despite the recovery of industry from the last recession. In other postwar recoveries these prices have advanced sharply.

And because of this stability there is a growing hope that the general rise in the cost of living can be held in check this time. Adding to the prospect is an increasing belief that labor cost advances will be moderate in the next few months, perhaps about in line with offsetting increases in productivity.

WEAKENED

Some industrial prices have weakened during the recovery —notably aluminum and other non-ferrous metals. Steel prices haven't risen in spite of all the talk about it a few weeks ago when labor costs rose.

Prices of some building materials have dropped, with excess capacity or changing construction demands credited.

Many other industrial prices are holding in a narrow range close to recession levels.

Industrialists point to this to argue that any recent rises in consumer prices can be laid at other doors.

Services have been the most active risers in recent months. Some say this is a delayed reaction to earlier cost boosts at the manufacturing and labor levels.

ADDED COSTS

In general the rise in prices during and since the recession has been traced largely to the added costs of distribution, processing and retailing. The cost of the basic materials have remained fairly steady.

Food is its own story. Its original price is influenced by weather and government supports. After that the processing and distributing costs are added. Often the store price seems far away from the farm price.

But this time at least such creeping advances in the cost of living as have shown up in recent months can't be traced to soaring industrial prices.

In the recovery from the 1949 recession the jump in industrial prices was 15 per cent. After the 1954 recession industrial prices rose by 10 per cent, and after the 1958 slump, 3 per cent.

PERCENTAGE

Noting this diminishing percentage and the lack of any jump this time, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland wonders if industrial prices haven't achieved a stability that could even withstand the impact of increasing defense and other government spending.

The price stability was noted well before the recovery period. One of the major disappointments — to consumers at least—was that the cost of living continued to edge higher through most of the recession months. Prices didn't fall just because industrial activity did.

The reason given was that industrial materials might be in less demand but th cost of producing goods and services depended more on other things —labor, convenience processing, transportation, distribution outlets.

But if industrial prices should take a sudden spurt, you'd be sure to feel it in time in your monthly bills. That they are stable now is one happy factor for consumers to note.

Pet Comes Out Of Change Box

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)— When Gary Sutton, 14, and Carl Bishop, 13, went on a shopping trip, they parked Gary's pet, Clem, in a telephone booth. When the boys came back, they found Clem stuck in a coin return slot with only his tail showing.

A telephone repairman rescued Clem, a hamster, by dismantling the coin box.

Fights Draw Suspended Sentences

Five Marin City residents drew 30-day suspended jail sentences from Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court Friday as result of two fights side by side in a parking lot at 621 Bridgeway, Sausalito. It took six law officers to quell the fights Friday morning.

Sausalito police, sheriff's deputies and California Highway Patrolmen arrested the three women and two men shortly after Thursday midnight.

Warned and given suspended sentences were Barbara Jean Bailey, 26, laundry worker of 62 Cole Drive, Mrs. Clenzell Marbury, 23, of 107 Drake Avenue, Alberta Roary, 32, of 409 Drake Avenue, Nayland Mitchell, 20, of Box 12, and Charles Blande, 19, of House 223.

Miss Bailey was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp lacerations after being slugged with a tire iron.

Nominated For Europe Trips

Four Tamalpais High School students have been nominated for tours abroad under the American Field Service, Mrs. Richard De Lew, chairman of the Tam A F S, announced today.

Named as candidates for the summer program are Katherine Ann Bloom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Bloom; Gregory Lynn Corey, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Mark Cory, and Laurie K. Pemberton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Pemberton. All are Tam seniors and live in Mill Valley.

Nominated to spend the school year of 1962-63 abroad was Stephen Yeazell, son of Mrs. Jeanette Yeazell of Sausalito.

Final selection is made at American Field Service headquarters in New York.

WHIMSICAL WITH WEATHER

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Automation Is Moving Ahead –But Not Without Man's Aid

Automation in business and industry is moving ahead about as rapidly as people are available to make it work. New computers are able to do fantastic jobs in seconds that would require months of time by a man with a simple calculator, and electronic replacement of manpower for such jobs is inevitable.

Paradoxically the computers would be useless without someone to tell them what to do. The manpower is still needed —but not as much, perhaps, and differently skilled.

One school that apparently practices what it teaches is the Automation Institute of America, now registering applicants in Marin County for training in computer programming at its offices at 821 Market Street, San Francisco.

Students are not only taught how to feed the machines information by coding, but are to some extent machine taught. An unusual device called Autotutor employed by the institute imparts information and then checks back to determine how much and how fast the operator learned.

Don Purdy, registrar in Marin, says the institute will be giving applicants an initial interview on November 30 at 1040 B Street, San Rafael, third floor library conference room, between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. to qualify those interested in the courses and save them the time of traveling to San Francisco for this purpose.

DONALD I. LAWLESS of San Anselmo, former president and director of Bishop Oil Co., has opened an office at 400 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, as petroleum consultant to financial institutions and oil companies.

His services will include valuation and appraisal of producing and non-producing oil properties and consultation on their exploration, development and operation. During his 13 years with Bishop he was also chief geologist and president of the company's subsidiary, Canadian Bishop Oil, Ltd.

A 280-HOUR COURSE in home good retailing will be offered by the newly formed National Home Furnishings Education Foundation. The organization will maintain headquarters in the Western Merchandise Mart, San Francisco.

The course is an attempt to raise the level of salesmanship from its somewhat hit-or-miss operation in the home furnishings industry.

Wesley Lachman, vice president and general manager of Lachman Bros., with stores in San Francisco, San Mateo, San Jose and San Rafael, will serve as president pro-tem of the foundation.

MARINDIVIDUALS: A. H. (Chris) Christensen of Terra Linda, KPIX advertising and sales promotion manager, will join the sales department as an account executive on Dec. 1. He replaces Aubrey Holman who's been made assistant manager of the Westinghouse TV station in Cleveland. . . Addison E. Mooney of Corte Madera is attending a life insurance sales education conference this week in Honolulu sponsored by the Western Life Insurance Co.

SPACE NEEDLE, Wash., will become a familiar postmark next year. The Post Office Department has designated that name as its postmark cancellation on mail handled by the postal station at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

A special commemorative stamp will also be issued for use during the run of the fair —April 21 to Oct. 21.

The gardenia honors Alexander Garden, an 18th-century physician who lived in Charleston, S. C.
